Topeka, Kas., July 20.—[Special.]—Gov. Alf. M. Landon put the finishing touches today to the address in which he will accept the Republican nomination for President on next Thursday night.

After talks today with Myers Y. Cooper, former governor of Ohio; John R. Hollister, Ohio congressman, and with Col. Henry W. Anderson of Virginia, the governor announced his engagement books closed as far as possible until the acceptance speech. He will remain at home much of the time tomorrow and Wednesday resting for the strain of notification day.

Kansas Heat Moderates.

The hot wave which has kept Kansas in a fearful grip for the last three weeks has moderated somewhat and cool night winds give the people hereabouts a chance to rest and sleep.

The acceptance speech into which so much thought and consultation has gone, and which is to be the opening gun of the presidential campaign on both sides, is said to be a document which expresses the thought of an average American today on the problems of the time. It is not a great effort at oratory. It is not a speech of bitterness, invective, or personal attack. It shows a more than average intelligence and a greater than average interest in government. The governor has often expressed the conviction that a renewed interest in government is one of the great needs of the day.

It's a Short Speech.

The address is not long, not more than 3,500 words, as compared with the usual 6,000 or 7,000 word address of former candidates, or with the 1,900 word address of President Roosevelt at Philadelphia. It will take about 35 minutes to read, except for interruptions of applause.

"This year we have an unpopular Democratic candidate for governor," said Representative Hollister, "and a popular Republican candidate. That in itself is likely to swing the situation."

Col. Henry W. Anderson of Virginia reported on the political changes and chances in that state.

"I would say that Virginia is a doubtful state," he said. He is a former member of the Wickersham commission and made a minority report recommending repeal of the prohibition amendment.

"Prohibition is not an issue this year," he said. "The campaign narrows to a definite issue as to whether we can preserve our present system, whether we can control federal expenditures, or go on until the government is torn down. The people are tired of uncertainty and confusion. They want some one who will take hold of this government and apply to it the ordinary principles of common sense."

Holds Three States Doubtful.

Not only Virginia, he said, but North Carolina and Florida might be put in the doubtful column at this stage.

Mr. Cooper had luncheon with Gov. Landon. He said he would do all he could to elect the Republican nominee and summarized his impressions and reasons as follows:

"I came to this 'typical prairie state' to meet a typical American citizen and to bring him encouragement from Ohio. My state is a pivotal state in this campaign, but it is not a doubtful state. It is going Republican this year all the way down the line. "Let's Land with Landon" is our slogan, and we have the strength

NEW DEAL DOES A BIT OF MAGIC ON WPA WAGES

Pay Raised, but They Get No More Cash.

Seventy thousand Chicago WPA workers get a raise in hourly wages today—retroactive to last Thursday—but each man's monthly pay checks will total the same as his wages for previous months.

Legislation enacted at the last session of congress requires that the federal Works Progress administration pay to its workers the wages which prevail for each class of work in a given locality.

Average Cut 15 Per Cent.

Accordingly, in order that the checks may be held down to the $55 to $94 hitherto customary in Chicago, the workers will work less than the 130 hours previously required. The hours are cut, on an average, about 15 per cent. In some cases skilled union workmen will have to put in only 48 hours in place of the old 130.

Of the 70,000 affected here, 63,000 are unskilled laborers whose wages are increased from 42 cents an hour to 50 cents. They will work 110 hours a month for their $55. Semi-skilled workers now receiving 50 cents an hour will get 95 cents, but will have their time trimmed to 68 hours so that they continue to draw $65 a month.

Union Scale to Govern.

Skilled craftsmen will be paid the prevailing union scales, ranging from $1.05 to $1.82½ an hour, and will collect their $85 for putting in from 48 to 80 hours on the job.

The new system of payment was announced a month ago, but officials were unable to agree on what prevailing rates were. They expected originally to adopt the new arrangement on July 1, but they were unable to proclaim the new scale even by the middle of the month.

It had been predicted that there would be scores of different hourly rates, even for those doing similar tasks on different projects, but according to reports, Robert J. Dunham, state WPA administrator, insisted that the rates be simplified.

Still to Be Decided On.

Finally, when H. K. Seltzer, district director of the WPA, announced the wage rates yesterday, he was obliged to state that the scales for professional and technical workers—engineers, draftsmen, and clerical help—in the $94 a month class had not yet been agreed on.

Officials here received yesterday from Washington an order extending vacation and sick leave rights to WPA administrative employés who are directly attached to projects. There are about 800 such employés in the state, in addition to the 1,600 regular WPA administrative staf members.

At the rate of two and one-sixth days' vacation per month of federal service, the new order will cost an estimated $50,000. Labor unions pushed the order through after the retirement of J. R. McCarl as United States controler general. McCarl vetoed similar plans.

Renews Move to Purge Rolls.

Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, transmitted to WPA yesterday a proposal for a survey of the present circumstances of WPA workers, aiming at the discharge of from 15,000 to 20,000 workers no longer in need of their jobs. They would be replaced by persons now on relief rolls. The IERC wants WPA to pay most of the cost of this reëxamination, $150,000, which WPA has thus far refused to do.

Lyons departed for Springfield last night to confer with state finance officials about making state relief payments to local communities early enough each month to permit the restoration of cash relief. Grocery orders and the like may be issued on credit, but the distribution of cash checks to relief families requires that the city of Chicago and other local relief agencies have the money in the bank.

Cash Needed for Printing.

Before setting out, Lyons told Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes that $5,700 is needed immediately to print food order blanks and other forms to be mailed to relief clients beginning Aug. 1. With no funds for such administrative expenses in sight, Hodes said the city would try to have the forms printed on its credit.

USES OLD INNER TUBE TO CAP PRIVATE GAS WELL; COOKS ON PAIL

St. Louis, Mo., July 20.—(AP)—The Terpening No. 1 Discovery gas well on the Mississippi river front was utilized tonight to cook dinner for the wildcatter who dug it with a post hole digger.

W. H. Terpening, a 42 year old war veteran, was trying for a water well in front of his river shack Sunday to save himself the labor of hauling it three blocks from a spring.

At 18 feet he struck quicksand. Then, after driving an inch and a quarter pipe about 35 feet into the ground, natural gas began roaring up.

Today the flow lessened and Terpening capped it with an old inner tube and used the valve as an outlet. He improvised a stove from a bucket and his wife cooked over it.

5 More Blast Violinists' Alibi in Girl Slaying

Asheville, N. C., July 20.—(AP)—Investigators today marshaled five more witnesses, making eight in all, to attack the alibi of Mark Wollner, concert violinist, for the night Helen Clevenger was slain in her hotel room here.

Meanwhile the pass key found in the 18 year old New York university co-ed's door assumed new importance as a possible clew. Sherif Laurence E. Brown said the key was not of the type used by hotel employés, but refused to describe it.

P. H. Branch, manager of the hotel, the Battery Park, in which the girl's body was found shot and stabbed Thursday morning, said the hotel doors when locked from within could not be opened from the outside except by an emergency pass key. He said he was supposed to have the only such key in existence.

Door Found Unlocked.

The door was unlocked, Prof. W. L. Clevenger of North Carolina State college at Raleigh said in describing the discovery of his niece's body when he went to awaken her for breakfast. A pass key was found in the lock on the outside, and the regular key was located beneath a radiator.

Branch said his key had not been out of his possession. Authorities said fingerprint tests made on the keys had developed nothing of value.

Deferring his announced plan to quiz Wollner this afternoon, Brown turned to further questioning of Daniel H. Gaddy, night watchman at the Battery Park hotel, who was taken in custody Saturday afternoon.

Report Watchman Nervous.

Brown said jail officials reported Gaddy was "in a highly nervous state."

The names of the five additional witnesses, said to have given statements telling of seeing Wollner at various places in Asheville between 9:30 p. m. Wednesday and 8:30 a. m. Thursday, were not revealed. Investigators fixed the time of the slaying as 1 a. m.

Wollner, who has appeared in concerts on many radio programs and in the large cities of three continents, told officers he was at his lodgings all of Wednesday night. His account was corroborated by Mildred Ward, 19 year old daughter of his landlady. She was detained by sherif's deputies yesterday and has been subjected to intermittent questioning.

FIND BIBLE WRITINGS 3 CENTURIES EARLIER THAN OLDEST KNOWN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 20.—An Old Testament manuscript said to be 300 years older than the oldest biblical fragment previously known to exist has been discovered in John Ryland's library in Manchester, it was announced tonight.

The manuscript consists of four fragments of the book of Deuteronomy in Greek, written in the second century B. C. The book of Deuteronomy probably was written in Hebrew in the seventh century B. C.

Fragments of papyrus which had been gummed together and used as wrapping for a mummy case were discovered on an Egyptian rubbish heap and brought to England by Dr. Rendel Harris in 1917.

They remained uninvestigated until C. H. Roberts of Oxford, an authority on papyrology, recently undertook the delicate task of separating and piecing them together. In announcing the results of the research, Roberts revealed the mummy case wrappings yielded four fragments of the book of Deuteronomy; six fragments of the Iliad, book one; two pieces of a tragedy; part of a historical work; a piece of verse, and part of an account.

"The biblical papyri," Roberts added, "are earlier by some 300 years than any other manuscripts of any part of the Bible."

Storm Lashes Texas Fair Grounds; Damage $100,000

Dallas, Tex., July 20.—(AP)—George Anderson, chief of operations, estimated damage at the Texas Centennial exposition totaled at least $100,000 as a result of a terrific wind and rainstorm which struck here tonight. The wind blew 55 miles an hour, causing temperatures to drop swiftly from 88 to 68 degrees. Power and communication lines in some parts of the city were disabled.

OFFICERS KILL SELVES AS TROOPS SURRENDER

Invasion in South by Moroccan Army Is Slowed Up.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, July 21.—[Tuesday, 2 a. m.]—The onslaught of generals against the Spanish republic is not keeping to the schedule.

Far from advancing inexorably upon the high plateau of Castile and Madrid, where they had planned, the entrenched rebel generals Francisco Franco and Gonzalo Queipo de Llano, are having all they can do to hold on in Andalusia.

The situation, which a breakdown of communications and factors peculiar to the Iberian peninsula have made, seems hopelessly confused.

Citizens Rally to Arms.

One thing is clear, however. That is that every minute lost by the bold, bad generals is victory for the republic. For rivalries among the proletariat that about wrecked the republic have been healed before the military menace and, on orders of the Madrid government, the citizenry who are not already armed are being given all the weapons the state can provide.

Unless there is an unexpected victory for the monarchist-Fascist elements in Madrid or in the north, there is no reason why the republic cannot hold out. A total of 30,000 resolute gentry, who compose the famous civil guard, Spain's remarkable constabulary, and some 20,000 carabineers are still loyal to the republic and this is a good sign, since opportunists are not unknown to Spain.

Algeciras Turns Loyal.

Today in the south there have been three significant developments:

FIRST—At a late hour tonight the garrison at Algeciras, which was one of the first to rise in revolt Saturday, turned against its rebel officers.

If the sudden darkness that has descended on the town eight miles across the bay from the cable station on the rock of Gibraltar, where this is written, and the distant rattle of machine guns mean anything, they are battling for the republic against the Moors rushed over from La Linea. There are Republicans in other garrisons that are momentarily dominated by rebel officers.

SECOND—The Republican crew of one of Spain's destroyers, Sanchez Baracaitegui, part of a flotilla of four off Tangier, mutinied this morning, shackled the rebel officers and headed resolutely for Ceuta, where Gen. Franco was in command and opened fire. The shore batteries replied, the destroyer was hit, and now, according to advices received here, is drifting disabled in the straits. The crews of other warships are Republican.

Blow Up Bridges.

THIRD—Republicans, Socialists, and Syndicalists in the province of Malaga are confident of victory for the government and have united. With the coöperation of the civil guard and Storm Police they are preparing feverishly to meet the threatened advance of Gen. Franco's mercenaries. They have blown up two bridges on the Algeciras-Malaga highway, fortified a sixteenth century castle at Fuengirola, and taken hostages among the leading citizens known to be Rightists. But the African troops in Algeciras and La Linea are too busy to think of Malaga now.

Gen. Franco broadcast a vibrant

BULLETIN.

HENDAYE, France, July 20.—(AP)—Police officials here tonight estimated 25,000 persons had been slain in fighting throughout revolt torn Spain. The police said they based their estimates on reports from refugees and others. There were no other advices to support the figure. Frontier guards reported he Spanish government had ordered a general mobilization of all men between the ages of 18 and 30 years for defense against the rightist rebels. All private automobiles and trucks also were ordered requisitioned for the government campaign.

BY HENRY BUCKLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, July 21.—[Tuesday, 4:30 a. m.]—[Passed by censor.]—The government early today was master of Madrid.

Troops in Montana barracks, near North Station, rebelled yesterday at dawn. They were fired on by a loyal battery of artillery from near the national palace collaborating with police and armed civilian militia.

Ultimatums were sent to the barracks, but at 7 a. m. the artillery cut loose with a roar that frightened citizens and caused them to hastily close and lock shutters and doors.

Shelled Four Hours.

Airplanes circled low over the barracks, dropping written and printed appeals to the soldiery to forsake their officers. The barracks stubbornly endured four hours' shelling before capitulating.

When officers of the barracks finally surrendered just before noon, soldiers and noncommissioned officers marched out and threw down their arms.

The government forces which entered found sixteen officers had committed suicide, including two colonels. Several other officers were taken into the courtyard and shot. They included one captain.

Gen. Fanjul, who commanded Montana barracks and was leader of the revolt in Madrid, could not be found. He had been spirited away by certain police friendly to the rebels.

Sniping Prevails.

While the cannon thundered, sniping was going on throughout the city, and the armed population was firing nervously every which way.

Sniping continued after the government jubilantly broadcast the report of victory, but the population poured freely into the streets. Trafic was resumed and the city's life became almost normal, except for the Socialist and communist militia patrols which were ranging the city hunting Fascist snipers on rooftops and in doorways.

Rebellions in Carabanchel and Dicaldro barracks in Madrid likewise are declared to have been repressed. At Maria Cristina barracks 1,000 insurgents were taken prisoners. At Carabanchel, Gen. Garcia de la Herranz was found dead.

Troops Pledge Loyalty.

The First artillery regiment in Madrid has proclaimed its loyalty to the government. Yesterday groups of artillerymen, accompanied by many civilians, with whom they fraternized, passed through the center of town. They have placed themselves at the command of the government. The Madrid aviation forces have remained loyal to the government.

The Socialist union broadcast an appeal to members asking them to remain completely disciplined and not fire unless absolutely necessary.

Madrid streets were quiet during the night. Cars laden with Socialist youths wearing red or blue shirts drove slowly through the streets. Girls and women with the men were holding revolvers in their hands.

Smoke rose from the ruins of Montana barracks. Trees and gardens of the Plaza de Espana have been damaged by airplane bombs which fell wide of the barracks. A Red Cross hospital was set up in a movie theater to which the injured were carried.

Told to Fight Bolsheviks.

One soldier who had been in the barracks declared officers told the men that "Spain is in the hands of bolsheviks" and that they must revolt to save the nation. A colonel in the barracks told them they would win easily, as the "bolsheviks" had no machine guns. This soldier, later in the day, was made a member of President Manuel Azana's guard.

The government announced by radio that peasants from villages in Aragon were flocking to Saragossa to fight Gen. Cabanellas.

The communist woman leader called "Passionaria" broadcast a message to her followers telling them not to burn churches or other buildings but to respect them, as they could be turned to useful purposes.

THE TRIBUNE correspondent saw Red guards drive away a crowd which was sacking a church. They said Fascists fired from the church.

José Giral, completing his first full day as premier, broadcast an appeal to the people to remain calm.

He said it showed the mentality of the Fascists that in order to harm the republic they were obliged to use Moorish troops.

The government has taken over all Rightist newspapers [five in all]. The newspapers will now be published with republican newspapermen in control. In this way the government hopes to prevent the public being excited.

A moratorium on debts and the suspension of all banking operations for 48 hours has been declared.

300 Killed in Barcelona.

According to reports, Gen. Manuel Goded, who set off the revolt in the Balearic Islands and then came to Barcelona, surrendered there after twenty-four hours of street fighting.

The Catalan chief, Luis Companys, in broadcasting the news of victory, said Goded and his officers were prisoners, and that if his hearers did not believe it, here was the general himself. Goded thereupon stepped to the microphone and admitted the collapse of the Barcelona insurrection.

A total of 200 to 300 were killed and several thousand wounded, it was reported, in the Barcelona fighting, and a half dozen cannon which the rebels had trained down the city's famous avenues were captured. Many buildings were burned.

Danger Remains.

Regarding Barcelona it was revealed the revolt was started there Sunday morning by 2,000 troops who, with their officers, occupied the telegraph office and other strategic positions. Authorities called out the civilian militia, and armed them, and after twenty-four hours subdued the rebels. But there remain other and larger bodies of troops which may decide to revolt any moment and hence the city swarms with armed citizens prepared for that eventuality.

A feature of yesterday's proceedings was the radio battle between government and rebel broadcasting stations. The biggest complication occurred when Seville, which had been broadcasting rebel statements, suddenly turned to government communiques. It was conjectured the government somehow managed to cripple the Seville station and substituted broadcasts from one of its own stations in Madrid or elsewhere. This morning Seville again was broadcasting rebel statements.

Government's Statement.

The following official communique was broadcast at 3 o'clock this morning:

"The government of the republic, which during the day had reason for deep preoccupation, wishes to give an objective résumé of the situation, which is notably improving throughout Spain.

"Subversive generals, though aware of the lack of assistance of public opinion, thought it fit with treason to their duties as Spaniards and soldiers to bring to the peninsula some contingents of legionaires and Moorish regulars to realize the criminal attempt. Fortunately, the troops disembarked at Algeciras are few.

Ship Captain Arrested.

"The rebels availed themselves of the treason of the captain of the destroyer Churruca, whose crew, as soon as it disembarked and was free from the mercenary soldiers, proceeded to arrest the disloyal Churruca captain and officers and then returned to the ship at the orders of the legitimate government. It is now in Gibraltar straits and the Melilla and Ceuta routes to Morocco and Spanish southern ports are being closely watched by various warships loyal to the government, with the exception of the small gunboat Dato anchored at Ceuta. Thus it is impossible to land further Moroccan mercenaries in Spain.

"The Moorish regulars and legionaires landed from the Churruca were received hostilely by the people and were soon subdued by armed volunteers and an infantry batallion concentrated at Linea de La Concepcion [near Gibraltar].

Bombard Seville Rebels.

"At Seville the center of the rebellion in south Spain, the government continues in contact with the civil government, which is resisting with shock police and the civil guard and returning the insurgents' fire. Masses in the streets are backing up the government and loyal aviation is bombarding, the rebels' barracks until they surrender.

"At Cadiz, which is partly dominated by the rebels and the cruiser Cervantes, sent from Ferrol, opened bombardment under government orders, causing much damage and great moral effect, with the rebels retreating in confusion and deserting their officers. This soldier desertion movement is extending rapidly to all garrisons affected. The government has decreed that all soldiers who desert from the ranks will not commit an offense and their action will be considered loyal obedience to legitimate authority.

Peasants Mobilized.

"In Jæn province, on the main roads to Andalusia and Castille, thousands of armed workers and peasants were concentrated. As soon as they knew Moors and legionaires had disembarked at Algeciras, the news caused amazement and resulted in the immediate rising of the Andalusian peasantry and concentrations in various towns.

"At Malaga a flotilla of submarines loyal to the government arrived to coöperate in watching the Mediterranean coast and Straits of Gibraltar. At Malaga the masses cheered the sailors of the fleet loyal to the republic. The government wishes to inform the people the civil guards and police are loyal to the government throughout the country.

"The centers of insurrection throughout the country tend to become isolated and the government is organizing columns to attack strategic points. Military trains have departed from Alicante toward Seville.

"In Madrid the government controls everything. The closure of theaters and cafés was ordered to avert painful incidents, since thousands of citizens armed by Popular Front [government] parties with government authorization and collaborating with the civil guard and police, have severe orders to repress any act of violence against the régime without contemplation."

NORTHERN FORTS REVOLT

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HENDAYE, France, July 20.—Half the garrisons of northern Spain have passed into the rebels' army which is moving down on Madrid. Meanwhile, the original insurgent force is battling its way toward the capital from the south, THE TRIBUNE correspondent learned today.

Pamplona, Burgos, Logroño, and Vitoria are in the hands of Northern Fascists, and military columns which set out from these points this morning are seeking to converge south of Burgos for a drive on Madrid. The revolt of Logroño's garrison was particularly ominous to the government because it gives the rebels one of the crack artillery regiments of the Spanish army.

See Long Civil War.

From information available in this sector it seems only a matter of a day or two at most before the capital falls into the hands of the insurgents. That does not mean the war is over.

THE TRIBUNE was informed that if Madrid falls the government will establish itself at some provincial capital near the Portuguese frontier or in Asturias [a northern province] and will continue to fight against the Fascists. In this case civil war, which may last several weeks or even months, is anticipated.

The Basque provinces, Asturias and many other parts of the country, now under the control of Popular Front [government party] soviets, are independent of the legal authorities, but are closely coöperating with them.

Death to Fascists.

These soviets, one of which THE TRIBUNE correspondent saw in operation this morning, have sworn to fight to death against the Fascists.

From a military point of view the situation in northern Spain is very confused. While in Pamplona Gen. Mola, who this morning joined the rebels, was able to dispatch a column southwest to effect a junction with the Logroño artillery. He was menaced himself by a flank attack from the loyal civilian army based at San Sebastian. In order to hold up the attack the rebels have blown up bridges and are feverishly digging trenches in the Pamplona region.

Gen. Mola, issuing a communique, declared the rebellion was being guided by two men, Gen. Francisco Franco and himself. As for the movement itself, it was of national character, he said. It was prepared and directed by generals of the Spanish army. Its aim, Mola said, is to tear out Marxism by the roots forever, with its international attitude, and to establish order and peace on a purely Spanish basis.

Move to Counter Attack.

The workers' army from San Sebastian, having crushed a civilian Fascist revolt there, is moving south for a counter attack on Vitoria.

All this information was gathered this morning by THE TRIBUNE correspondent on a scouting trip in the direction of San Sebastian. The actual crossing of the French frontier was easy at the international bridge. This correspondent, aided by an armed communist guide, reached the town of Irun, a couple of miles south of the border.

Civilians Mobilize.

At Irun British tourists were encountered fleeing toward the French border. They told of frequently seeing Leftist civilian supporters of the government gathering with a varied assortment of arms for a march toward Madrid to oppose the rebel army coming from the south.

San Sebastian, where United States Ambassador Claude G. Bowers makes his summer residence, was reported still in the hands of Leftists. Travelers reported that machine guns were mounted on sand bags thrown up around important buildings.

British consuls throughout Spain were said to have warned their nationals to leave the country as soon as possible.

In Irun the correspondent passed a number of trucks filled with youths waving red flags and armed with shotguns, rifles, and automatic pistols.

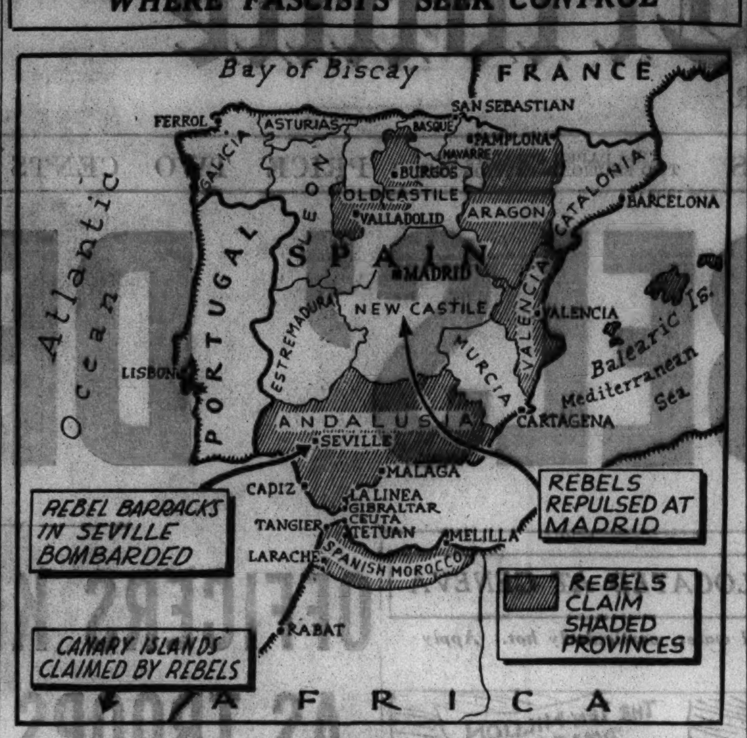
Visits Local Soviet.

The correspondent was halted at the Irun police station where a nervous police official refused to issue a safe conduct which alone could open the barricade along the highway to Madrid. He offered the correspondent the choice of getting out of Spain pronto, or remaining—in jail.

The guide, however, led the correspondent to the local Republican club where the soviet was sitting. It was a terrifying place because it was filled with excited young men obviously unaccustomed to firearms who, nevertheless, insisted on carrying out all sorts of unusual operations with loaded shotguns.

In the inner sanctum the soviet was sitting—five men around plain tables. At one end a hard faced little man turned out to be the local anarchist chief. The scholarly looking president, a communist school teacher, listened to the TRIBUNE correspondent sympathetically, but a dour individual dressed like a sailor vetoed the suggestion to grant him a visa. Your correspondent was gently but firmly escorted back to the frontier.

WHERE FASCISTS SEEK CONTROL



Shaded portions of map indicate the areas of greatest strife in revolt torn Spain. A Fascist army is marching on Madrid from the north. Loyal troops are fighting rebels in a number of southern cities.

DENIES RIGHTS OF LANDOWNER EXTEND TO SKY

San Francisco, July 20.—(AP)—The doctrin that a landowner owns to the sky "is not the law and never was the law," the United States Circuit Court of Appeals held today in an opinion which held an airplane is not a trespasser when it soars through the air over an individual's property.

The ruling was given in affirming judgment of the Los Angeles District court, which found the defendants in the $180,000 damage action brought by F. R. Hinman and Nannie Hinman, Burbank, Cal., against the United Air Lines Transport company, and the Pacific Air Transport company.

The plaintiffs sought $90,000 damages from each of the companies on the contention the company airplanes were trespassing by flying over their Burbank property.

Justice Bert E. Haney, who wrote the opinion, said the old law that a man owns to the sky never was taken literally, and that the doctrin probably came from "some remote time in the past when use of space above the land was confined to narrow limits."

"The sky has no definite location," the opinion stated, "and the air, like the sea, by its nature is incapable of private ownership."

GEN. SANJURJO, FORMER REVOLT LEADER, KILLED

LISBON, Portugal, July 20.—(AP)—[Delayed by censor.]—Gen. José Sanjurjo, 64 year old national hero of Spain's long war with the Riffs in Morocco and confidante of former King Alfonso XIII., was killed today in an airplane accident fifteen miles from here when flying to Spain.

The short and burly war veteran, who has been living at Estoril, Portugal, since leaving Spain two years ago, was reportedly the choice of Spanish revolutionary leaders for president of the republic in event their uprising proved successful.

The plane in which he took off exploded at a height of twenty feet in Cascaes bay, west of Lisbon.

Sanjurjo led an unsuccessful monarchist revolt in Spain in August, 1932.

Trade Unionists Pledge Aid to Spanish Workers

LONDON, July 20.—(AP)—Fourteen hundred delegates to the international trades union congress adopted a resolution today pledging "all practicable support to our Spanish comrades." The motion, put by Maj. Clement R. Attlee, British labor leader, deplored the "outbreak of civil warfare in Spain" and offered support to Spanish workers "in their struggle to defend the freedom and democracy of Spain."

statement at Ceuta last night. He said he was confident of victory, that the nationalist movement would "save Spain," and that he was preparing to send more troops across the straits. He made a remarkable announcement that Ceuta was bombarded by two Russian merchant ships, one of which was caught by the shore batteries and set afire. British naval observers as yet have failed to discover a soviet fleet.

Gen. Queipo de Llano went on the air in Seville tonight and declared Gen. Mola [marching from the north] would be entering Madrid at any moment and that all bombing planes sent against him by the government had been shot down. He claimed all Andalusia except Malaga and Jaen was in the hands of the "nationalist movement."

Declare General Strike.

But in Seville and other provincial capitals under the rebels' charge the proletariat clamped down a general strike of a seriously hampering nature.

In Madrid, on the other hand, all proletarian groups in the Popular Front are backing the goverament to the limit and the Socialist leaders whose deadly feud came near to scuttling the republic, Francisco Largo Caballero and Indalecio Prieto, offered to enter the government's national defense against Fascism.

Republicans of the Seville garrison are biding their time. A detachment of Moors had to be rushed to Vejar de la Frontera this afternoon to quell a peasant uprising which the civil guard seconded, killing twenty-five Spaniards in the process.

Resentment over the second appearance of Moorish troops on the Spanish mainland in less than two years provoked the citizenry of La Linea, north of Gibraltar, to Sunday night's heroic gesture in which 123 lives were lost and 200 persons were wounded. Emigrés at Gibraltar take a different view. Two Spaniards of a noble line told THE TRIBUNE correspondent that extermination of the Marxist menace in Spain would justify any ruthlessness.

Rebels' Spirits Fall.

The spirits of the emigrés were high yesterday, but now are stumped because they know coups like this must succeed in the first two or three days or fail.

This snug colony of his Britannic majesty saw only a comic opera revolution when, in Sunday clothes, they lined historic casemates giving on La Linea. Yesterday they were sobered.

They have seen Spanish aristocrats, favorites in the colony, carried choking on their blood through the gates. They have seen thousands of haggard folk fleeing from the horror of La Linea, seen them beating frantically on the frontier iron gates under the eyes of impassive British tommies, seen them trying to land overloaded skiffs and fishing boats and even swimming for asylum. Some are let in.

All say the same: "Los Moros" [the Moors] and shudder.

Moors All Around.

I ventured to La Linea, from which I fled Sunday night when a clamor of shots broke around me. The Spanish frontier guards warned me off, but, hoping to get to the hospital to find my wounded chauffeur, I walked through the customs house into the usually brawling town where smugglers teem. The white streets hung in carnival bunting were empty and the shutters were down.

A wraith with two days' growth of beard appeared.

"I helped carry your chauffeur to the Red Cross," he said. I remembered.

"I am a stretcher bearer. I have counted 123 dead, scores of women and children, and hundreds of wounded. I lay in a ditch with a child dying of wounds in the belly while shots whistled. That I should have lived to see Christians massacred on Christian soil by Moors! Go back. It will start again as long as they are here."

Socialists Slip In.

He pointed and a Moor covered us both with a Mauser. I went back.

The ghastly business had a comic side. After the Moors and the high strung Spanish officers had taken down and disarmed the loyal garrison and left them imprisoned in the flat roofed, two story barracks, they marched off to post proclamations of martial law to intimidate the population.

Two corporals slid down a drain pipe and opened the back gate to scores of Socialist militia, each with a revolver in his pocket.

When the Moors, marching briskly, appeared at the patio gate they got it. Seven fell at the first volley. Fighting went on at close range in the barracks. In two hours it spread into the streets. The gallant hopeless gesture, of course, failed.

The rest of the story I heard from the two titled emigrés:

"When various squads of Moors, who were still posting, heard the shots they simply turned, set down their machine guns and sprayed the streets. You know how kids always follow soldiers.

"Of course it was horrible. Only the Moors can do it. We have got to steel ourselves. Anything to save Spain. . . ."

BROTHER OF REBEL CHIEF, SPAIN'S AIR AGENT IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—Two brothers of Spain—one a diplomatic representative in the United States and the other a high Spanish army officer—find themselves arrayed against each other by their country's latest outbreak of civil strife.

Stocky, graying Maj. Ramon Franco, air attaché of the Spanish embassy here, disclosed this today when his attention was called to press reports that his brother, Gen. Francisco Franco, was a leader of the revolt now raging in Spain. Maj. Franco, an officer of the Leftist government, told newsmen in halting English:

"I find it difficult to believe. He always has been a soldier; never a politician. Whatever has happened, however, I know that my brother is not a monarchist."

Maj. Franco, himself, was a leader of the unsuccessful "aviators' revolt" in 1931. He won wide acclaim as an aviator for his flight from Spain to the Argentine in 1926.

The state department was without conclusive advices as to the extent of the Spanish revolt. Ambassador Claude G. Bowers, now at his summer residence in San Sebastian, was endeavoring to keep abreast of developments by frequent telephone communications with his diplomatic and consular agents elsewhere in Spain. So far there has been no report that American lives or property are in jeopardy.

Woman, 80, Held Prisoner by Protege, 65, Is Rescued

Rockland Lake, N. Y., July 20.—[Special.]—An 80 year old woman who had been held prisoner in her home without food or water by a woman fifteen years younger, whom she had befriended, was rescued by neighbors this afternoon. The victim is Mrs. Rose Cummings, a widow, who has lived alone for many years. The woman from whom she was freed is Mrs. Mary Moss, who was sent to the Rockland state hospital for observation. Mrs. Cummings only recently had taken Mrs. Moss into her home.

EX-KING ALFONSO DOUBTS REVOLT WILL HELP HIM

Calls It Move to Rescue Spain from Leftists.

MARIENBAD, Czechoslovakia, July 20.—(AP)—Former King Alfonso XIII. of Spain tonight said he does not consider the Spanish revolt to be a movement toward restoration of the Bourbon monarchy.

"The monarchists and republicans are fighting together against the Leftist régime," said the former monarch, reached at the Metternich castle in Koenigswart.

"The present revolutionary movement in Spain is not a fight of monarchists or of republicans—for or against restoration. It is a national movement."

Seeks Orderly Régime.

Alfonso said what he wanted for Spain was "rescue from the Leftist government, from a régime of daily murders and disorders."

"My only desire," he said, "is inauguration of a régime of peace and order and the coming to power of a Rightist government supported by the army."

The former king, who quit his country in 1931, then asked for the latest news from Spain. He was particularly interested in the names of the generals reported leading the revolt.

Alfonso broke off a hunting party at Count Zamoyski's castle on the Czech-Hungarian border to fly to Marienbad, where he motored to the castle of Count Metternich, another friend. Count Zamoyski accompanied him.

[Reports from Prague said it was thought possible Alfonso might keep his plane in readiness for a sudden flight to Spain. He had listened all day Sunday to radio reports concerning the revolt.]

Third Son Beams.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CANNES, France, July 20.—Juan, prince of Asturias, heir presumptive to the abolished Spanish throne, beamed today when asked for a comment on the situation in his homeland.

"Later I may have something very interesting to say," said the third son of former King Alfonso, "but it is too early to talk now."

He also refused to talk about his father, saying: "I cannot disclose father's plans."

The Alfonso clan is gathering here, ostensibly for a happy event—the princess of Asturias is expecting a child the middle of August. Her sister and two uncles of the prince are here.

The local Spanish monarchists' colony is highly excited over the revolution and the apparent success of the rebels. They are predicting an early return of the Bourbons to the palace in Madrid.

[The princess of Asturias was, before marrying, Princess Maria Mercedes of the two Sicilies branch of the house of Bourbon-Anjou.]

Ex-Queen Watches.

FONTAINEBLEAU, France, July 20.—(AP)—The secretary to former Queen Victoria of Spain said today Victoria was "watching the progress of the revolution with the greatest interest."

First Son Sees No Chance.

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Alfonso de Bourbon, count of Covadonga, who renounced his right to the nonexistent Spanish throne to marry a Cuban commoner and now sells high priced British automobiles to wealthy New Yorkers, does not believe that the present rebellion in Spain is intended to restore the monarchy.

If such a restoration should come, however, the count said in an interview here today, the new ruler would be his father, former King Alfonso, or younger brother, Prince Juan, the heir presumptive.

The count renounced his rights to the throne when he married Edelmira Sampedro, a Cuban commoner. He announced three weeks ago he would seek an annulment of the marriage.

Du Page County Prohibits Gaming in Rural Taverns

The Du Page county liquor control commission announced in Wheaton yesterday that after tonight it will revoke the license of any tavern in an unincorporated area of the county which permits the operation of a gambling device, including pin games and punch boards. The county board of supervisors recently discovered that the county has authority to ban such gambling only in unincorporated communities.

WIFE SAYS SON OF PACKER HEAD POISONED HER

Cocktails, Women, in Cabell Charges.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 20.—[Special.]—Charles E. Cabell, wealthy Philadelphian, broke down tonight and wept at a hearing in the Ventnor city jail as his wife, Mrs. Margaret P. Cabell, related her charge that he attempted to kill her with a poisoned cocktail. Mrs. Cabell described her husband as the son of Robert Hervey Cabell, president of Armour & Co., Chicago packers.

Cabell was arraigned privately before Magistrate Charles S. Abbott of the neighboring resort town of Ventnor on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, filed by his wife.

Demands Mate Sign Pledge.

Cabell begged to be given another chance, and Mrs. Cabell later agreed, providing he signs a written pledge tomorrow promising his father to reform. Mrs. Cabell testified that her husband feared he would be disinherited for drinking and keeping many friendships with other women. Cabell, meanwhile, was ordered held over night in the Ventnor jail.

Visits "Other Woman."

While she waited at a boardwalk café, Mrs. Cabell said, her husband visited "the other woman" at a nearby hotel "to break off their friendship." He returned later, she continued, and said that his friend refused to sever their relationship and that he would have to give up his wife.

They continued to discuss the domestic triangle, Mrs. Cabell said, and walked on to another bar. After one drink, she became deathly ill, Mrs. Cabell testified, and her husband fled. She was taken to an Atlantic City hospital, given first aid, and then filed her charges. Cabell was arrested early today on the boardwalk.

BERWYN JUSTICE OUSTED AND SENT TO BRIDEWELL

John Bauer, 43 years old, a justice of the peace in Berwyn, was ordered removed from office and fined $100 yesterday when he pleaded guilty before Judge E. I. Frankhauser in Criminal court to charges of malfeasance in office. Assistant State's Attorney William B. Lancaster said that Bauer had failed to account for between $600 and $700 in bond money intrusted to him. The prosecutor said Bauer was charged also with accepting fees to file justice of the peace suits without taking any action. Bauer, who resides at 1426 Grove avenue, Berwyn, was elected for a four year term in April, 1933. Unable to pay the fine, he was taken to the Bridewell to work it out.

Second Cousins

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Adolph B. Spreckels has decided it is about time to conserve the family sugar. The heir to sweet millions will take as his next wife his second cousin, Geraldine, daughter of the late Jack Spreckels and heiress to the vast sugar fortune of her grandfather, the late John D. Spreckels, it became known today.

The marriage, according to reports from the family in San Francisco, will take place soon in London.

It will be the third trip to the altar for young Mr. Spreckels. His first marriage to Lois Clarke de Ruyter of New York, ended in a Reno divorce in May, 1935. Last August he married Gloria Debovoise, a New York debutante. She got a Reno divorce last May.

FLAMES SWEEP DEBRIS CHUTE AT DRAKE TOWERS

Fire starting in a débris chute at the Drake Tower apartments, 179 East Lake Shore, sent dense clouds of smoke pouring from the top of the 38 story structure last evening. Trafic on Michigan avenue was blocked as firemen strung hoses across the busy thoroughfare. Hundreds were attracted to the scene by smoke and flames. The blaze was extinguished by firemen, and there was no damage, according to Chief Thomas Scanlon of the 1st battalion. He explained that accumulations of grease often catch fire in the débris chutes of tall buildings, and if let alone usually burn out harmlessly. The firemen rode to the top floor on a freight elevator, attached their hoses, and dumped tons of water down the chute before smoke stopped pouring out of the shaft.

PROWLER SLAIN BY POLICE FOUND TO BE A PAROLEE

Abandon Theory He Was Terror Rapist.

William Keane, 28 years old, 5402 Maryland avenue, who was shot to death early yesterday in the nurses' home of the Chicago Lying-In hospital, 5737-5743 Drexel avenue, was revealed by his finger prints later in the day to be a paroled convict. Keane was slain as he hid under a nurse's bed after he had engaged in a gun battle with several police squads sent to surround the hospital.

The first police theory, that Keane was the south side moron who had attacked several women in recent weeks, was discarded after his identification by finger prints. It is now believed that Keane was merely a prowling thief.

Mrs. Ure Henry, 6146 Kenwood avenue, who had a terrifying experience with a rapist on July 1, and her husband viewed Keane's body at the county morgue last night, but could not identify him. Two other persons, however, identified him as a bandit.

Head Nurse Sees Prowler.

Keane was discovered in the nurses' home by Mrs. C. M. Hart, head nurse, about 4 a. m. yesterday. She at once notified the Hyde Park police and Detectives Frank Rothman and Louis Schillig hurried to the home. When the police arrived they saw Keane on a porch and called to him to surrender. His answer was a blast of pistol shots which narrowly missed Schillig. The detective returned the fire and wounded Keane, who fled to the roof.

Schillig and Rothman then called for reinforcements and all nearby squads were ordered to the nurses' home. Policemen surrounded the building, firing their pistols at Keane whenever he showed himself. More than 200 shots were fired.

Woman Finds Intruder.

Mrs. Gertrude Arnold, 40 years old, who had fled to the first floor of the building at the outbreak of shooting, later returned to her room on the third floor to see whether anything had been stolen. Entering, she opened the door of a clothes closet and saw a wounded man sitting on a trunk. She ran screaming from the room.

Detective Rothman, now armed with a shotgun, ran up the stairs. Entering Mrs. Arnold's room, he saw the man crawling under a bed and ordered him out.

The prowler's reply was an unintelligible mumble and Rothman, fearing the man might shoot from his hiding place, fired his shotgun under the bed. The entire charge struck Keane in the abdomen. He was dead when taken to the Albert Merritt Billings hospital.

Keane's wife, Della, was located at the home where the Keane's four children were living. The wife and her sister, Miss Mary Price, are employed as maids at Kelly hall of the University of Chicago.

Hired as Handy Man.

Mrs. Keane said her husband was given temporary employment by his parole sponsor, but for several months past had been unemployed and she and her sister maintained the family.

At the office of the parole supervisor it was learned that Keane's sponsor was Del Courtney, 1634 East 53d street, a hotel manager who had agreed to give Keane employment as a handyman at $60 a month.

Courtney said last night he had given Keane employment several times in the last eight years. He agreed to serve as his parole sponsor, Courtney said, after the parole board reported Keane had "no criminal tendencies," and on the plea of Mrs. Keane and her children. But because Keane drank heavily, Courtney said, he discharged him about June 26, and notified the parole office.

Keane had been sentenced to 1 to 30 years' imprisonment on Feb. 2, 1934.

Johnny Finds a Way to Bust That Jackpot; He's Satisfied!

The light of determination gleamed in the eyes of John Stastny, 48 years old, 421½ Cass street, Joliet, as he strode into the White Front tavern of Joliet yesterday afternoon. Carefully laying three $1 bills on the bar, he said to the bartender:

"I want you should give me nickels for these three 'fish.' With them and the 10 nickels I have already, I'm going to see what your slot machine will do.

"For three-four days, I put my nickels in the slot, but nothing happens. Today I will crack the jackpot, or else."

Mr. Stastny Goes to It.

Mr. Stastny took his pile of 70 nickels and began operations. One nickel clicked in the slot and Stastny pulled the lever. Up bobbed two cherries. No payoff. A second nickel followed, Mr. Stastny pulled the lever. No sale.

Obstinately Stastny pursued his course. As the last of the 70 coins passed into the slot without results he uttered a yell of rage, picked up a metal tray, and smashed the glass front of the jackpot. A stream of nickels cascaded on the barroom floor.

Mr. Stastny stared at the pile of nickels in thoughtful silence. The bartender stared stoically at Mr. Stastny.

He's Satisfied, at Least.

"If you want to," remarked Mr. Stastny, "get the police. You can keep the nickels. At least I have cracked the jackpot."

"Why should I call the police?" shrugged the bartender. "You go on home."

"Hey, fellow," said he, "I have wrecked a slot machine. Go ahead and arrest me."

But the policeman refused to do so. He advised Mr. Stastny to keep on going home and forget about it.

Now this hands off policy on the part of the bartender and the policeman may seem mysterious unless you know that the slot machine business has become a hot potato in Will county.

In Injunction in Background.

A few months ago Circuit Judge Edwin L. Wilson granted a temporary injunction restraining all police and county authorities from interfering with the operations of a slot machine company.

Since then, despite the protest of Mayor George T. Jones of Joliet and civic groups, the county has been flooded with gambling machines.

It becomes apparent from this situation that the barkeeper in the White Front recognized that any appeal to the authorities about the broken slot machine would do him no good. The police, under injunction, are not inclined to take any steps in slot machine matters.

Mr. Stastny has no nickels but he got away with breaking the jackpot.

FATE OF 'IDAHO,' PUP OF UNCERTAIN ORIGIN, IS IN BALANCE TODAY

Brockport, N. Y., July 20.—(AP)—Whether a shaggy mongrel pup is a frolicsome playmate or a vicious dog intent on attack is the question Justice of the Peace Homer B. Benedict will consider tomorrow morning at a hearing to decide the fate of Idaho, the dog charged with causing the death of a high school youth while bathing in a nearby barge canal.

The question of Idaho's fate has aroused the interest of a national issue in this village of 3,000 population, with sentiment about equally divided. The pup's master is 22 year old Victor Fortune.

Fortune has been summoned to appear before Benedict to show cause why Idaho should not be destroyed as a dangerous animal. The summons was issued Friday after a preliminary hearing at which Daniel Houghton, 21, testified that the dog jumped on his back while he was swimming.

Blaze Destroys Freighter; Passengers, Crew Saved

MANILA, P. I., June 20.—(AP)—Fire spread through the 3,800 ton Danish freighter Nora Maersk today, ending all hope of saving the abandoned craft. The ship's seven passengers and crew were ashore at Zamboanga on Mindanao island. Among the passengers were Dr. L. K. Lobeck, geology professor of Columbia university; his wife, and two children.

Baroness, Former ShowGirl Settles Suit for $7,000

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Baroness Clara de Bulow, former Broadway chorus girl and widow of Baron Raymond de Bulow, received $7,000 in settlement of the $300,000 breach of promise suit which she brought against Maurice M. Manassee, a stock broker. The litigation was ended last May, but the terms of the settlement were not disclosed until today when papers were filed in Supreme court. After paying counsel fees and other expenses the Baroness had $3,025. The Baroness testified that Manassee was the father of her 6 year old son.

TOPEKA IN FINAL PREPARATION FOR LANDON PROGRAM

City Expects 100,000 at Notification Ceremony.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Topeka, Kas., July 20.—[Special.]—Plumbers today are attaching temporary drinking bubblers to fire hydrants. Carpenters are erecting comfort stations. Lunch counters are going up under canvas in vacant lots. Eight miles of bunting is being hung in the business district.

Electricians are stringing wires for voice amplifiers on the capitol grounds with a lawn an area of two square blocks facing a speaker's platform. Flood lights are in place.

Topeka is in the last rush of preparations to receive 100,000 visitors Thursday for Gov. Alf M. Landon's acceptance of the Republican presidential nomination.

Prairie State Rally.

The city of 73,000 population is preparing for a great political rally from the typical prairie states as in the era of torch parades and stump debates when the issues of the day assembled the countryside.

Remindful of a more hectic political era will be a surrey in the afternoon parade preceding the acceptance ceremonies in the evening. The carriage is one in which Abraham Lincoln, speaking for admission of Kansas to the Union as a slave free state, was driven from Troy, Kas., to Leavenworth, just across the river from the pro-slavery state of Missouri, in December, 1859.

Frank McGlynn, who took the part of the martyred President in John Drinkwater's "Lincoln" of the silent films, today telegraphed to the Topeka Chamber of Commerce from Hollywood that he will ride in this surrey. Dan R. Anthony III., Leavenworth newspaper publisher, whose grandfather escorted the Republican party's first presidential candidate on the 1859 trip, has been asked to drive the team in the parade.

A Lincoln Anecdote.

In the state historical library here was found an anecdote by Lincoln on his Kansas tour to illustrate the failure of the Democratic party of this time to steer a definable course. His complaint was similar to the protest today against the New Deal helmsman of the modern Democratic party.

"A lad plowing up on the prairie," said Lincoln, "asked his father in what direction he should strike a new furrow. The parent replied, 'Stear for that yoke of oxen standing at the further end of the field.'

"The father went away, and the lad obeyed. But just as he started the oxen started also. He kept steering for them and they continued to walk. He followed them entirely around the field and came back to the starting point, having furrowed a circle instead of a line."

Gov. Alf Landon Thursday night will propose that this nation set a true course for its plows and stop following the meandering brain trust.

Woman, 105, Motors 200 Miles in a Day; Likes It

Rochester, N. Y., July 20.—(AP)—Arriving well enough to do a bit of crocheting before supper, Mrs. Mary Jane Bushey, 105 years old, competed a 200 mile motor trip today from her home in Ogdensburg. She came to attend the funeral tomorrow of her son Edward, one of her fourteen children, five of whom are living. "I'm going on 106 and wonder how people can say they get tired riding," she said. "I like it." Mrs. Bushey does her own housework.

ACTRESS IN JAIL

EVELYN GOSNELL.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 20.—[Special.]—Evelyn Gosnell, one-time Broadway star who is serving a voluntary sentence of 10 days in the county jail here in lieu of paying a $100 fine in Westport, spent the day working in the jail laundry, Sherif Edward U. Platt said tonight.

Miss Gosnell said that she preferred going to jail to paying the fine for driving while her license was under suspension, "since it's the best way I know of making $10 a day."

FARLEY ASSAILS RELIGION, RACE AS POLLS ISSUES

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley today assailed the injection of any religous or racial prejudice into the current presidential campaign.

Returned to the national headquarters after a tour of New York state, Chairman Farley hade known his views in response to a question concerning charges that Gov. Alf M. Landon holds anti-semitic views and the assertion of Republican National Chairman John Hamilton that the Democrats were sponsoring a "whispering campaign."

"There is not a word of truth in that," said Chairman Farley. "That is not the way we run a campaign. Why should I inject any religious issue into a national political campaign? I don't do things that way.

"I am not responsible for any charges of that nature or any others that probably will crop up very frequently during the campaign, and I deplore them. In all my public career I have tried to play politics fairly, never hitting my opponent unfairly."

Chairman Farley ridiculed claims of Mr. Hamilton that Gov. Landon would carry New York state.

OHIOANS PLEDGE THEIR STATE TO LANDON IN FALL

Ex-Gov. Cooper and Rep. Hollister Call.

Ohio Would Stop Spending.

"Ohio is keenly alive to the necessity of putting a stop to the spendthrift policy down in Washington that has underlined the Democratic administration as the most wasteful and extravagant in the history of this country. When it comes to spending the taxpayers' money Roosevelt seems to have been after a world record, and beyond question he has made it.

"The real issue in this campaign which must be settled as a forerunner of economic stability and better times is, shall the country permit a continuance of increasing dept and a confiscatory tax program as the road to recovery or shall there be a facing about by the adoption of a plan with which every prudent householder in America is familiar, to wit: Cut expenses, pay debts, and live within the income. That is what you call common sense policy.

"Joy Riding in Dark."

Here we have been joy riding in the dark with an increased debt of 15 billion dollars in three and one-half years and a program of scarcity advocated as the road to abundance of the good things of life.

"The American farmer has got nothing more out of the program than synthetic prosperity which has resulted in throwing one man out of every seven out of his job while permanent farm relief is nowhere in sight.

"Taxation has gone beyond either legal or moral right. There is a consistent attempt on the part of the administration to hand back a part of the taxes paid on the theory the taxpayer will forget what is being done to him and only remember what the government is doing for him.

"The Republican party platform offers a program of permanent benefits to the farmer that will not force him to buy his prosperity with his own money while losing his market to his foreign competitor.

"Scarcity Gets Us Nowhere."

"The cowardly procedure of scarcity has gotten us nowhere. They killed 5 million pigs, enough to garnish both sides of the road to Cleveland, and then imported 92 per cent more meat. That is the kind of business management we have in Washington now.

"The Republican party offers safeguarding protection to the consumer and producer alike that will provide against famine on the one hand and the effects of a dumping process growing out of abundance.

"No problem was ever solved on the basis of destruction such as that tried out by the Democratic administration in handling farm relief. The failure right now in the face of this terrible drouth is tragic, with a shortage of foodstuffs and prices going sky high.

"The business men of the country are against Roosevelt. That is so for just one reason. They know his policies are unsound and unworkable. They demand a balanced budget and reduced expenditures instead of confiscatory taxes; coöperation instead of government competition.

Fear 15 Billion Debt.

"They know also that the piling up of a debt of 15 billion dollars in four years has put the country on the wrong track and that every American wage earner, farmer, and business enterprise must pay the bill. This debt, reduced to dollar bills laid end to end, would circle the globe fifty times. Worst of all, there has been a disposition to popularize poverty while pauperizing the people.

"What the country needs is more men on the construction gang and fewer on the wrecking crew, an era of good feeling resulting in restored confidence and the adoption of business methods in the conduct of government such as is employed in any sufficient private enterprise.

"The nation is eager to go forward. This depression should have ended two years ago. There is no reason why there should be a single idle worker today, except for the fact that there is utter lack of confidence in an administration that is still trying out impractical experiments in an attempt to find a way out of economic trouble. The time is here to put an experienced business man at the helm of state.

No Promiser, but Performer.

"Not a great promiser, but a great performer. The call is for Landon the builder, and with his election we will see a great era of building ushered in in every field of economic endeavor that will make an end to involuntary idleness and bring prosperity and happiness to the country as a whole."

OFFICIALS CAN KEEP ELECTION HONEST, DITCHBURNE ASSERTS

Clean elections are feasible in Cook county if public officials do their duty, Harry S. Ditchburne, Republican nominee for state's attorney, told 250 women meeting last night in the Carlton hotel, 1110 Pleasant street, Oak Park.

"The recently enacted permanent registration law is a step toward honest elections," said Ditchburne, "but it has no effect on fraudulent counting and tallying of the votes cast. The county's need is an aggressive state's attorney interested in clean elections." Ditchburne characterized the record of State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney as "mediocre and unsatisfactory."

Bids on printing 2,225,000 precinct registration cards for preparing permanent voters' lists in the fall were opened yesterday by the board of election commissioners. M. Kallis & Co. submitted the lowest of 14 bids, $4,993.

WORKERS IN EAST ENTHUSIASTIC IN LANDON'S BEHALF

Tour Indicates Victory in New England.

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Gov. Alfred M. Landon will carry New England this fall by an overwhelming majority, Joseph W. Martin Jr., eastern manager of the Republican national committee, predicted today on his return to Republican headquarters from a tour of eastern states.

Mr. Martin also predicted that the Republican nominee would win a larger plurality in Pennsylvania than did Herbert Hoover in 1932. Pennsylvania was one of the few states Mr. Hoover carried against the Democratic landslide four years ago.

"Never has there been such enthusiasm for the Republican ticket in New England since the famous campaign of James G. Blaine," Mr. Martin said. "At all meetings we addressed, which were primarily for workers, we saw an enthusiasm that I have never seen before in my thirty years of public life in Massachusetts."

Hamilton, Miss Couch in Party.

Mr. Martin acompanied John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, and Miss Natalie Couch, director of the women's division, on the tour of New England. They spoke to workers in informal meetings in Maine last Tuesday, addressed groups in Vermont and New Hampshire on Wednesday, and toured Connecticut, Rhode Island, and Masachusetts on Thursday and Friday.

On Saturday the party went to Pennsylvania, where Mr. Hamilton addressed a meeting at Hershey.

"We attended a noon luncheon meeting in Concord at which 1,800 workers were present," Mr. Martin said. "In Providence there were 3,500 workers at a night meeting. Admission was by ticket only, and if it had been thrown open to the public there would have been 10,000 in the hall. At least 5,000 were turned away.

5,000 at Opening Session.

"In Bangor there were 5,000 at our opening meeting, and they all assured us that Maine was definitly in the Republican column.

"In Montpelier 2,200 attended an informal get-together.

"Those figures give you some indication of the enthusiasm New England has for Gov. Landon."

Landon also has a "real fighting chance" in Virginia, North Carolina, and Florida, Martin asserted.

Commenting on Democratic Senator Carter Glass' recent speech assailing acts of the administration, Martin said:

G. O. P. CHAIRMAN ASKS AL SMITH TO BACK LANDON

Baltimore, Md., July 20.—(AP)—The Sun says former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee in 1928, was in conference in New York City today with John Hamilton, Republican national committee chairman.

In a copyright story by J. Fred Essary, chief of the Sun's Washington bureau, the paper says:

"Gov. Smith authorized the information that he and Mr. Hamilton had met and that they had discussed the politics of the campaign from all its important angles.

"But nothing was forthcoming from the former governor as to the course which he will pursue in the next few months. He is not ready to talk for publication."

"Mr. Hamilton begged the New Yorker to join actively in the fight to defeat the reëlection of President Roosevelt," the story continues. "The Republican leader wants Mr. Smith to take the stump for Gov. Landon, as former Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts has agreed to do.

"This writer is convinced, however, from all he could learn in New York today that Mr. Smith will make no speeches whatever under the auspices of the Republican national committee.

"It is equally improbable that he will make any speeches directly urging the country to elect Gov. Landon. But it is in no sense unlikely that he will make one or more speeches warning the country against the peril of giving Mr. Roosevelt another four year term of office."

1,500 Foot Waterspout Reported in N. Y. Harbor

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—A waterspout in New York harbor was reported today by two coast guard officers. They said it appeared to have been 1,500 feet high, and that it was visible for ten minutes. The spout moved off northeast toward Brooklyn and disappeared, according to Chief Boatswain's Mate Raymond Bean.

Life is more precious than pennies

● Shocked by the death of so many people—bewildered by the scores stricken—America awoke two years ago to the realization that a new menace threatened the health of our Nation.

Here, in a land where modern science has wrought so many wonders—where citizens boasted of a higher standard of living comfort than other nations—men, women and children were suffering intense agony and dying of amœbic dysentery caused by faulty plumbing.

Doctors, nurses and hospital attendants worked ceaselessly to relieve the suffering, to save lives and to prevent the spread of this insidious malady. But their work means little today and those precious lives were lost in vain, if we neglect our solemn duty to remove forever the real cause of such a tragedy.

Health Authorities agree that the immediate cause of this epidemic and the contributing cause of much sickness can be traced to faulty, improperly installed plumbing. They are waging a vigorous campaign to warn the public of the danger that may result from trusting the important matter of plumbing installations and repairs to the uncertain hands of a "handyman."

Millions of dollars are spent by municipalities to insure fresh, pure, filtered water delivered in mains right in front of your home. What happens to this pure water inside your home depends upon your plumbing. Improperly installed fixtures, faulty piping and cross-connections can contaminate or pollute water which may cause sickness and even death. And life is more precious than the pennies you might save using untrained men.

Health Authorities will tell you that it is unwise to trust the plumbing in your home to incompetent hands. Guard against danger by insisting that your plumbing must be inspected, installed or repaired only by the men best qualified by training and experience to protect your health—the Master Plumbers. Their work is so important that states and cities have laws not only regulating the installation of plumbing, but setting a standard for the Plumber himself.

In many states, Master Plumbers are examined as to their qualifications, licensed and registered. Most of the sanitary laws protecting public health and insuring the highest standard of professional skill have been passed through the insistence of the Master Plumbers themselves.

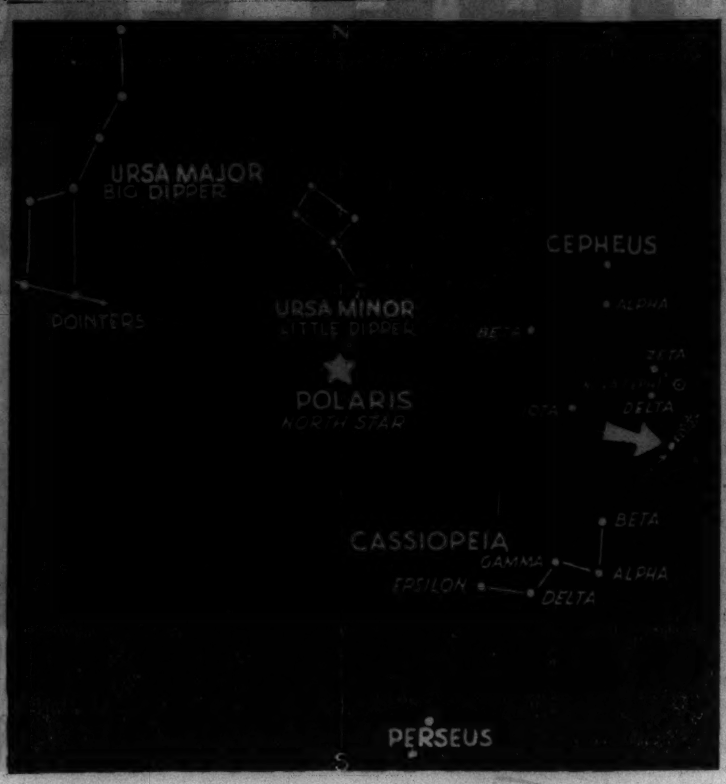
Knoch, county judge. Sherif Bennett, who received his pilot's license a few months ago, will fly his wn ship, a Stinson cabin plane.

Comet Visible—Here's How to See It



Garage Man's Sky Discovery May Be Viewed by Naked Eye

Peltier's comet, which was discovered last May by Leslie Peltier, a garage worker and amateur astronomer of Delphos, O., is now visible to the naked eye, Prof. Philip Fox of the Adler planetarium said yesterday. It may be viewed in the northeastern sky on any clear night until Aug. 15. It will reach its brightest point on Aug. 4.

For the best view of the comet Chicagoans should visit the lake front or any other open space where city lights do not cast a glow, Prof. Fox said. Field glasses are necessary for a view of the comet's tail. Without glasses the Peltier appears as a faint wisp of light.

Where You'll Find It.

As shown in the above diagram the comet may be located from about 10 p. m. through the midnight hours by following an imaginary line from the two pointer stars of the Big Dipper through the North star [Polaris] to a point as far to the right of the North star as the outer of the two pointers is to the left of the North star.

The comet may also be located by its position near the great constellation Cassiopeia. It is on a line with the stars Gamma and Beta of this constellation, as shown in the diagram. The comet's wisp of light is made difficult to discern because of the light from the nearby Milky Way.

When discovered, Peltier's comet was 120 million miles from the earth. It is now about 50 million miles away and by Aug. 4 its distance from the earth is expected to be 15 million miles.

"This is a stray comet—an unexpected one," Prof. Fox said. "It can first be seen about 10 p. m., low in the northeastern sky. It is visible until 4 in the morning when it reaches a point almost directly overhead and disappears in the morning light."

The new comet has been added to the current display at the Adler planetarium. Prof. Fox has attached a device to the star casting mechanism by means of which an image of the comet is thrown on the dome of the lecture room and placed among the other stars.

During the lectures Prof. Fox explains that the last time Chicagoans had a naked eye view of a comet was in 1927. That was the Pons-Winnecke comet. Halley's comet in 1910 was far more spectacular, however, than either the Pons-Winnecke or the Peltier.

Another Discovery Confirmed.

Confirmation of the discovery of another comet was announced yesterday at the Harvard university observatory. This comet has been named Kaho for its discoverer, Sigura Kaho, an amateur astronomer of Sapora, Japan. It is visible in the western sky for a short time just after sunset.

In the language of the astronomers this comet is "just at the limit of naked eye visibility," which means it is not visible to the ordinary observer. It is unusual, however, for two comets to be visible at the same time.

POLICE TO QUIZ DIVORCEE ABOUT SUICIDE EFFORT

Mrs. Edith Kinsey, 37 years old, 630 Gary place, a divorcée, is to face police questioning today if her condition permits. She was taken to the Lakeview hospital from her apartment early yesterday after she took an overdose of sleeping drug.

Mrs. Kinsey, according to police, was divorced four years ago from Elmer Kinsey, wealthy real estate dealer of Grand Rapids, Mich. Police were told she was the daughter of a Grand Rapids minister. In Mrs. Kinsey's apartment police found a note which indicated she had tried suicide. The note blamed marital troubles.

Jack Terman, 510 Roscoe street, told police the Kinseys have an adopted son, Jack, a student at the Howe Military school, Howe, Ind. At the hospital physicians said Mrs. Kinsey would recover.

Revived After 4 Hours, 'Drowned' Man Recovers

Walter Heger, 34 years old, 2922 Lowell avenue, revived on Sunday after he had apparently drowned in Bang's lake in Wauconda, near Bloom's park, returned home yesterday none the worse for his experience. Heger convalesced in the Wauconda home of his rescuer, Dr. John A. Ross, who injected adrenalin into Heger's heart, and who supervised artificial respiration applied to Heger for four hours before he resumed natural breathing.

SPANGLER FINDS FARMERS IN IOWA TURNING TO G.O.P.

Claims State for Landon; New Deal Cost Blamed.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Harrison Spangler, director of organization at Republican national headquarters here, returned from Cedar Rapids, Ia., yesterday with reports that his home state is heading back into the Republican column. The most potent factor, he holds, is the mountainous debt piled up under the New Deal and the tax load when the day of reckoning arrives.

"Landon and Knox will sweep Iowa," said Spangler. "This is not a mere thought fathered by a wish, but it is based on reports from many sources in many parts of Iowa and upon surveys, polls, and checkups that have been made and are now being made.

Apprehensive Over High Costs.

"Republican workers in all parts of Iowa report as the present trend that the farmers are studying their problems and are coming to the conclusion that many of the Roosevelt policies are mere fallacies. They know the day of reckoning is coming and are becoming apprehensive over the mounting costs of silly expenditures.

"I found that Landon is appealing to the people of Iowa as a midwesterner with his feet on the ground who is entirely in accord with the middle west viewpoint on agriculture and government. They look on him as a practical, common sense statesman and not a dreamer.

Democrats Leaving Roosevelt.

"Many former Democrats in Iowa who have been disappointed at the failure of the administration to carry out its campaign promises are daily leaving Roosevelt for Landon. Outstanding of the arguments among the farmers today is that the day of reckoning is approaching when payment of the tremendous debt will load the people with a heavy load of taxes.

"In the death of Senator Louis Murphy, the Democrats lost a man who was by far the strongest Democrat in Iowa. It was generally known he was thoroughly sick and tired of many of the New Deal experiments."

John Hamilton, G. O. P. national chairman, who has finished a speech making tour of New England and Pennsylvania, is expected back at headquarters here today. After attending the notification ceremonies at Topeka Thursday, he is to return to Chicago for several days before leaving Aug. 3 on an airplane tour.

IF ROOSEVELT WINS, BROKER WILL SELL HIS FARM, GO TO CANADA

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Convinced that the Roosevelt administration has "failed miserably" in its objectives, Julian T. Bishop is planning to show his "intense dislike" for the New Deal by selling his large quail farm near Carthage, N. C., and moving to Canada if the President is reelected.

Mr. Bishop, a grandson of William B. Bishop, founder of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, has drawn public attention to his anti-Roosevelt stand by offering his property for sale in an advertisement in current issue of Game Breeder and Sportsman. It reads:

"In the event that Roosevelt is reelected at the coming November election, the entire Horseshoe quail farm, located near Carthage, N. C., will be offered for sale, due to the fact that owner immediately will move to Canada."

Mr. Bishop, who is a broker, said he campaigned in Connecticut in 1932 for Roosevelt. He owns a home in Greenwich, Conn., which he also wants to sell because he "can't afford to keep it up."

Brooks to Discuss Farm Problems with Lowden

Farm problems of Illinois and the middle west will be discussed today at a conference between Frank O. Lowden, former governor, and Wayland Brooks, Republican nominee for governor. Brooks will be Lowden's luncheon guest at Sinnissippi farm, the Lowden estate near Oregon, Ill. The Republican candidate is the owner of a 350 acre farm near Wedron in La Salle county.

WIFE OF LANDON QUITS VACATION FOR CEREMONY

Mrs. Landon said good-by to her two small children, Jack, 2, and Nancy Jo, 3, who were left behind in the care of their nurse, Mrs. Lucy McCue, and ranch caretakers.

Riding in three cars, the party drove out of the McGray ranch toward Denver to board a train for Topeka.

In the party were John M. Landon, the nominee's father; Mrs. S. E. Cobb, Mrs. Landon's mother; Peggy Anne Landon, the governor's 19 year old daughter, and Mrs. Mildred Creighton, Mrs. Landon's secretary.

FILE CHARGES IN SHOOTING.

Rudy Weber, 30 years old, 8611 South Bishop street, who shot and wounded Thomas Keylon, 28 years old, 7704 South Sangamon street, Sunday morning following a drinking party, was charged with assault with intent to commit murder yesterday by Gresham police.

Restoration of Maiden Name Asked by Hawaiian Dancer

Mrs. Liberato Ponsovella Becker, 33 years old, 314 Iowa street, Oak Park, filed a petition in the Superior court yesterday for permission to resume her maiden name of Princess Lanakila Liholiho Kamahamaha Kamaka. Mrs. Becker, a dancer, gives as her reason for the name change the fact that she plans soon to return to her native Hawaii. Judge Harry B. Miller will hear the petition today.

Mrs. Toorich nibbled, then spoke: "Charmed to meet this O-KE-DOKE"

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Speakers at a meeting of the Illinois League of Republican Women in the Morrison hotel yesterday afternoon assured the women that victory is in sight for the Landon-Knox ticket in the fall.

"It will be the most momentous vote you have ever cast," said Mrs. George W. Rogers of Jackson, Mich., now a member of the women's division at Republican national committee headquarters. "It is a contest not between Republicans and Democrats, but the Republican party and the New Deal party. It is a question of whether this form of government will survive, or we will go on under the dictatorship under which we are at present situated."

Urges Singing of "Battle Hymn."

She urged the singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" at every Republican meeting, declaring that it typified "the crusading spirit the American people now feel." This was applauded. It was when this song and "Onward, Christian Soldiers" were sung at the Republican convention that the seriousness of the convention was most apparent, she said, commenting that "three long years" was "in a lighter vein."

"I am convinced we will win, but it will take hard work," she said. 'I want to urge you women to give up the lesser things in life outside of your home and family and devote yourselves to Republicanism in the next few months."

Mrs. Wirt Morton, who with Mrs. Walter Wolf is co-chairman of the Cook county women's division of the Republican finance committee, described how she was doing just this.

A Patriot and a Mother.

"I'm not a politician, I'm not a politician's wife, but I am a patriot, and I am a mother," she said. "I have two boys, and any intelligent woman who has children wants them to have some security, and wants to save the institutions of this country for which our forebears fought.

"I have given up my European trip this summer. I get down to the Republican women's finance office in the McCormick building before 9 every day, including Saturday. In the last nine days the women have raised more than $40,000. One day a woman came in and left a check for $25,000. She said, 'I'm doing this to protect my family.'"

Leo E. Allen, congressman from the Thirteenth Illinois district, said a tour of Illinois convinced him the small business man, who voted for Roosevelt in 1932, are supporting Landon.

A Man of Common Sense.

"Why?" asked Mr. Allen. "Because if ever there was a common, ordinary man with common sense that grips you, it is Mr. Landon."

Mrs. Bertha M. Baur, Republican national committeewoman from Illinois and candidate for congress from the Ninth district, will give a luncheon today on the roof of her home at 1511 Astor street for the board of the Woman's National Republican club and women officials of the Republican national headquarters staf.

SEN. GORE TELLS OF TWO CHANCES TO SELL A FEDERAL JUDGESHIP

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma told newspaper men today he had two chances to "dispose" of an Oklahoma judgeship appointment during his unsuccessful campaign for reëlection in the July 7 primaries.

"I had two chances to dispose of it—one for $10,000 and another for all the money I needed," Gore said. "I turned them down. I was not willing to sell the United States judgeship to get myself reëlected to the United States senate."

The reference was to a new roving federal judgeship which was authorized by the last congress. No nominations for the position have been made.

POLLY MORAN IN FORGIVING MOOD; MAY KEEP MATE

Beverly Hills, Cal., July 20.—(AP)—Polly Moran, film comedienne, may change her mind after all about divorcing Martin Malone, lawyer and real estate man, especially if the weather cools off.

Polly, back from a cooling weekend yacht trip, was in a forgiving mood. She said she hoped things wouldn't go too hard with Malone at a preliminary hearing July 29 on charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

She refused to sign a complaint against Malone, but police accused him of holding a pistol against Miss Moran's head and threatening to shoot her last week.

"He's really a good fellow at heart," the actress said. "If a couple of other men hadn't plied him with drink, as the saying goes, things probably would have remained lovely at our little home .

"Last week I fully intended to set about getting a divorce, but I've decided now to wait until after his preliminary hearing before making up my mind."

The comedienne was asked if there was any possibility of an immediate reconciliation. She had a ready answer:

"Say, I wouldn't have a man around the house in this hot weather—not even if he were King Edward VIII."

Wins Return of Money Paid for Cemetery Lots

A decree was entered by Judge Walter P. Steffen in Superior court yesterday awarding Miss Anna Hintz, 4307 North Kildare avenue, $1,684 for two burial lots in Ridgewood cemetery which she bought in July, 1923. In her suit to cancel her cemetery contract and return the money she paid, Miss Hintz alleged that land adjoining her lots, which salesmen told her would be reserved as a perpetual parkway, had later been divided and sold.

GOMER SMITH TO QUIT POSTS, SAYS TOWNSEND

Officer's Ouster Demanded for Coughlin Criticism

Cleveland, O., July 20.—(AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend emerged late today from a post-convention meeting of the Townsend board of directors and asserted that Gomer Smith of Oklahoma would resign "in the near future" as a national vice president and director.

Smith assailed the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit for his criticism of President Roosevelt before the convention and Townsend then demanded Smith's ouster from the old age pension group's ranks.

"Smith has promised he will resign," said Townsend. "John B. Kiefer of Chicago, midwestern regional organizer, has reconsidered and will not resign."

Smith to Aid Democrats.

Kiefer asserted yesterday he would submit his resignation to the board. He had favored control of the pension movement by the board.

Smith, who left Cleveland last night, said in New York he would participate in the presidential campaign "as I always have, on behalf of the Democratic party."

Smith said he would remain loyal to the pension movement regardless of Townsend's declared intention to oust him.

Raymond J. Jeffries, Cleveland Townsend leader, petitioned Common Pleas court to throw out a suit brought by the Rev. A. J. Wright of Cleveland, deposed Townsend director, demanding ouster of Townsend and other directors and an accounting of over 1 million dollars collected by Old Age Revolving Pensions, Ltd.

Suit Assailed as "Sham."

The motion charged that the suit was "a sham designed solely to harass and embarrass the Townsend leaders" and has no standing in Ohio because the organization was incorporated not for profit in California.

Another motion asked a stay in the proceedings on the ground that Dr. Townsend is "too exhausted" to make depositions tomorrow as scheduled.

The board of directors today approved an increase in membership dues from 10 cents a month to $2 a year.

WORKMEN INJURED BY BLAZE.

George MacConnochie, 74 years old, 6534 South Bishop street, a plumber, and Ernest Brown, 58 years odl, 1656 North Avers avenue, a steam fitter, suffered minor burns yesterday when oil soaked rags became ignited as the two were working in the Rand-McNally & Co. plant, 536 South Clark street.

Fog Forces Roosevelt Boat Back Into Harbor Shelter

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Aboard Schooner Liberty, off Shelburne, N. S., July 20.—[Special.]—A pea soup fog halted President Roosevelt's quest for fish off southeastern Nova Scotia this morning.

The two masted yacht Sewanna with Mr. Roosevelt at the helm put out of Shelburne on the right fork of a slingshot inlet bay of the Atlantic at 10 a. m. The course was south out of the harbor and then northeast to bring the President 50 miles nearer the Evangeline coast to lure tuna, cod, haddock, of pollacks,

Hardly had the inlet been cleared and the course shifted to the northeast when the Sewanna glided on a gentle swell into a fog bank. The vessel vanished from sight by a legerdemain of nature.

Fishing Trip Abandoned.

A moment later the destroyer Hopkins and the presidential yacht Potomac disappeared. As the schooner Liberty entered the bank the Sewanna's auxiliary engines were cut out. Out of the gloom the voice of James Roosevelt came through the muffling fog, "We're going back to the harbor."

The fleet pulled out of the fog and re-anchored in the Shelburne harbor bank at 10:30 a. m., after making 14 miles. The projected fishing cruise in the vicinity of Liverpool, which is half way to Halifax, was abandoned.

Mr. Roosevelt lolled aboard the Sewanna for several hours awaiting the arrival of two navy seaplanes from Bar Harbor, Me., bringing him his first mail in five days.

Anchors for Night.

After glancing over the contents of two pouches Mr. Roosevelt again ordered the Sewanna out to sea, but on leaving the harbor ordered the course set southwestward to Cape Negro, where he anchored for the night. In fixing this course the Sewanna began retracing her course about Cape Sable.

Tommorrow the President will begin his second week at sea, heading for Yarmouth, 35 miles northwest of tonight's anchorage. From Yarmouth he will go by easy stages along the coast and back across the Bay of Fundy to reach Campobello Island, New Brunswick, by July 28. There he will rest in his mother's summer home before visiting Lord Tweesmuir, governor general of Canada, at Quebec on July 31.

SELTZER WATER IN EVERY TAP LATEST LOS ANGELES PERIL

Los Angeles, July 20.—(AP)—A natural soda fountain is hampering the efforts of engineers bent on increasing Los Angeles' supply of plain drinking water.

Geologists of the city bureau of waterworks and supply are puzzling over whether the carbon dioxide gas which charges the water in the center of Mono craters tunnel, 340 miles north of here, is merely a pocket or a vast supply from the ancient aeolian hills lava.

The gas—the ordinary soda fountain variety—was encountered about midway in the 11.3 mile long tunnel. It seeped through the lava pores in such quantities that tunneling was halted.

Disregarding the frivolous possibility of making every Los Angeles faucet a soda fountain, the geologists have undertaken to curb the gas supply and possibly to develop it as a dry ice project.

Unfortunately Hollywood has lately taken to drinking sweet soda with its Scotch.

Condition of Gov. Olson Reported Satisfactory

Rochester, Minn., July 20.—(AP)—Gov. Floyd B. Olson today was "troubled intermittently with nausea," the Mayo clinic announced in a bulletin tonight, but added his condition is "quite satisfactory."

MOTHER, LOVER MUST DIE FOR SLAYING BABY

Hollidaysburg, Pa., July 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Margaret Karmendi, 24 year old mother, and Roy T. Lockard, a laborer, today were sentenced to die in the electric chair for killing the woman's 3 year old son.

Evidence showed that they disposed of the child because he interfered with their meetings. The child, Matthew "Sonny" Karmendi Jr., was slain with a railroad spike.

The state asserted that the two brought the child to a hospital and told attendants it had been hit by an automobile. An investigation led to the arrests.

Gerald Smith Here on Way to Aid Lemke in Louisiana

The Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, self-styled leader of the late Senator Huey P. Long's share the wealth group, passed through Chicago yesterday on his way from the Townsend convention in Cleveland to New Orleans. Smith said he was going back to Louisiana to devise a method of getting the name of Congressman William Lemke, seeking the presidency on the Union party ticket, on the Louisiana ballot as a candidate.

CALL HUSBAND'S DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

A coroner's jury investigating the death of Andrew Beliseras, 36 years old, who cut himself fatally on Saturday when he thrust his arm through a window at the home of his estranged wife, Mary, at 1627 Washington boulevard, determined yesterday that the death was an accident.

Jane Scriven Finlay Again Fails to Appear in Court

Mrs. Jane Scriven Finlay of Scarborough, N. Y., failed again yesterday to appear in the Superior court with her daughter, Barbara, 6 years old, for whose custody Mrs. Finlay is being sued by her estranged husband, John Jerome Finlay, advertising man. Finlay's attorney, Robert Cantwell Jr., said, however, that he would not press for contempt of court action, since he has been promised that the child will soon be sent to her father for a six weeks' visit. Finlay recently received court permission to amend his divorce suit, charging desertion, to one for separate maintenance.

Owner of Bakery Seeks Injunction Against Union

Frank Picha, owner of a bakery at 3306 West 55th street, filed suit for an injunction yesterday in the Superior court against the Bakery and Confectionery Workers International union, local 13. Picha charged that union members picket his shop, "coerce" prospective customers and threaten other bakers to whom Picha sells. Picha said he had refused to join the union or hire other help than his two sons.

Wife: "Yes, I'd like to get home and forget about this blow-out. It gives me the creeps."

* * *

Don't try to "get by" on unsafe tires. It's too risky. Because the chances are better than even that, sooner or later, you'll wind up by having a blow-out that will leave you with nothing but regrets and expenses.

If you have the safety of your family and your friends at heart—if you want to stay off the accident list this summer—here's why you should put a set of Goodrich Silvertown Tires on your car now.

Silvertown Tires have something that no other tire in the world has—the Life Saver Golden Ply. This is a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the blowout-causing heat generated inside the tire by today's high speeds. By resisting this heat, the Golden Ply keeps rubber and fabric from separating. It keeps blisters from forming. Thus, the dangerous high-speed blowout that might have caused a serious accident doesn't get a start.

Don't gamble with your tire dollars—and, above all, don't gamble with your life. Put a set of Goodrich Golden Ply Silvertowns on your car now. You'll get real blow-out protection—months of extra mileage and greater riding comfort without paying a penny extra. Remember, Goodrich Silvertowns cost much less than other super-quality tires.

'ATOMIC MOVIES' TELL WHAT'S IN FAVORITE FOOD

Take Record of All the Spectroscope Shows.

Cambridge, Mass., July 20.—(AP)—The spectographic motion pictures, or "atomic movies," marking the entry of motion pictures into a new field of great value to industry, were announced today at the opening session of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology conference on spectroscopy.

The spectroscope is the instrument that tells astronomers many of the secrets of the stars. It photographs light which has passed through a prism to form a rainbow. These "still" pictures show what kind of atoms give the light and their condition at the moment of taking the picture.

The new movies give a continuous record. They are used, not for stars, but for analyzing industrial samples burning in a carbon arc flame or in an electric spark.

Atoms Are the Actors.

The "actors" are the atoms which give the light as they burn. These atomic actors do not appear in the flame all at once, but make their entries one after another, or in groups. They stay in the flame a little while and then are replaced by other kinds of atoms.

For example: a manufactured food was placed in front of the atomic moving picture camera and burned. One after another appeared the substances the food contained. Just at the last moment a bunch of lead atoms showed up, enough to prove that this food contained an appreciable quantity of lead, unknown to any one.

Tell Start to Finish.

The movies are made by use of an electric motor which moves photographic film, at an even rate, past the slit admitting the light from the burning sample. The old "still" pictures produced short spectrum lines, each one identifying some kind or state of atoms.

The new movies draw long, continuous spectrum lines from the start of the burning of any kind of atom until its finish. The lines appear whenever the atom enters the flaming state and fade when it is consumed.

The atomic movie was described by David Richardson, research fellow in physics at Massachusetts Tech. This movie, he said, was invented almost simultaneously and independently at Tech by Dr. E. Preuss of Jena.

INCREASES IN TAX RATES FOR 1935 ARE ANNOUNCED

The first of the 1935 tax rates for Cook county townships will be announced within the next day or two, it was stated yesterday at the office of County Clerk Michael J. Flynn. The first rates will be for country townships. Tax officials said that many of the rates will be higher than those of 1934 because of decreases in personal property valuations and increases in operating costs of local governments.

According to Mrs. Laura Weibler, head of the tax extension division, it will not be possible to have all the bills prepared for mailing by Aug. 1, so that Sept. 1 can be set as the first penalty date as planned.

Two Paroled Convicts Held to Grand Jury as Robbers

CRIMINAL COURT.

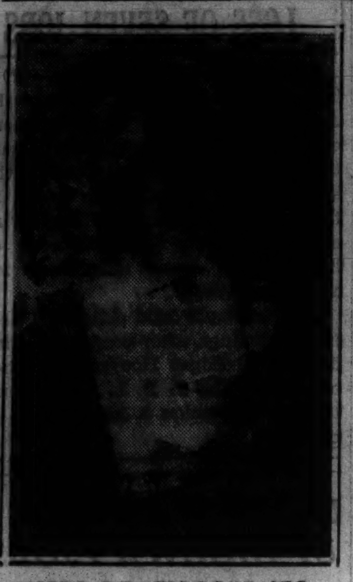
Eugene Banks and Gene McMinn, murder, sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary by Judge Donald S. McKinlay.

Two paroled convicts, who were released last March 17 from the Pontiac reformatory where they were serving robbery sentences, were held to the grand jury yesterday in bonds of $35,000 each by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Municipal court on charges of robbery and automobile theft. They are Walter Wujick, 20 years old, 2531 Harrison street, and Joseph Rappy, 23 years old, 1874 North Hoyne avenue. They were arrested last Tuesday in a stolen car shortly after they had held up a store at 2444 Bryn Mawr avenue.

Finds Men Visiting Wife; Gets Bullet in His Foot

George Starrett, 40 years old, 1239 Argyle street, a railroad chef, was shot in the left foot last night during what he said was a struggle with his wife, Mary, 29 years old, for possession of a pistol. Starrett told the Summerdale police he came home from work after several days' absence on his run out of the city and found his wife with two men. He upbraided her, he said, and the scuffle followed.

SUES FOR $25,000



MRS. BETTY GREAVES.

Mrs. Betty E. Greaves, 40 years old, 1217 North State street, actress and singer, filed suit for $25,000 damages in the Superior court yesterday against Charles L. Strobel, 40, a real estate broker.

The bill, drawn by Attorney Thomas C. Hollywood, charges that on March 27 Strobel struck her on the head, causing permanent damage to one of her ear drums, thus handicapping her professionally. The alleged attack occurred on the sidewalk at Cedar and State streets, the bill says. No motive for the attack was suggested in the suit.

Strobel is the son of the late Charles L. Strobel Sr., construction engineer who led in the development of steel skeleton construction for skyscrapers. The elder Strobel died last April 9 leaving an estate of $500,000. Young Strobel and his sister, Marion Strobel Mitchell, poet and author, each was left a third of the estate in trust.

Mrs. Greaves in 1927 was divorced from Herbert L. Greaves, wealthy printer. In 1930 Mrs. Greaves brought a breach of promise suit against her former husband, charging that he promised to remarry her but married a doctor's secretary instead.

JOINT OPERATION OF INSTITUTE ART SCHOOL DROPPED

The Association of Arts and Industries and the Art Institute of Chicago have formally dissolved the agreement under which they have been associated in conducting the school of industrial art of the Art institute, it was announced yesterday in a joint statement by the two institutions.

The statement, signed by Russell Tyson, trustee of the Art institute, and William Nelson Pelouze, president of the association, said the separation is due to a divergence of opinion as to the policies and methods of training in such a school. The association will open a new school in the fall in the old Marshall Field mansion at 1905 Prairie avenue, and the Art institute will continue its present school of industrial art.

"The Art institute," the statement said, "is turning over to the Association of Arts and Industries such funds as they are entitled to under the existing agreement. The directors of the Association of Arts and Industries and the trustees of the Art institute wish to make this friendly statement in order that there may be no misunderstanding of the situation. Chicago is the center of a manufacturing district of sufficient magnitude to support several first class schools of industrial design."

EX-CHIEF URGES BREMER KIDNAP POLICE INQUIRY

Testifies for U.S. at Hamm Abduction Trial.

St. Paul, Minn., June 20.—[Special.]—An investigation of police activity in the $200,000 Edward G. Bremer kidnaping was urged today by Thomas A. Dahill, former police chief of St. Paul.

Dahill made the suggestion after he testified as a government witness in the trial of Jack Peifer, St. Paul night club operator, for conspiracy in the William Hamm kidnaping. Dahill was placed on the stand to tell of Detective Thomas A. Brown's part in the Hamm abduction investigation.

Brown was accused last Friday by Byron Bolton, confessed member of the kidnap gang and the government's ace witness, of being the "tipoff" man for the kidnapers and of having received $25,000 of the $100,000 Hamm ransom.

Tells Brown's Activities.

"I had my suspicions in the Bremer case before Attorney General Cummings made his remark," Dahill declared. "After I went to Washington my suspicions were strengthened." [He referred to Cummings' charge that the Twin Cities were "poison spots of crime."] Bremer, St. Paul banker, was held prisoner twenty-two days.

Dahill, now in the café business, was chief at the time of the Hamm abduction. He testified that he had sent Brown to investigate a report of suspicious characters at a St. Paul address the day the kidnaped brewer was released. Dahill said Brown went to the place and returned a half hour later to report that the occupants had no connection with the kidnaping.

The place now is known to have been a hideout of Fred Barker and others of the gang. Bolton's testimony last week included a statement that Brown had telephoned Peifer and told him to "get those people out of there."

Ransom Plan Changed.

Prior to Dahill's testimony Charles Tierney, inspector of detectives and in charge of the kidnap detail of which Brown was a member, told how he, W. W. Dunn, contact man, and Brown had gone to the Hamm brewery the night of the kidnaping to select a truck in which to deliver the ransom.

The plan was for Tierney to hide in the truck and fire on the kidnapers when they picked up the ransom. But, he said, the next day Dunn was notified by the kidnapers that they had changed their plans and the money was to be delivered in a coupe instead.

Rulings by Judge M. M. Joyce upset plans of A. M. Cary, Peifer's chief attorney, to question Bolton about the St. Valentine's day massacre in Chicago seven years ago.

Court Upholds Prosecutor.

Judge Joyce upheld the government's contention that cross-examination of Bolton on the massacre and on his activities subsequent to the Hamm abduction was irrelevant and too remote.

Waiting in the courtroom to corroborate parts of Bolton's testimony was Mrs. Gladys Sawyer, whose husband, Harry, now is in Alcatraz penitentiary for the Bremer kidnaping. It was Mrs. Sawyer who first brought Brown's name into the trial last week with testimony, later ruled out by the court, that she had heard Peifer say he had $36,000 to split with Brown.

The government scored again when it prevailed upon the court to reinstate that portion of Mrs. Sawyer's testimony in which she said she overheard Peifer tell her husband, while drunk in Sawyer's saloon: "Me and Tom Brown just cut $36,000." This was stricken last week.

Another waiting to testify was Mrs. Georgette Winkler, widow of Gus Winkler, slain Capone lieutenant. Accompanied by a federal agent, she was brought into the courtroom to testify. Phosecutor Sullivan said that she met Peifer in the Winkler apartment in Chicago the day of the Hamm ransom split-up.

SLAYER OF HER BABY TAKES A CHANCE ON FREEDOM OR DEATH

Newburgh, N. Y., July 20.—[Special.]—Dorothy Sherwood, convicted mercy slayer of her 2 year old son, who spent five months in the death house at Sing Sing awaiting execution, elected today to gamble again with the electric chair, all or nothing, freedom or death.

Arraigned before Judge Bertram Wilson for hearing on her second trial, the woman who heard nine men shuffle up the corridor to the chair pleaded not guilty. She insisted on making this plea although District Attorney Henry Hirschberg had offered to allow her to plead guilty to first degree manslaughter before her first trial and indicated today that he would agree to her accepting a plea of second degree manslaughter in the forthcoming trial. Judge Wilson fixed the trial for September 14.

At the end of the short court session, Mrs. Sherwood, who claims that she drowned her baby in a "moment of depressive insanity" to "save him from starvation," was taken back to her cell in the Goshen jail.

QUIZ CALLAGHAN ABOUT 'SPYING' ON U. S. AGENTS

Secret Service Accused by J. Edgar Hoover.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—Thomas J. Callaghan, secret service agent in charge of the Chicago office, was questioned today by treasury officials who continued their inquiry into charges by J. Edgar Hoover that the secret service was "spying" upon his bureau of investigation. Harry Schaetzel, also of the Chicago office, likewise was questioned.

The two agents were asked about an alleged inquiry into the slaying of John Dillinger by Hoover's men. They were said to have questioned Chicago police about reports that the shooting was unwarranted and that Dillinger could have been captured without a shot.

Reports that the secret service had been investigating his agents and their quick-trigger tendencies caused Hoover to complain to Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau several weeks ago. Morgenthau ordered an investigation. When he said an apology would be forthcoming if it were found that the secret service had questioned the doings of the department of justice men, Hoover retorted that an apology would not satisfy him. He still insists upon dismissal of the men involved.

Grady Boatwright, agent in charge of the secret service office at St. Paul, already has made a detailed statement. Joseph Murphy, assistant chief of the secret service, said to have been named by Boatwright as the source of his "orders" to investigate the investigators, also is due for questioning.

COAST GUARD SPREADS HUNT FOR MOTORSHIP MISSING FOURTH DAY

Tampa, Fla., July 20.—(AP)—The United States coast guard extended its search for the missing British motor ship Nunoca outside the country's territorial waters today as the fourth day passed without word of the banana boat and the twenty-two persons aboard it.

The 110 foot craft left Georgetown, Grand Cayman Island, July 4 carrying nine Americans, four Britons, and a crew of eight, commanded by Capt. Moses I. Kirkconnell. It was due here July 9. It has no radio and was provisioned for only five days.

Coast guard officials believed the Nunoca might have developed engine trouble and made a safe but isolated anchorage or that it is drifting helplessly in the open sea.

SAFE BLOWERS' OUTFIT FOUND IN TWO AUTOS

A complete safe blowers' outfit was seized yesterday in two automobiles in a garage behind 1523 North Lotus avenue, by Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan and his bomb squad.

The safe cracking equipment included an acetylene tank and torches, an oxygen tank, eleven sticks of dynamite, half a pint of nitroglycerine, a dozen percussion caps, drills and a sledgehammer. Two shotguns, a rifle and three pistols also were found.

The police learned the garage was rented only two weeks ago but the woman who owns the property was out of the city on a vacation and could not be questioned. One of the automobiles, Chief Sullivan said, was reported stolen last month by LeRoy Woodland, an auditor for the Chicago park district.

HARBORS OF THE MIND

by CALEB

MOST of the great areas of land around the earth's warm and rotund middle have been the seats of great civilizations. Central and South Africa are excepted.

The probable accounting for this exception lies in that area's isolation. There are few African harbors except those on the north coast. And the southern areas of the Dark Continent are at great distances from other lands. Hot sand and dismal swamps lie between the Mediterranean and the land that civilization passed by.

Some one has pointed out that some human minds are like Central and South Africa in that their development is retarded through their isolation. Interesting people, who are also interested people, have harbors in their minds. What enters these harbors determines the degree of one's personal culture and civilization. Minds without harbors are passed by and their owners remain to that degree in mental darkness and isolation.

A young child has a mind circled entirely 'round with welcoming coves and harbors into which all manner of passing intelligence is invited. The minds of the greatest men remain in this wise child-like. Some people suffer from mental senility at twenty-one. Some people of eighty are still inviting mental traffic.

No one but the owner can keep the harbors of a mind open. If this is not diligently attended, rivers of routine deposit a drab alluvium where there should be deep and open harbors of refuge for new ideas.

Hobbies and avocations help keep minds open. Book collecting, for instance, particularly if one's tastes are catholic, helps keep the harbors free and clear. For as long as the traffic in these harbors is heavy they must of necessity be kept open.

We find the department store business a good one to prevent the development of minds into isolated and closely circumscribed mental islands. Here, if we permit deltas to form where harbors should be, there is a rude awakening. Either we do not remain in the department store business or we go through the painful and expensive necessity of mental dredging. Keeping open-minded and alert is much simpler, much easier, and more economic.

When our store ceases to have new things, new vistas, new arrangements and new ideas to fill the harbors of your mind, you will know that the harbors of ours are clogging up.

STRIKERS TEAR CLOTHING FROM GIRL EMPLOYE

Rioters Imprison 3 Others in Their Car.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 20.—[Special.]—Strikers tore clothing from a girl worker and kept three other girls imprisoned in their automobile for two hours today in a demonstration of organized labor at the Bennett-Hubbard candy plant, where a strike is in progress.

Approximately 25 nonunion workers entered the factory before the crowd of strikers and sympathizers gathered in an attempt to keep employés out. But four late comers were blocked by the crowd at the door.

One girl's dress was ripped almost off as eight policemen carried her inside the plant. The crowd milled around the automobile of three other girls and prevented them from leaving the car for two hours.

Pickets Circle Building.

In another demonstration pickets swarmed around the Pound building, where remodeling work was suspended last week because of a strike of the hod carriers' union. No disorder was reported there, however.

Strike leaders called the labor demonstrations last week and asserted they would be continued until some settlement of the disputes involved is made.

Erskine Mabee, secretary of the Chattanooga Trades and Labor council, asked all unionized workers to walk out on their jobs today in protest of the working conditions at the candy plant and at the Pound building. The candy workers seek recognition of their union, while employés at the Pound building want an increase in wages.

Strike Delays Pay Day.

Roxanna, Ill., July 20.—[Special.]—A pay roll of about $100,000 due for disbursement tomorrow to 2,200 employés of the Shell Oil company's refinery here will not be paid because of the strike of 750 operating engineers at the plant, it was disclosed today.

Company officials said the pay roll had not been prepared because of lack of clerical help. Office workers were given two weeks' vacations when the refinery shut down a week ago. The pay roll is for the period from July 1 to 12.

The strike was called July 12 by the engineers' union in protest of the discharge of an engineer by the company for assertedly sleeping on duty. The union denied the man slept.

Baby, 15 Months Old, Kills Brother with Milk Bottle

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 20.—(AP)—Robert Kummert, 15 months old, accidentally killed his brother, Jimmy, three months, as they played in a bed today. Jimmy had been struck with a milk bottle. Dr. A. P. Schaeffer said he died of a fractured skull.

350 AT INLAND STEEL PLANT ARE IN LEWIS' UNION, SAYS ORGANIZER

Van A. Bittner, head of the steel workers' organization committee in the Chicago district, said yesterday that 350 workers at the Chicago Heights plant of the Inland Steel company have joined the Amalgamated Asociation of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.

The committee, which is a branch of the committee for industrial organization formed by John L. Lewis, is campaigning to enroll the nation's half million steeel workers in the Amalgamated. Its activities are opposed by the American Federation of Labor as well as by the steel operators.

An official of the Inland company denied Bittner's assertion. "There are 400 workers at the Chicago Heights plant," he said, "and our information is that not more than 50 signed with the Amalgamated."

EVANSTON RELIEF FOLK MUST WORK, COUNCIL VOTES

Evanston moved to set up its own Works Progress administration last night when the city council passed an ordinance providing for jobs at 50 cents an hour for 250 able bodied men from the 859 families on relief in the suburb. The men will be put to work in the parks and on the beaches. Ald. A. E. Ashcraft of the 3d ward, chairman of the relief committee, was asked what would be done if the men refused to work.

"In that case," he said, "it might be a little difficult for them to get relief."

The council instructed George W. Craig, commissioner of public works, to devise plans for putting the men to work. They will be paid out of a fund of $336,623, of which $149,623 was voted for relief work on July 8. The balance is to come from the township's share of the state sales tax.

MURDER WARANT FOR MRS. FREED IS NOL PROSSED

A warant charging Mrs. Carmelia Freed with the murder of Audrye Vallette, party girl, was nol prossed yesterday by Judge Mathew D. Hartigan in Felony court at the request of Assistant State's Attorney Richard Regan. Although Regan would make no explanation it was understood the motion was taken so that Mrs. Freed could be held by the police for questioning when she is arrested. If she were served with the warant it would be necessary to turn her over to the county jail authorities. Mrs. Freed, suspected of being the killer, has been identified as the woman who left the apartment of Miss Vallette at 1211 North La Salle street shortly before the party girl was found shot to death. She is being sought by police, who don't know where she is.

'REBELS' DECIDE TODAY ON COURSE IN A. F. OF L. ROW

White House Spokesman Figures in Parley.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—Chiefs of the twelve "rebel" unions under the leadership of burly John L. Lewis, czar of the United Mine Workers, will meet here tomorrow to decide whether they will appear at their own trial for "fomenting insurrection" on Aug. 3 before the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

The twelve groups are in imminent danger of suspension from the A. F. of L. for starting an independent campaign to form an industrial or mass union of the 500,000 workers in the steel industry. The offensive precipitated the greatest civil crisis in the history of organized labor, for the majority of A. F. of L. leaders favor the building of unions along time honored craft lines.

Rebels Snub Peace Summons.

When the council convened ten days ago, Lewis and his recalcitrant followers, known as the C. I. O., or Committee for Industrial Organization, were asked to appear and negotiate for a settlement of the controversy. The CIO leaders contemptuously snubbed the offer in each case, and Lewis' answer was that the A. F. of L. had teamed up with the "steel barons."

The only recourse left to the executive council was to recognize the charges of insurrection laid before it formally by John P. Frey, president of the metal trades division, and summon the CIO leaders to trial. Suspension of the unions would mean outsting approximately a million members, or one-third the total membership of the A. F. of L.

White House in Hot Water.

Behind the conflict, watching developments anxiously, is the administration. The White House originally patted Lewis on the back when he started his steel campaign, but subsequently withdrew when the controversy threatened to become a boomerang that would split the labor vote for the election in November.

Lewis is the moving spirit behind labor's so-called "nonpartisan league," which is for Roosevelt. The nonpartisan leaguers have been kept busy of late denying that the industrial versus craft struggle had anything to do with their drive. They also have been forced to put a quietus on the growing report that the league, plus the masses of unskilled workers which the CIO expects to recruit, will be joined into a labor party committed to Lewis for President of the United States in 1940.

Seek to Organize Rayon Workers.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady was the most instrumental figure in staving off outright suspension of the unions without a trial last week, and his counseling is expected to count in the decision of the CIO tomorrow.

The United Textile Workers of America and the Synthetic Yarn Workers' federation have announced plans to organize the 55,000 workers in the rayon industry, starting Aug. 1. The drive will be aimed at the workers in the Du Pont, Tubize Chatillon, Viscose, Industrial Rayon, American Enka, American Mamberg, and other companies in the east and southeastern states.

The textile workers' unions are in the CIO. The announcement was made by Francis J. Gorman, vice president of the textile workers, who handled the textile strike two years ago which virtually closed down the industry.

CITY'S FIRE LOSSES UP $850,000; COLD, DRY SPELLS BLAMED

Cold weather during the first three months of 1936 and subnormal rainfall during the spring caused an increase of almost $850,000 in the city's fire losses in the first half of the year, Fire Marshal Michael J. Corrigan disclosed yesterday in the semiannual report of the fire department which he sent to Mayor Kelly.

Fires caused losses estimated at $2,850,000 up to July 1. In 1935, when a modern all-time low fire loss was recorded, the losses in the corresponding period were $2,019,932. There were 14,503 alarms this year as compared to 9,986 in the first half of 1935.

Despite the unfavorable comparison, Marshal Corrigan said the record of the department spoke for itself. He commented upon the unusual weather and noted that the statistics for this year had to be taken in comparison with a record year.

The personnel of the department was increased by 188 new firemen since Jan. 1. Eleven new fire stations are now under construction, several of which will be ready for occupancy within the next 60 days and all of which will be completed before winter.

MAYOR REPORTS STEADY DROP IN CHICAGO CRIME

Decrease Again Shown in First Half of Year.

Crimes committed in Chicago during the first half of 1936 were 29.7 per cent fewer than in the corresponding period last year, and 42.7 per cent fewer than in the first six months of 1934, Mayor Kelly announced yesterday. His figures were based on a report made to him by Police Commissioner Allman.

There were 22,253 crimes of all classifications in the six month period that ended last June 30 as compared with 31,680 in the comparable period last year, and 38,829 in the first half of 1934 according to the report.

Decrease in Crimes of Violence.

Allman's figures show, by a comparison of half year periods, that for the last three years there has been a steady decrease in such crimes of violence as murder and robbery as well as in the lesser crimes of burglary and larceny.

Mayor Kelly cited this comparative list of such crimes for the early months of each of the three years:

Murder	162	106	100
Robbery	6,726	5,256	2,931
Burglary	10,384	9,194	6,883
Larceny	8,585	8,368	6,943
All others	5,724	4,749	3,721

"These figures tell eloquently," Mayor Kelly said, "that Chicago is progressively becoming a better place to live.

Mayor Credits Coöperation.

"Several factors are responsible. There is close coöperation among all the various agencies in the city which are fighting crime. This should bring even further decreases.

"The major part of the credit, of course, belongs to the police department. These men, our first line of defense against enemies of society, are demonstrating by their energy and morale that Chicago is a poor haven for human beasts of prey."

U. S. EMPLOYES SEEK UNION AID TO FIGHT LOSS OF SEVEN JOBS

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—The justice department lodge of the American federation of government employés, in a statement tonight, said they would seek the support of the Washington Central Labor union in their charges that seven fingerprint employés of the federal bureau of investigation were dismissed for union activities.

The employés said Attorney General Cummings, after conferring with director J. Edgar Hoover and other officials of the F. B. I., had refused to give the union a hearing on its charges.

UNION WAR TIES UP HIGHWAY JOBS IN LAKE COUNTY

Work on state road projects totaling $2,000,000 in Lake county was halted yesterday by the walkout of 100 members of two unions—the hoisting engineers and the truck drivers'—because of a jurisdictional dispute between two other unions. The work suspended includes the extension of U. S. route 41, as well as several jobs of grading, bridge building, and resurfacing.

The dispute is between local 151 of the Hod Carriers, Building, and Common Laborers' union, headed by Anthony Rossi, and the new local 424 of the Street Laborers' union of Lake county, allegedly controled by Michael Carrozzo, head of the Street Laborers' union of Chicago. About 500 members of local 151 are now employed on the projects. Members of local 424 claim jurisdiction of all projects involving road work, but Rossi contends that they have jurisdiction only on asphalt paving jobs. The hoisting engineers and the truck drivers walked out in support of the demands of local 424.

Rossi said he would appeal to the American Federation of Labor to suspend the two striking unions for going out on an unauthorized strike.

I Crossed the Continent on a Cupful o' RED CROWN! ...boasts Kermit Kidder

"IT'S something of a hobby with me—crossing the continent is. But, old experienced continent-crosser that I am, do I have my eyes opened this Spring? I do!

"Always before, I make the trip by foot, figuring I'm money ahead if other folks buy the gasoline. This time, though, I get reckless. I decide to forget expense and go in my own car. 'But, Kermit,' I says to myself, 'don't go completely nuts all at once. Take it easy and gradual,' I says.

"That's sensible, so I start it off with just one tea-cupful of gasoline in the tank. And right there is where I get my eye-opener: It happens to be Red Crown gasoline that I buy. And do I have to make another single stop for gas the whole way across? I do not! That one cupful takes me coast to coast, and I even have trouble stopping the car when I get to the Golden Gate!"

We don't believe Kermit could really have been serious about this matter. In fact, we don't believe there is any such person.

It is a fact, though, that many motorists do have false or exaggerated ideas about gasoline mileage. That's why Standard Oil is conducting a great public road test this summer, in which thousands of motorists are taking part.

Reports already indicate that many are learning valuable new facts about the economical operation of their cars—discovering how to use gasoline more efficiently—finding out which brand of motor fuel does the best and cheapest job for them. Even if you aren't entered in the World's Greatest Road Test, it will pay you to

LEARN THE TRUTH ABOUT GASOLINE MILEAGE

Have your Standard Dealer fill your tank with Standard Red Crown. Then note carefully how many miles you drive before you need gasoline again. Compare that mileage with any you've ever gotten before.

We know from our own tests that Standard Red Crown is good for fully as long a mileage as any regular priced gasoline on the market. But rather than make claims, we prefer to let Standard Red Crown speak for itself.

STOCK EXCHANGE IN TOKIO CLOSED BY HEAVY SLUMP

Fear of Drastic Control Causes Price Drop.

TOKIO, July 21 [Tuesday].—(AP)—The Tokio Stock exchange suspended trading today because of a heavy slump, due to press reports that the government planned drastic reorganization of the stock exchanges, by which all would be placed under government control.

Official and financial circles also were stirred by reports of an agreement for a large American credit to China to buy airplanes, automobiles and railway rolling stock. The reports were contained in dispatches from Shanghai, printed in vernacular newspapers today.

A majority of the papers treated the reported plan as a menace to Japan's interests in China.

The Nichi Nichi's correspondent asserted that Arthur Campbell, a United States financial representative, and T. V. Soong, president of the Bank of China, signed the agreement July 15 at the United States consulate at Shanghai.

"Since the credit was virtually used to bolster China's national defense, Janan cannot overlook it," the newspaper said.

Linked to Silver Purchase.

Accounts of the reported agreement differed, but most of them said it was linked to the recent silver purchase program negotiated in Washington between Henry Morgenthau Jr., United States secretary of the treasury, and K. P. Chen of China. Under that plan the United States will purchase silver worth $26,000,000 from China in 1936.

[K. P. Chen, founder and general manager of the Shanghai Commercial and Savings bank, was a member of the official Chinese delegation which conducted mysterious negotiations with Washington officials for five weeks before the silver agreement was concluded. The decision to buy Chinese silver was announced May 18. Purchases started at once and the amounts would be kept secret, it was said. State department attachés at Washington said they knew nothing about reports of an agreement for an American credit to China to buy transportation equipment.]

Nichi Nichi asserted the new transaction "is far larger than the 100,000,000 Yuan Chinese-German agreement," reported by Japanese sources June 27, which was said to include purchase of about $30,000,000 of German products by China.

Hint Other Agreements.

It said the British firm of Arnhold and company and the British Hongkong-Shanghai Banking corporation participated in the Chinese-American negotiations at Shanghai, and that a British understanding which might include participation evidently was obtained.

The same newspaper asserted Chen, while returning from the United States, stopped at Manila and concluded a pact between China and the Philippines under which the islands would agree to restrict imports from Japan and increase purchases from China.

The correspondent declared "this pact contains further provisions which will surprise Japan."

The Tokio foreign office, newspapers said, was most disturbed over the reported Chinese-American agreement and ordered Japanese officials in China to investigate thoroughly.

An official spokesman, however, declined to comment, saying he lacked information.

Eight million Japanese residents from Tokio to Yokohama began gigantic "air defense maneuvers" yesterday. Under rigid army direction, the population was forced to submit to restrictions simulating war time. For four nights all lights in the area were ordered extinguished, theaters closed, and night trafic largely suspended.

JUDGE JAILS FOUR MOTORISTS FOR UNSAFE DRIVING

Four motorists were sent to the Bridewell by Judge Edgar A. Jonas in the Safety court yesterday. Judge Jonas presided over the court in the absence of Judge Gibson E. Gorman, who is on vacation. The four sentenced are:

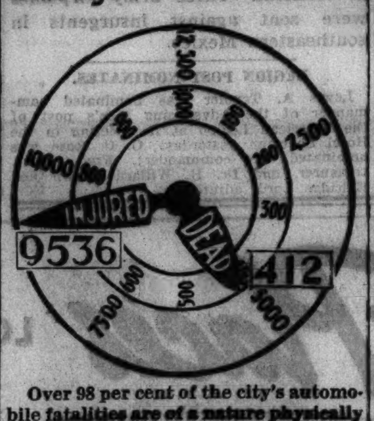
JOHN MELASKI, 24 years old, 2021 North Halsted street, 10 days for reckless driving.

Albert Spahn, 27 years old, 4426 North Kenneth avenue, surrendered in Safety court to start serving a three day term in the county jail for reckless driving. The sentence was imposed last Thursday by Judge Edward S. Scheffler, who granted Spahn's request that he be allowed to start his jail sentence yesterday, when his vacation began.

Michael Motzeck, 32 years old, 657 St. Clair street, who admitted he was the driver of the car during a police chase early yesterday, was arrested later in the day at his home and was charged with driving while intoxicated.

THE MASSACRE

Chicago's 1936 Trafic Toll



Over 98 per cent of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

CAPTURE FLEEING MOTORIST AFTER CAR HITS WOMAN

Edwin Tubbs, 29 years old, 425 Prairie avenue, Wilmette, a salesman for a publishing concern, was arrested last night as he fled after his automobile struck and seriously injured Mrs. Sidonia Ansay, 34 years old, 1140 Forest avenue, Evanston, in Ridge avenue near Crain street, in the suburb.

Riding in another car behind Tubbs was Gordon Christensen, 21 years old, 845 Ainslie street, a junior at the University of Iowa. He pursued Tubbs' car, forced it to the curb, and held the driver until police arrived. Tubbs was held at the Evanston police station on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Mrs. Ansay was taken to the St. Francis hospital.

Theodore Machatta, 41 years old, 2120 North California avenue, a WPA worker, died early today in the Little Company of Mary hospital from injuries suffered last night when he was struck by an automobile as he ran to board a street car at 103d street and Western avenue. The driver of the car was Kenneth Heatley, 2426 Grove street, Blue Island, son of Police Magistrate George Heatley of that suburb.

Michael Zaglobo, 65 years old, 5230 West 30th place, Cicero, a newspaper vendor, died yesterday in the Berwyn hospital from injuries incurred Sunday night when he was struck by the car of Capt. Martin Wojciechowski of the Cicero police, at 29th place and 52d avenue in Cicero, after walking from behind another automobile.

Capt. Wojciechowski, who lives at 4850 West 28th street, Cicero, is a former chief of police in the suburb. He said Zaglobo was an old acquaintance and expressed sorrow at his death.

Robert Moynihan, 3 years old, 644 West 49th street, was fatally injured yesterday when he was struck at Union and 49th street by the truck of Eward Boighes, 3500 Wallace street, Steger, a driver for the Austgen Express company of Chicago Heights.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 532 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 412 were killed in Chicago. In the same period 9,536 were injured within the city limits.

MEXICAN STRIKE DEADLOCK IS PUT UP TO CARDENAS

Labor Department Official Abandons Negotiations.

MEXICO CITY, July 20.—(AP)—Mexico City's power strike was tossed definitly in the lap of President Lazaro Cardenas tonight.

José Cantu Estrada, secretary general of the labor department, who has been active in the negotiations between the foreign owned Mexican Light and Power company, and 3,000 striking employés, declared:

"We are through. It is up to the presidential palace now."

G. R. C. Conway, company president, telephoned the president in Coahuila, explaining the company's efforts to reach a wage agreement and reiterating its willingness to accept arbitration.

However, the labor law makes arbitration compulsory only for the employers and voluntary for the workers. The latter were said to be determined to hold out "for their principles."

Water Power Restored.

Syndicate leaders who today completed restoration of water power and street lighting in outlying suburbs predicted the strike would last at least another week.

The newspaper Noticias Graficas heard reports that President Cardenas is returning to Mexico City, but these were not immediately confirmed.

Labor department lawyers, it was learned, were of the opinion the president had the constitutional power to attach power plants provisionally under a legal clause empowering the sanitation department to act dictatorially in a health emergency. The company, some believed, would not object to such a step.

Debate General Shutdown.

While chambers of commerce and merchants in the federal district and the surrounding zone affected by the strike debated a general closing of business, the newly formed confederation of the middle class proceeded with plans for a consumers' demonstration against the strike.

This drew the fire of the workers' syndicate, which in a newspaper advertisement pointed out a conciliation board had decided the strike was justified, and warned the confederation: "We are ready at the least provocation to force respect for our right."

Last Filipino Bandit Chief Captured After 4 Years

MANILA, P. I., July 20.—(AP)—Lole de la Rosa, last of the Filipino bandit leaders, was captured today by constabulary men at San Miguel, De Mayumo province. He had been hunted for four years.

SEVEN ARABS KILLED IN RAID ON TOURISTS; 2 AMERICANS ESCAPE

JERUSALEM, July 20.—(AP)—Seven Arabs were reported slain today in an attack on a convoy proceeding toward Jerusalem from the Dead sea. The convoy suffered no casualties. A Mr. and Mrs. Braverman, said to be tourists from Cleveland, O., were in a bus which was a part of the convoy.

Braverman said a bullet smashed a bus window at which he and his wife were seated. Neither was touched, however.

"Looking over the sill of the bus," he said, "I saw an airplane come to the aid of the convoy and drop two bombs, then fly low and machine gun the Arabs, who were about 300 yards away. I did not know until later that seven were killed."

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, July 20.—Stay-in strikes began today on a number of large farms around Paris and in the north as preparations were made for harvesting. No disturbances were reported, although some gendarmes had to intervene to protect milk distribution. In a number of cases settlements were reached between the workers and farmers.

Near Meux sixty farmers employing about 1,200 workers were affected. The cattle and horses were fed as usual and the cows were milked. In most cases the local authorities were mediators.

Henri Dorgers, leader of the peasant movement, said tonight that his organization would not interfere between the strikers and employers, but would decide what action to take if the harvest was seriously imperiled.

TURKISH TROOPS MOVE INTO ZONE AT DARDANELLES

Cheers of Populace Greet Military Reoccupation.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 21 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Turkish fighting men, numbering 50,000, began moving into the zone around the Dardanelles early today to the cheers and demonstrations of the populace of the area.

Foot soldiers and cavalrymen, accompanied by motorized artillery, advanced into the region, demilitarized since the Lausanne treaty of 1923 which followed Turkey's successful war with Greece.

Re-occupation of both sides of the straits was expected to be completed by midday.

Buildings throughout Turkey were decorated in celebration of the remilitarization. Citizens danced in the streets after listening to radio reports of the signing of the treaty at Montreux, Switzerland.

Pay Tribute to Ataturk.

Paying tribute to what they regarded President Kamal Ataturk's greatest international accomplishment, the people overflowed into the public squares, gardens, and thoroughfares, and listened to bands and orchestras playing patriotic airs.

The government used wireless telegraph and even old fashioned news criers to carry the word to all corners of Turkey.

The national assembly was convoked for July 30 to ratify the convention, adopt new regulations for the straits, and vote additional appropriations for fortification of the region.

Ten Nations Give Approval.

MONTREUX, Switzerland, July 20.—(AP)—Ten nations gave final approval late tonight to a new Dardanelles convention, permitting Turkish troops to enter the area surrounding the straits, demilitarized since 1923.

Japan, one of the signatories of the Lausanne treaty under which the zone was demilitarized, was the only nation to make reservations in signing the convention.

Under Article 19 of the new agreement, the straits—which separate European and Asiatic Turkey—will be closed to warships of belligerent nations unless they are serving under league mandate or helping a victim of aggression under a mutual assistance pact concluded within the league's framework and to which Turkey is a party.

Japan, as a non-member of the league, declared she cannot necessarily be bound by such arrangements.

Observers interpreted the Japanese statement as meaning that, in the event of a Russo-Japanese war, Japan reserves the right to protest against the departure of a Russian fleet from the Black sea by authority of the league.

GIANT CLIPPER FLIES FROM PORTO RICO TO TRINIDAD IN 4 HOURS

PORT-OF-SPAIN, Trinidad, July 20.—(AP)—The new 32 passenger express clipper of Pan-American Airways flew here in four hours today from San Juan, Porto Rico, 636 miles away.

Capt. Carl Dewey kept the big flying boat at an altitude of 9,500 feet most of the distance. The Virgin Islands and the Lesser Antilles, important stops on the regular route from Miami to South America, were mere dots through cloud openings in the flight today.

The ship flew from Miami to San Juan yesterday. The third day's flight, tomorrow, will take the ship from here past Venezuela and the three Guianas, to Para, Brazil.

EDWARD VIII. WILL GIVE FIRST PARTY IN GARDEN TODAY

Binghams Are Sponsors for American Group.

BY ANN WHITTINGHAM.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 20.—King Edward VIII. of England tomorrow will give the first of two garden parties in the grounds of Buckingham palace. These parties will take the place of the usual courts during the season of mourning for the late King George.

Today 2,000 anxious persons watched threatening skies in the hope the sun will shine tomorrow. If it rains beforehand the reception will be held in the state apartments in the palace. However, if rain falls while the reception is in progress the party will be abandoned and many debutantes will have to console themselves with the thought that in the records of the lord chamberlain their names have been entered as having been presented.

Full Mourning to End.

The first garden party marks the end of full mourning for the late king and from now on the court will be in half mourning, which releases it from somber black and substitutes black and white and mauves. The general public is not expected to observe half mourning, however, and debutantes will appear in lovely goassamerlike gowns in pastel shades and with parasols, flowers, and picture hats.

No American debutantes are being presented and Robert W. Bingham of Kentucky, United States ambassador to London, will be the only man in the American group attending the party.

Ambassador and Mrs. Bingham will sponsor a group of about twenty American women, including Mrs. Daniel C. Roper of South Carolina, wife of the United States secretary of commerce, and Mrs. William A. Julian of Ohio, wife of the treasurer of the United States, who will curtsey before the king.

Roper Arrival Too Late.

Secretary Roper will arrive tomorrow night on the liner Manhattan at Plymouth, but the ship will not reach port in time for him to attend the party. Lynn W. Meckins, American commercial attaché, will go to Plymouth to greet Mr. Roper.

The only other actual presentations to be made by Mrs. Bingham will be Mrs. Martin F. Scanlan, wife of Lieut. Col. Scanlan, newly appointed attaché for air at the American embassy, and Mrs. Julius A. Furer, wife of Capt. Furer, newly appointed assistant naval attaché.

Other American women who will go to the party but will not be presented include Mrs. Hiram Bingham Jr., formerly Miss Rose Morrison of Waycross, Ga., niece of Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis, wife of the U. S. senator from Illinois; Mrs. Raymond Lee, wife of Lieut. Col. Lee, American military attaché; Mrs. Hayes A. Kroner, wife of Lieut. Col. Kroner, assistant military attaché; Mrs. Walter S. Anderson, wife of Capt. Anderson, naval attaché; Mrs. Leslie C. Stevens, wife of Lieutenant Commander Stevens, assistant naval attaché, and Mrs. Homer S. Fox, wife of the assistant commercial attaché.

Mrs. William de Burgh Whyte, daughter of Frederick T. Vaux of Chicago and the late Mrs. Vaux, will present her elder daughter, Mrs. Roderick Walter, and her second daughter, Miss Joan Whyte.

Machado, Ousted Dictator of Cuba, Returns to Canada

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., July 20.—Gerardo Machado, former president and dictator of Cuba, who fled for his life from that republic to Montreal three years ago, is back here again. Accompanied by his secretary, he arrived here secretly on the liner Lady Somers from Bermuda. He has been granted a permit to stay in Canada not more than sixty days. His previous stay here embarrassed the Canadian government.

RIVER "BOOTLEGGER" JAILED.

Moline, Ill., July 20.—[Special.]—Because he bootlegged from his cabin boat home in the Mississippi river, Ira Brenner of Rock Island today was sent to the county jail for 40 days in lieu of a $200 fine imposed in police court when he was found guilty of selling liquor at retail without a license. Police raided his boat and found a bottle of hooch.

DOMINIONS TO AID PLANS TO CROWN BRITISH MONARCH

Ruler Sets Precedent with Special Body.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 20.—For the first time in British history a special body has been set up so the dominions may be represented in making certain arrangements for the coronation ceremony for King Edward VIII. of England on May 12, 1937.

It was officially announced tonight that King Edward has appointed a special commission in recognition of the "equal interests of the dominions with the United Kingdom in those aspects of the coronation which are of general concern and with the object of harmonizing ancient tradition with modern constitutional requirements."

Dominions in New Status.

Setting up the special commission results from the fact that since the coronation of the late King George V. of England the dominions have acquired a new status under the statute of Westminster.

The duke of York, Edward's brother, is chairman of the new commission, which includes members of the privy council, the coronation committee, the prime ministers of Canada, the Union of South Africa, New Zealand and Australia and the high commissioners to London from those countries.

The first meeting of the commission will be held at St. James's palace at an early date.

It was learned tonight that President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State has declined the British invitation to appoint a Free State representative on the coronation commission. It is understood he has decided the Free State will take no official part in the ceremony.

May Delay Vacation.

LONDON, July 20.—(AP)—King Edward, it was learned tonight, may delay his vacation on the French Riviera for a few days.

The king, who tonight completed his first six months on the throne, was understood to be contemplating returning to London to conduct state business after Sunday's dedication ceremony at the Canadian monument erected on Vimy ridge.

There was no question, authoritative sources said, of calling off the vacation entirely. The king has arranged to occupy the Villa l'Horizon of the American actress, Maxine Elliot, near Cannes.

U. S. Trip Considered.

Reports, emanating from court circles, indicate the bachelor king has set his heart on a trip to Canada and probably to the United States after his coronation next May.

If the plan is carried out, he would go to Ottawa and then to his favorite E. P. ranch in Alberta, returning by way of New York. Traveling as the "Duke of Lancaster," the monarch would stop with friends on Long Island and might call on President Roosevelt in Washington.

He would be the first English king to visit the United States, although as prince of Wales he made three trips to that country.

REVEALS BRITISH ARMS FACTORIES ARE SPEEDING UP

LONDON, July 20.—(AP)—Great Britain's regular sources of munitions supply are being worked to the utmost capacity, Sir Thomas Inskip, defense coördination minister, said today in revealing preparedness activity before the house of commons. He added that the government had offered munitions contracts to 52 firms and 14 had accepted.

The shell filling factory at the Woolwich arsenal, Sir Thomas said, will be moved from the vulnerable Thames river mouth and reassembled as three separate units. One unit will be erected in South Wales and the others in Lancashire and an unnamed site in Scotland.

Another shell filling factory will be brought into "full operation" in Hereford, he said, while the government will acquire a gun factory in Nottingham in connection with the reorganization of air defenses.

Seven-eighths of Great Britain's total requirements of shells, fuses, and cartridge cases can be provided by government factories, regular sources, and new firms, Sir Thomas declared. He added, "a great advance has been made in the last eight weeks for the provision of gauges of all types."

Sir Thomas said the government was finding difficulty in recruiting for the army, and he said he regretted that the regular territorial armies were under-strength.

THOUSANDS HEAR CROAT LEADER DEFY SERBIANS

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

ZAGREB, Jugo-Slavia, July 20.—The Croat peasant defense force, the military organization admittedly formed for defense against the "Serbian aggressor," held a public demonstration for the first time yesterday and was reviewed by Vladimir Matchek, Croat leader.

The occasion was Matchek's birthday. He received the salute at his farm in Kupinec, where several thousand villagers and peasant presented him with a suit in the Croat national style. Then he drove the twenty miles from Kupinec to Zagreb through an unbroken line of peasant admirers.

Do Not Earn Bread "for Others."

In a speech he warned: "God, indeed, said we must earn our bread by the sweat of our brows, but not that our brows should sweat in order that others should eat our bread. That is why we must organize against the foreign oppressor."

This was a sharp reference to those who, a few years ago, Matchek characterized as "our Serbian brothers."

A new feature in the celebration in Zagreb was an expression of adherence to Matchek's Croat movement by the peasants of Slovenia.

"We Slovene and Croat peasants must fight together for a free Croatia and a free Slovenia," Dr. Dobovicek, Slovene leader, declared in a speech.

3 U. S. Battleships Reach France on Training Trip

CHERBOURG, France, July 20.—(AP)—The United States battleships Arkansas, Wyoming, and Oklahoma arrived here today with 1,140 midshipmen on their annual training cruise. The naval academy students will spend a week sightseeing in France. They have already visited Portsmouth, England, and Gothenburg, Sweden. A reception for the men by Cherbourg and French naval officials has been arranged for Wednesday, and the battleships will sail for Annapolis, Md., on July 27.

BOY, 4, HURT IN FALL.

Robert Cavada, 4 years old, 1736 Sedgwick street, was critically injured yesterday when he fell from a second floor porch at his home. He was taken to the Augustana hospital.

ONLY 'KIDDING' IN HER JIBE ABOUT WOMEN, AMY MOLLISON SAYS

SHEFFIELD, England, July 20.—(AP)—Amy Johnson Mollison explained today she was just "kidding" when she said "women have never been up to any good."

The remarks of the famous woman pilot, who brought a gasp of astonishment from her audience at a women's engineering society dinner last Friday night, were designed to "instill a little pep" in the meeting, she declared.

"Why, I had my tongue in my cheek," she asserted. "Of course, I am a feminist. I believe women have had a great past and will have a great future."

She explained that when she became president of the engineering society she made up her mind that "Our dinners would not be boring—so I decided to liven up the proceedings a bit."

"I'm surprised my words were not understood as a joke. Certainly I believe in women."

[Her previous statement, which she explained, was: "Women have never been up to any good. My candid opinion of the species, obtained from history, is that they have created little and destroyed much."]

COLOMBIA HIT BY NEW TEMBLORS; THOUSANDS FLEE

BOGOTA, Colombia, July 20.—(AP)—New earthquakes late last night destroyed the few buildings left standing at Tuquerres in southwest Colombia. Most of the other buildings in the city were shaken down by earthquakes late last week.

Thousands of inhabitants of Tuquerres and Pasto, the famous center of the Panama hat industry, also hit by a series of quakes, were moving into the interior away from the danger spots.

A Red Cross mission from Equador arrived in the area with food, medicine and money. The number of casualties has not yet been determined.

New Conspiracy Trial of Porto Ricans Scheduled

SAN JUAN, P. R., July 20.—(AP)—Eight Nationalists, on whose case a jury failed to agree, are to be tried a second time for alleged conspiracy to overthrow the government of the United States in Porto Rico. Federal Judge Robert A. Cooper set July 27 as the new trial date after the jury reported a deadlock yesterday.

THREE MEXICAN REBEL LEADERS SLAIN BY TROOPS

MEXICO CITY, July 20.—(AP)—Three rebel leaders in Durango state were slain in recent encounters with government forces, the war department announced today.

Trinidad Mora, said to have used the title brigadier-general in command of Durango rebel operations; Balo Reyes, self-named lieutenant-colonel, and Cruz Campos died while resisting an attack by police and soldiers on their headquarters in the state capital.

A fourth leader, Eopoldo Campos, was captured. Documents found in the house indicated most of the Durango rebel bands operated under Mora's orders, the war department reported.

Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho, under secretary of war, arrived in Villahermosa, Tabasco, to investigate reports of an armed movement against the government. Three army airplanes were sent against insurgents in southeastern Mexico.

LEGION POST NOMINATES.

Lewis A. Tendler was nominated commander of the Advertising Men's post of the American Legion at its meeting in the Hotel Sherman yesterday. O. C. Rose was nominated vice commander; Fred Marx, treasurer, and Dr. H. Willard Brown and Eldridge Lord, adjutants.

CIVIL WAR IN SPAIN.

The TRIBUNE was fortunate in getting Jay Allen's eyewitness account of the invasion of Spain by the African troops of Gen. Franco, his Moors, Moroccans, black troops, and foreign legionaires. Mr. Allen is fortunate in not having a bullet or two in him. He was caught in the fighting at La Linea, which the invaders took after landing at Algeciras. That gave him his story, but there were twenty-three bullet holes in his car and one in the shoulder of his driver.

The picture of Spanish workers rising with arms to help repel the African army of the clique of generals recalls another picture, of Kerensky returning from flight at the head of the Cossacks to suppress the bolshevists. That was the moment when the communist revolution hung in the balance. When Kerensky, deserted by his troops, fled again, the bolos started to liquidate the aristocracy, the intellectuals, and the bourgeoisie.

The moderates were engulfed in the first rush as Russia went under the terror which was not to be lifted or mitigated for long years of suffering. Upon the outcome of fighting now in progress the fate of Spain would seem to depend. It is reasonable to expect that the winner will come out with an intense bitterness. All tolerance of opposition may be lost.

The extremists among the republican elements may gain ground and control if the attempt to overthrow the republic with Africans fails. If unsuccessful it will be unforgivable. The excesses of the radicals may be beyond restraint. It was so in Russia.

The few people in the world who still have their heads should try to keep them. This goes here.

DOG IN THE MANGER.

Some months ago the eastern railways announced that they would offer the public collection and delivery service on small lots of merchandise. Under the plan a phone call would bring a railway truck to the patron's place of business or residence to receive freight for any point in the country. At destination the package or packages would be delivered, also by a railway truck, to the residence, warehouse, or factory of the consignee. There was to be no added charge for this service. The cost of trucking was to be absorbed in railway freight rates.

By a show of opposition that approached the theatrical, truckers, principally in New York City, succeeded in persuading the interstate commerce commission to enjoin the railways temporarily from making the convenience effective. The public wanted it and the railways offered it, but truck men foresaw the loss of a substantial advantage that they have always held.

To guide it in reaching a final decision in the matter the interstate commerce commission is holding hearings. It may be noted, however, that the great bulk of the data that is being assembled comes from the city of New York, and there are a hundred reasons why New York opinions are misleading and should be disregarded by the commission.

First and foremost, transportation conditions in New York are not representative of American standards. The city has outgrown its site and become a bottleneck. It may truly be said that the cost of freight collection and distribution in the New York metropolitan area is the most expensive transportation in America, and possibly in the world. Only three trunk railways actually reach the city on their own rails. To combat this deficiency traffic is lightered to piers around the harbor and ultimately reaches the consignee by various combinations of transportation methods. Efficiency is impossible and is replaced by expediency. It is not a matter of effecting delivery economically, but rather a problem of getting it done at all. Antiquated methods persist because of lack of space to change them. It may be recalled as a parallel that for a long period of years archaic horse cars existed only on New York streets and in the Smithsonian institution.

The proceeding emphasizes one of the infirmities of regulation. Because the modernization of railway service appears to be too expensive in New York the interstate commerce commission delays transport evolution in other cities and towns where no hampering congestion exists. According to the fine spun theories of burocracy New York is entitled to the same brand of service as better planned communities. Therefore the latter must wait for improvement until a solution to the New York tangle is devised. Regulation invariably standardizes on mediocrity.

"THEY DO IT BETTER HERE IN ENGLAND."

Dr. Felix Frankfurter of Harvard and Washington has been passing a number of weeks pleasantly in Oxford and London. Dr. Frankfurter is one of the most active, although not one of the most talkative, of Mr. Roosevelt's advisers. His school of young career men in Washington, trained by him to get into key places and control legislation, is known as the school of red hots. The red hots were at the elbows of congressmen who had introduced White House bills they did not understand and couldn't explain.

These young men trained by Dr. Frankfurter were all over Capitol Hill during the sessions of the Seventy-third and Seventy-fourth congresses, and, although a few congressmen got mad at them, no one could get rid of them. They dominated committee meetings, gave the "must" orders and rode herd in the great experiment of trying everything once.

The intellectuals of the revolution make it a practice to withdraw during a political campaign. Mr. Farley takes charge to clap the voter on the back heartily and knock his hat down over his eyes. It is no time for hair raising. If the intellectuals took an active part they would say things to frighten the people. Mr. Farley sounds the dominant note and the people are to say to themselves that anyway it's only Tammany and spoils politics which needn't seriously alarm any one.

Dr. Frankfurter retired to England, where there is marked admiration of Mr. Roosevelt. As the London Times says, "he is a gentleman," and moreover, although this is not said, he isn't doing Great Britain any harm. The visiting American intellectual is in congenial company abroad. He was asked what he thought of the progress of the American campaign and replied that it was too early to form an opinion, adding: "I think our election campaigns are much too long. Four or five months of campaigning serves no purpose. They do it better here in England, where only two or three weeks of campaigning precedes an election."

They do it even better in Germany, where, with nothing preceding an election except a night's sleep, Herr Goering can write the election returns. There is a seaboard section of America where the opinion prevails that they do it better in England, whatever it is. In this section arose the remark that Mr. Landon, whom the London Times describes as "ineradicably middle western," was only a governor of a typical prairie state.

Apparently the campaign in America, where they do not do it as well as in England, presents in the Democratic corner a gentleman and in the Republican a middle westerner who probably thinks the British might pay something on account.

A DIAGRAM OF "THE LIBERAL MIND."

A proposed amendment to the Indiana state constitution will be submitted in the November election. It provides: "The militia shall consist of all able bodied male persons, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, except such as may be exempted by the laws of the United States, or of this state; and shall be organized, officered, armed, equipped, and trained in such manner as may be provided by law."

The liberal minded throughout the country do not like it. One commentator finds it difficult to realize that this is "peacetime, presumably 'free' America" and sees a Wabash Hitler coming to the front of the Reichswehr. The proposed amendment would seem to permit the legislature to organize and equip the militia. It would be expensive to equip all men of military qualification. It could be done only by law passed by a majority of representatives elected by the people who themselves would be affected. It concerns only the state of Indiana and would not be a law for Pennsylvania. It would not draw any money from any other state or be imposed on any other.

The liberal state of mind is less explicable than usual, which means that it is deep in a London particular of a fog. When social legislation is considered in congress the liberal axiom is that the representatives of the people can safely be trusted not to perpetrate outrages against the people who elect them. Therefore, restraints imposed upon the legislative power working in social justice are more than unreasonable; they are not to be tolerated. It was of no consequence to the proponents of this theory that congress deals with many states and that it may if unrestrained injure one to help another just as it may discriminate between individual citizens, giving one an unmerited advantage and another an unjust injury.

The country has been told that congress will not do unjust and foolish things because it is too directly responsible. Three years' experience says otherwise, but the liberal minded maintain the point when it suits their purpose. Then when it is proposed in Indiana, within the restricted field of one state where public opinion can control whenever the masses of the people are affected, the forward looking gentry jump the fence and assume that the legislators would conscript the population and put Hitler in charge. The liberal minded want what they want when they want it and no one should want anything they do not.

Editorial of the Day

DOLLARS YESTERDAY, PRAYERS TODAY.

[Bucyrus (O.) Telegraph-Forum.]

Among newspaper pictures being dispatched over the country from the drouth stricken middle west are those showing farmers offering prayers to heaven for deliverance from absolute ruin. Two of these pictures were carried in Monday night's edition of the Telegraph-Forum. One showed a lone South Dakota farmer standing in the center of what was intended to be a corn field. His arms were outstretched toward the sky. The other was that of a whole Illinois family kneeling beside a pile of hay.

Both pictures, and similar ones which have come to our attention, have an appeal to public sympathy, but underneath the sympathy the thought persists that some of those who are praying to God today turned aside from his teachings and destroyed that for which they are now praying to support foolish theories and collect large sums of easy money. When agents for the AAA went among them and offered them handsome royalties to prevent normal production on their farms they forgot the parable of the talents. They ignored the ancient teaching that to waste is to sin. So overcome were they with the New Deal's sales talk that they overlooked the relationship between waste and unnecessary nonproduction. Yesterday it was dollars. Today it is prayers. They are turning now to the God whose word they turned against one, two, and three years ago.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

AMERICA will not be much interested in the Spanish revolution, civil war, or battle royal or whatever it is going on over there now. Our tourists don't go in great droves to Spain as they do to Paris. Spanish cocktails are horrible things and the brandy they sell in Spain—well, look at the effect it's having even on the natives there right now; making them chase each other up and down the streets with butcher knives and bayonets and frying pans.

ALFONSO, who used to be king of Spain, must read news from there these days and feel very thankful that he's far away from it all. Some of the royalists in Spain are talking of putting Alfonso back on the throne, but they'll have to run Alfonso down first, throw and hog tie him and carry him back if they ever do get him to return. The king business in Spain, as far as Alfonso is concerned, is just no job at all.

THE TROUBLE with Spain, France, and the other European countries generally is that they take their politics a mite too seriously. When some excited man jumps out on a balcony and harangues a mob and calls the opposition party liars, assassins, thieves, and pickpockets the mob start right out tearing down buildings and shooting up the town. Over here in the U. S. A. we listen to a speaker and if he says our favorite candidate is a fiend in human form and that his father stole sheep we just say, "Oh, baloney; Willie turn the dial and tune in a good jazz band."

TEMPUS, EDAX RERUM!

The ships of Tarshish are no more,
The olden tribes of Phutt and Lud
Are sunken in the sand and mud
Along some unrevealing shore:

And all the cities near the seas,
Once lofty as the timeless Tyre,
Are shaken down or burned with fire
'Til not a trace remains of these.

The singers from the court of Saul,
With all of Dagon's dancing girls
Of honey scents and golden curls
Are little rings of dust—All, all!

None mark exactly the place of Ur,
Nor Susa in the blazing sun,
For death has come to every one
Trailed over by the bramble-burr.

Or if men seek to find the source
Of racial rivers west and east,
They come not on the great nor least—
Only the willows by a watercourse.

ABORIGINE.

IT WAS VERY EXCITING to see the picture of Share-the-Wealth Lemke making a speech to his devoted followers at their Cleveland convention and waving a handful of currency. But I didn't see a companion picture of Mr. Lemke sharing the currency with devoted followers or even with the newspaper photographers or the band.

JUST WHEN does this share-the-wealth thing start, anyhow? I've got a couple of pairs of old suspenders and a very much used automobile that I would like to share with somebody that has a new twenty-four cylinder limousine and a lovely château in the White mountains.

WISDOM.

The old, the very old, are meek and kindly;
They have much time; so dear the words of friends!
But we, the young, pursue so rudely, blindly,
The busy road that lures, but never ends.

That we might too, be wise, ere noon's high glory
Becomes a memory of days far gone!
That we might take the time to read the story

THOMAS CURTIS CLARK.

NOW THAT the genial rains filter softly down on us now and then we shall begin to get accustomed to them once more. But not yet. I saw a lot of people who were in bathing on the Lincoln park beach Sunday utter shrill yelps of dismay when a sudden rain fell on them. "Oh, it's raining, it's raining!" they shouted in horror, and waded out of the lake and got under cover as quickly as they could. Otherwise they might have got their bathing suits wet. Or something like that. Humans are mighty hard to understand.

"PELTIER'S COMET, Spectacular Visitor of Sky, Visible Tuesday Night."—Headline. Tut, tut, tut! Comets are most disturbing things. So many gentlemen will come in noisily at the front door tonight and explain, "Had to sthay out tonight, m'y dear, to shee old Misher Pessher's comet. Fine thing, old Misher Pessher's comet; wouldn't have misshed seein' it for shousand dollars."

THE VERSIFIER, CONFOUNDED.

I cannot work distracted as I am
By fattened ladies walking through the trees,
By windy maples, flippant Haitians,

Is chittering about a worm; a mare
Is jingling bells before a yellow cart;
A kitten tastes the sleepy morning air.

And sure, I could list on into the night:
With such a plethora of sound and sight
I find myself confounded. I can see
Why Proust pulled down the shades to write a tale,
And Bunyan made his masterpiece in gaol.

WHEN INFECTION DESTROYS BONE.

SOME of us are likely to think of bone as almost indestructible. It is hard and contains a large amount of mineral matter—calcium and phosphorus. Organic material, however, is present in considerable quantities and living bone is subject to infection almost as readily as any other sort of tissue. In other words, whenever bacteria find their way into the marrow canal they may grow, form pus, and create havoc generally.

This is the condition known as osteomyelitis, which develops whenever bacteria are carried by the blood to the growing portion of the bone. Of course, the situation must be ripe for their rapid multiplication, otherwise they will die. We must recall that bones can become diseased whenever bacteria gain entrance through fractures, gunshot wounds, or other varieties of external injuries. But in such cases the surgical problem is quite different.

The organism which is chiefly responsible for osteomyelitis is the staphylococcus which causes most of our boils and carbuncles. Sometimes the streptococcus is involved, and if so, the situation is somewhat more dangerous, as this type of infection may spread to various organs of the body. In other words, it is disinclined to remain in one particular tissue.

Physicians and parents can do much if they will keep the possibility of bone abscesses in mind when dealing with illness in growing children. Youngsters are more prone to disease if they are undernourished, lack sufficient sunshine, or possess a low resistance. Injuries in the vicinity of joints may invite infection.

Bones function in two very important ways. Not only do they support the muscles, blood vessels, and nerves and determine the posture of the body but the tissue that lies within their hollow canals [marrow] manufactures blood cells.

Let us assume that tonsillitis or some other bacterial invasion has poured microbes into the blood stream. Some of these organisms may lodge in a bony canal. The age of the patient so affected as a rule will be under 18 and the bones more commonly involved will be those of the thigh, the lower leg, and the arm.

What may happen? Bacteria will multiply, pus will form, and the pressure of the confined abscess be attended with great pain, which is more intense near a joint. The patient usually holds the limb rigidly, as movement causes suffering. The temperature is high, the pulse rapid, and the white cells of the blood will be found to be increased greatly in number. Curiously enough, the X-ray will not disclose the presence of the gathering pus, as it is only after the destruction of the bone has proceeded for ten days or more that a radiograph will be of value.

The possibility of osteomyelitis should always be thought of whenever a growing child complains of severe pain near a joint, accompanied by a rise in temperature. If the situation is not immediately recognized pus may burrow through the bone and be held for a time beneath its covering [periosteum].

Hot packs, the use of salicylates, or any other remedy of value in acute rheumatism will prove unavailing, and the only treatment is to release the confined pus. Within recent years the method of management proposed by H. W. Orr has been accepted widely. He found that there was no advantage in keeping the wound surgically clean and that the presence of a foul smelling discharge carried with it certain healing qualities. After the abscess has been opened the limb is fixed in a plaster cast and the wound packed with vaseline saturated gauze. Fewer deformities and more perfect and rapid healing have followed the adoption of this procedure. The thing to avoid is the development of a chronic form of the disease, in which repeated operations may be demanded.

Again we must repeat the dictum that bed rest in the presence of any type of infection is curative regardless of other remedies that may be employed.

SUDDEN CHILLING.

V. T. writes: Is there any danger to health when the temperature drops suddenly? What can be done to aid comfort?

REPLY.

Sudden drops in temperature place a severe burden on the powers of adjustment of the body. Skin capillaries contract rapidly forcing a large quantity of blood into the abdominal organs. Sweat and sebaceous glands cease their functions as the skin is frequently chilled. The effects of chilling are well known and, in certain cases, kidney disease may arise as the result of prolonged congestion; the heart must work harder in order to maintain normal temperature, and there is a greater demand on foods stored in the muscles and the liver. Digestion may be slowed down considerably, or may even cease for a time. A drop of 30 to 40 degrees in the temperature of the air is generally followed by a high percentage of colds and similar symptoms.

There are two things to do: [1] Don more clothing and thus retain body heat; [2] keep active.

On the other hand, a sudden rise in temperature is attended with very little danger other than discomfort. The reason is that sweat glands open and rid the body of wastes. This is aided by the drinking of large quantities of fluid.

DORMANT VENEREAL DISEASE.

P. A. Can syphilis or gonorrhea remain dormant for five years and then show signs of coming to life?

REPLY.

In a small number of cases of syphilis, especially if it has not been treated, tertiary symptoms develop after the lapse of some months or even years. These consist of the growth of gummata. The reappearance of the primary or secondary symptoms after a period of years would indicate reinfection. A positive Wassermann test always indicates the presence of the disease.

Chronic gonorrhea may be so mild as to pass unnoticed for years. Reinfection or lowering of the general body resistance may cause a renewal and spread of symptoms.

Yes, this is one of the vicious characteristics of syphilis and is particularly true of untreated or inadequately treated cases.

HINDERS TREATMENT.

M. O. T. writes: Why in, or during the treatment of syphilis, do doctors order abstinence from alcohol? What effect would alcohol have if taken during this time?

REPLY.

DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

BY JAMES MADISON

[Father of the Constitution and Fourth President of the United States.]

Impeachment of the Chief Magistrate.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 21, 1787.—In convention. The postponed ratio of electors for appointing the executive, to wit: One for each state whose inhabitants do not exceed 100,000, etc., being taken up, Mr. Madison observed that this would make in time all the states nearly equal. Mr. Gerry of Massachusetts moved that in the first instance the electors should be allotted to the states in the following ratio: New Hampshire, one; Massachusetts, three; Rhode Island, one; Connecticut, two; New York, two; New Jersey, two; Pennsylvania, three; Delaware, one; Maryland, two; Virginia, three; North Carolina, two; South Carolina, two; Georgia, one. [Mr. Gerry's motion was passed, six to four; Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, no.

"To be removable on impeachment and conviction for malpractice or neglect of duty." Mr. Pinckney of South Carolina and Mr. Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania moved to strike out this part of the resolution. Mr. Pinckney observed that he ought not to be impeachable whilst in office. Mr. Davie of North Carolina: If he be not impeachable whilst in office he will spare no efforts or means to get himself reëlected. He considered this an essential for the good behavior of the executive.

Col. Mason of Virginia: Shall any man be above justice? Above all, shall that man be above it who can commit the most extensive injustice? Dr. Franklin was for retaining the clause as favorable to the executive. History furnishes one example only of a first magistrate being formally brought to public justice. Everybody cried out against this as unconstitutional. What was the practice before this in cases where the chief magistrate rendered himself obnoxious? Why, recourse was had to assassination, in which he was not only deprived of his life but the opportunity of vindicating his character.

Mr. King of Massachusetts expressed his apprehensions that an extreme caution in favor of liberty might enervate the government we are forming. He wished the house to recur to the primitive axiom that the three great departments of government should be separate and independent; that the executive and judiciary should be so as well as the legislative; that the executive should be equally so with the judiciary. Would this be the case if the executive should be impeachable? He relied on the vigor of the executive as a great security for the public liberties. Mr. Randolph of Virginia: The propriety of impeachments was a favorite principle with him. Guilt wherever found ought to be punished.

Mr. Gouverneur Morris' opinion had been changed by the arguments used in the discussion. He was now sensible of the necessity of impeachments if the executive was to continue for any time in office. He may be bribed by a greater interest to betray his trust. One would think the king of England well secured against bribery. Yet Charles II. was bribed by Louis XIV. [On the question shall the executive be removable on impeachments—ay, 8; Massachusetts and South Carolina, no.

PROPERTY TRANSFER.

Chicago, July 18.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I intend to transfer some property from my name to my daughter's name. 1. Can I do this without the services of a lawyer or real estate man, [2] including recording same at the Chicago Title company and at the recorder's office? Would this be considered legal? C. H.

1. You are in a better position to estimate your abilities than we are. There is no law requiring the services of a lawyer, if that is what you mean to ask.

2. Instruments are not recorded at the title company. Your use of this phraseology implies that you do not have sufficient understanding of the situation to handle the matter yourself.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

LIABILITY FOR DEBT.

Chicago, July 18.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My wife underwent an operation before we were married, in consequence of which she incurred a debt and was not able to meet it at that time [reason, illness and absence from work]. This operation was performed about four years ago and in the meantime the doctor who performed the operation passed away. 1. Am I, as her husband, liable for the debt? 2. Is she indebted to the aforesaid doctor's heir or heirs? T. S.

1. No.

2. The executor or administrator of the doctor's estate would be entitled to collect from your wife if your wife has sufficient assets or income.

FARMING

121

Q.—Did loss of rental and benefit payments, as a result of the Supreme court decision, hurt the farmer?

A.—The bureau of agricultural economics reports that cash farm income in February, 1936, when there were no subsidies, amounted to $68,000,000 more than in February, 1935, when the farmers received $51,671,000 for curtailing production.

Q.—Have we imported less raw cotton while cutting down our own production under AAA?

A.—Cotton imports were 7,500,000 pounds more during the eight months ending March 31, 1936, than for the same period in 1935.

Q.—What food products do we import in large quantities from Canada?

AS THE CONCERT ENDED.

Park Ridge, Ill., July 16.—The final number of the W-G-N concert tonight, the playing of "The Star-Spangled Banner," is what I consider a perfect ending to a beautiful program.

The playing of this glorious and thrilling song not alone reminds one to be thankful for what one has just heard, but also for all those beautiful things that have come to us through this country. There are so many of us who are prone at times to forget this.

Recently I had the privilege to attend a movie in Montreal, Canada, and not so long ago one in Scotland and another in London, England. In both Canada and England they finished off their evening of ordinary movies with a picture of the king with a waving Union Jack background while the music played "God Save the King." No one in the theater attempted to leave and all stood at attention. Those people are grateful for their country.

Why can't our movie houses follow somewhat this example? The Lord knows that we have as much, if not more, to be grateful for in this country of ours. Why can't more of those glorious radio programs that we hear daily have that "perfect ending" like the W-G-N concert programs? Surely we ordinary people of this, the greatest of all nations, would like to be reminded from time to time to be grateful for all those benefits that our flag and "The Star-Spangled Banner" symbolize.

CUTTING RELIEF COSTS.

Chicago, July 14.—THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE does every one a disservice which is tragic in its effect on the less fortunate members of the community by printing such items as the picture and the story of the mayor of Dunkirk, N. Y., who "slashes cost of relief" by cutting the relief lists from 700 to 150 names. Perhaps the list of relief clients should have been cut; perhaps the cut means untold suffering of old people, sick and discouraged people, and mothers with little children. Without further facts, a news item of the kind referred to simply confirms the belief of most people that the way to stop relief expenditures is to tell people that the relief is going to stop and that they will have to go to work!

A new administration of a public hospital which cut down the number of beds by half would certainly save money, but at what cost? Similarly, a statement that the new Chicago relief administration had, in the first half of July, 1936, reduced relief expenditures by 80 per cent, as compared with the similar period in the previous month, and this without a single dollar paid out for administrative expenser, would be entirely true.

The necessity for relief is a symptom of a disordered economic condition. How to correct that condition is the problem which confronts us. I doubt if being brutal to helpless men, women and children will accomplish it.

IT'S THE HUMIDITY.

Western Springs, Ill., July 16.—I wonder whether the weather man, if properly approached, would refrain from making any more predictions. Nothing personal, of course, but he seems to be full of morning glories lately.

ROY C. WARNER.

THE CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT.

Chicago, July 16.—In THE TRIBUNE of July 17 we read the following from an editorial on the "Bogus Child Labor Amendment": "The régime whose theories of government and social order it represents must be expelled from power. There is no limit to its ambition to run all the affairs of the American people. It is an ambition wreathed in noble sentiment. It is allegedly for our good, but it will turn the American household into an institution ruled by burocrats according to their own opinion and their own profit."

Perhaps you have forgotten that a child labor amendment granting to congress the power to legislate on child labor was recommended to congress by President Harding. The amendment in its present form was passed under the administration of President Coolidge and with his support. Further, here are some interesting facts concerning the attitude of the leaders of that party which you obviously look to to expel from power "the régime whose theories of government and social order it represents": Gov. Landon's name appears as one of those governors who have indorsed the amendment. In his message to the Republican national convention of 1936 he stated that he favored regulation of labor of women and children under the present constitution, but if that were not possible he would favor an amendment accomplishing that end. William Allen White, prominent in the pre-convention campaign of Gov. Landon and close to him in many affairs, stated [mark well] in Editor and Publisher for March 30, 1935: "The newspapers should stop their fight on the child labor amendment. It is discrediting the newspaper profession and weakening our just position in other matters."

BARBER SHOP ECONOMICS.

Chicago, July 15.—Did your correspondent, Bert Fisher, ever stop to figure out just how much profit there is in a 60 cent haircut?

First of all, in order to get any kind of a following, you must have an up to date shop. Consider the investment, the rent, laundry, light, wear and tear on the equipment, and in most cases salary for the help, and you will find the overhead usurps about two-thirds of the income, leaving one-third, or exactly 20 cents, which represents one-half hour's work or more.

How many hours are whiled away waiting for that 60 cents? To top it all, if any one is required to wait 10 minutes during the rush period he fusses and fumes that the owner is all hog and is too cheap to hire help. If you think all is gold that glitters then join the scissor and comb brigade.

DID SHE CARRY A DIARY?

Chicago, July 13.—The boudoir ensconces itself in a prominent hotel lobby in Chicago.

VICTORIANLY AMUSED.

FORECAST.

Chicago, July 16.—Chicago will have to wait until July 26 for a rain. Between sunrise of Sunday, July 26, and sunrise, Monday, July 27, Chicago will get a nice rain. Until then the severe heat will prevail.

LOCAL SHOWERS BRING SOME HOPE TO CORN STATES

Oklahoma Is Anxious as 14 More Die.

Kansas City, Mo., July 20.—[Special.]—Hope that corn and other feed grains might be sufficient for midwest stockers and feeders was inspired today by local showers in the corn belt states. Although insufficient to break the drouth, the rain brought cooler weather.

Oklahomans anxiously awaited fulfilment of a prediction of thundershowers as 14 persons died today from oppressive heat. The new deaths brought to 46 the total for the last eight days in Oklahoma.

Cooler weather and occasional showers were predicted for most of the central west drouth area following the storm that yesterday swept through parts of Kansas and Missouri, taking two lives and injuring eight.

Meanwhile, government officials and agricultural experts in Washington and other parts of the country made plans to speed up relief for the drouth stricken areas.

Move for Freight Cuts.

Officials in the national capital took steps to obtain intersystem railway freight rate reductions on feed shipments from southern states to the northwest drouth section.

Chief consideration was given a proposed agreement between southern and western carriers on reduced rates for transporting cottonseed cake and cottonseed meal to fatten live stock held on farms.

The suggestion of intersystem rates was made by Jesse W. Tapp, chairman of the agricultural department's drouth committee, and Francis R. Wilcox, president of the Federal Surplus Commodity corporation, in conversations with trafic executives of the Western Carriers association.

$100,000 for Dakota Relief.

Another announcement in Washington stated that $100,000 had been allotted to relief to employ North Dakota farmers in harvesting grain and live stock feed on publicly owned land.

Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, said President Roosevelt had allotted the money from work relief funds to help provide feed for drouth stricken farmers in that state. The action came after the quota of WPA jobs in North Dakota was raised from 17,500 to 25,000.

Williams also added Colorado to the list of states to receive federal aid today and ordered that 4,000 needy farmers there be given WPA jobs.

His order brought to 69,000 the total number of drouth relief jobs authorized by WPA in six western states. In addition to that figure 20,000 southern farmers are being given employment.

Plan U. S. Seed Purchases.

Plans for government purchase of seed for planting in the drouth sections next spring were formulated at St. Paul by agricultural experts and elevator men from Minnesota, the Dakotas, and Montana who met with Wilcox, head of the surplus commodities.

A sum of 10 million dollars was believed necessary to finance 2,600,000 bushels of seed for North Dakota, 2,795,000 for South Dakota, and 810,000 bushels for Montana, which were the estimates given by Capt. L. C. Webster of Minneapolis, secretary of the County Elevators associations. He said Minnesota would be able to take care of its own requirements.

Washington drouth officials said there was a feeling in parts of the corn belt against any government cattle purchasing program which might keep northwest stockers and feeder cattle prices above levels at which midwest farmers hoped to obtain distressed stock for fattening over the winter.

On the other hand, northwestern cattlemen pressed them for sufficient government buying to prevent a rush of immature stock to the market because of a lack of feed.

Corn Loss Is Serious.

Springfield, Ill., July 20.—[Special.]—Despite showers which fell over most of the state during the week-end, the prospective Illinois corn crop loss still remains serious, federal and state departments of agriculture declared today. On July 1 it appeared the crop would be the best in several years. Since then the losses vary from 20 to 40 per cent in the central and western regions.

STORIES OF DIRE NEED MARK ICE FUND REQUESTS

Children Raise Cash to Supply Poor.

Stories of dire need characterized new requests received yesterday for aid from the Tribune Free Ice fund. Miss Edna Mae Wray of the United Charities, director of the fund, pointed out that ice is still the most important health factor for families of little means and uncertain food supply. The passing of the severity of the heat wave has made ice none the less essential for these families.

"We are not on relief—have kept off by the skin of our teeth," wrote a mother of a 5 year old girl and 20 month old boy. "Can manage to buy ice once a week only and on the other days rely on running water."

Another letter told of a father in a hospital with tuberculosis, mother just recovered from pleurisy and susceptible to tuberculosis, and a 4 year old daughter suffering from heart trouble. The mother asked only for ice to keep their food from spoiling.

Children Give Benefit.

The Woodlawn Dramatic club, child amateur group, presented a revue on Thursday for the benefit of the ice fund. Their proceeds were $3.42. Members of the club are Katherine, Frances, and Ramona Carroll; Nancy Ludwig, Madeline and Kay Steele, Suzanne Hiller, and Jeanette and Patsy Rourke.

LEMKE OFFERS 200,000 LAKES TO CURTAIL DROUTH

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—Creation of between 200,000 and 250,000 artificial lakes was advanced today by William Lemke as the Union party's program for ending drouth in the west.

The North Dakota house member and Union party candidate for President said in an interview his solution was contained in a bill introduced by him at the last session of congress, a combination reclamation, conservation and flood control measure.

THREE INDICTED IN PLOT AGAINST HARRY BANNISTER

New York, July 20.—(AP)—The attempted extortion of $1,800 from Harry Bannister, theatrical producer and former husband of Ann Harding, the actress, was charged in two indictments returned against three men in General Sessions court today.

The indictments named Harry Hechheimer, an attorney arrested in Concord, N. H.; Jerome A. Jacobs, New York City attorney, and Raymond Derringer of New York City.

In Supreme court Justice Louis A. Valente refused to release Max D. Krone, private detective, from Tombs prison on a writ of habeas corpus. Krone was arrested in may and indicted in connection with a reputed extortion ring said to have victimized Alfred E. Smith Jr., son of the former governor, and others.

The district attorney's office reported Bannister gave $1,800 to Hechheimer, Jacobs, and Derringer in 1934 for the return of affidavits reputed to relate to the divorce proceedings then pending between Bannister and Miss Harding. Later, the indictments charged, the defendants sought an additional $1,000.

Division of 'L'-Street Car Joint Income to Be Decided

The Illinois commerce commission will begin hearings on Sept. 29 to determine how to divide revenues from passengers who ride both the elevated and surface lines on joint transfers, James M. Slattery, commission chairman, announced yesterday. Approximately $2,500,000 has been collected from such riders since the arrangement became effective last Sept. 22 for a one year experimental period. The companies have been unable to agree on a basis for division of the money.

MINISTER TELLS MARRIAGE RITE IN ESTATE SUIT

Charleston, W. Va., July 20.—(AP)—A minister, the first witness for Mrs. Nellie Stratton Sweetland in her suit for a share of a million dollar estate, testified today he read a marriage ceremony for a couple who gave their names as Nellie Stratton and Louis R. Sweetland.

The Rev. C. Oral Lowe, 28, of Pikeville, Ky., said he performed the ceremony Feb. 24, 1934. Sweetland died in October, 1934.

Mrs. Sweetland, a former beauty parlor operator, is suing relatives of Sweetland, asserting she is the widow of the 75 year old banker and oil man.

Defense Attorney Fred O. Blue told Judge George W. McClintic he would show Sweetland was not married.

JAIL FARMER FOR USING DAUGHTER TO GUIDE HORSE

Albion, N. Y., July 20.—(AP)—Alex Derzejewski, 47, of Shelby was in jail here today on a third degree assault charge after Sergeant Harry Adams of the state police said he found him using his daughter, Angeline, 13, to guide his horse in plowing.

Adams said the man beat his son, Alex Jr., when he came to his sister's aid after the horse fell on her. He quoted Derzejewski as saying that he had to make her work because "she wants to be too American."

Derzejewski was jailed by Justice of the Peace John T. Liddle in default of $500 bail and the hearing set for July 27.

SMASH WINDOW; STEAL RADIOS.

Two radios valued at $20 were taken from the Knight Radio and Electric shop, 2739 Lawrence avenue, early yesterday by thieves who broke the display window.

Burglars Break Into Two Homes in Lake Forest

Burglars broke into two Lake Forest homes early yesterday but apparently took nothing of value, according to police and caretakers. The homes invaded were those of the late Clayton Mark, steel executive, at 999 North Lake road, occupied only by servants, and that of Charles B. Pike at 955 North Lake road. Mr. and Mrs. Pike are at Bar Harbor, Me.

Robbers Abandon Truck and Safe Containing $600

Two gunmen who kidnaped Vincent Novak, a collector for the Checker Cleaners and Dyers, at 4033 Milwaukee avenue, and robbed him of $200 and his truck before releasing him, later abandoned the vehicle at Mayfield avenue and Arthington street. A small safe carried in the truck, containing $600, had not been disturbed.

"To insure SAFETY, COMFORT and ON-TIME SCHEDULES for our 30,000,000 PASSENGERS, Firestone GUM-DIPPED TIRES are used on Greyhound Buses"

Last year Greyhound buses traveled 138,000,000 miles from Coast to Coast and from Canada to the Gulf across deserts and over winding mountain roads.

They have won the National Safety Council's highest award in inter-city bus operation for the past four years. This is indeed a tribute to careful driving, efficient equipment and the reserve safety of Firestone Tires made possible by the Firestone Patented Process of Gum-Dipping which prevents internal friction and heat.

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires run up to 28° cooler and give greatest blowout protection—the scientifically designed non-skid tread will stop your car up to 25% quicker and give you 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Take no chances! Buy your tires on proof of performance. Let us equip your car today with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, the Masterpiece of Tire Construction!

Man Who Brags of Conquests Is Despicable

Wife Is Right in Being Disgusted.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Marrying into a family of men whose idea of chivalry is to brag about their conquests isn't one of the most inviting of fates. Apropos of this, "Digusted" tells of the type of conversation in which her husband, his brother, and his brother-in-law indulge when they get together for drinks. She tells of the reaction one such conversation had on her husband, although he has proved amply capable himself of ruining a woman's reputation with his loud voiced bragging.

It appears that his brother, in one of his disgustingly revealing moments, told of a certain conquest, the feminine figure in which was a friend of the wife. When the woman appeared to call a few days later, the noble husband ordered her out of the house, and requested her to stay out. This angered his wife, since her private theory was that the whole clique of them was nothing but a bunch of braggarts.

"They come from bad stock," the wife relates with candor. "My husband, in the early days, appeared by far the best of them. Of course, I loved him then, or I never would have married him. He was all right, too, until he got back into the company of his family. It seems that when they get together they try to impress each other with their lady-killing powers.

"I know my husband is lying when he talks about women, since I married him, at any rate. I would have left him before this if I thought there was truth in his tales. There can't be women in his life, for he hasn't any money for them and, besides he is not away from me enough to court other women. But I hate the foul-mouthed conversations of these men. And, as you see, in one case, at least, they have damned the reputation of one person of whom I had grown fond."

So there, you get a nice, clear picture of how such men appear to an audience—as the lowest form of animal life. There is nothing lower than the foul mouthed boaster! [Drink or no drink, they're that and nothing more!] It's a well established fact that a man reveals his true character when he is in his cups.

Squash May Be Dressed Up in Varied Ways

Is Excellent Stuffed or in Mousse or Puff.

"Jellies and Preserves from Early Gardens," a booklet of recipes for preserving gooseberries, cherries, currants, and other fruit and berries, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service Offices, 1 South Dearborn street, and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents. By mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

The flattish, round and scalloped white squash that you see so frequently in the grocer's windows has a number of names, but our choice [because it is such a cute name] is Patty-pan. However, if you can't bring yourself to ask the grocer for "a Patty-pan, please," call it scalloped squash, or white scallop, or cymbling.

Anyway, Patty-pan and her big bold brother, Crookneck squash, are going about everywhere nowadays. And you simply wouldn't recognize them when they appear at some parties! Stuffed, maybe, or all dressed up in a mousse or a puff. But they have taking ways, no matter what their guise, and you're sure to like them.

Patty-pan and Crookneck don't like to be peeled, but they won't mind having their faces washed. And they much prefer steaming to being cooked in boiling water. And they should be salted before cooking.

Of course summer squash is nice when it simply is steamed until tender and then buttered. It's also nice mashed or French fried. But when you stuff a Patty-pan, you've really got something.

STUFFED PATTY-PAN SUMMER SQUASH.

Cut the squash in halves crosswise and remove seeds. Salt it first and steam over boiling water, or cook in boiling salted water until barely tender. Fill the halves with a stuffing made from ½ cup finely chopped ham, 1 cup medium white sauce, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, salt and pepper. Place the stuffed halves on a well greased baking sheet, cover the tops with buttered crums and bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven [about 360 degrees].

Any summer squash may be used in this squash mousse. It makes a nice accompaniment to sliced meats on a summer cold plate.

SQUASH MOUSSE.

1 egg
1 cup medium white sauce
1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
2 cups seasoned and sieved squash
1 pimiento, chopped fine

Add the well-beaten egg to the white sauce just before removing it from the fire. Soak the gelatin in the cold water for 5 minutes and add to the hot sauce, stirring it. Add the squash and pimiento and cool, stirring occasionally. When the mixture begins to congeal, fold in the whipped cream. Turn into a cold, wet mould or into the freezing tray of the refrigerator if you like. Chill until firm.

In case you have forgotten, a medium white sauce is made by using 2 tablespoons of butter, 2 tablespoons of flour, and ¼ teaspoon of salt to a cup of milk.

Summer squash is delicious in a casserole dish with corn and tomatoes. And squash goulash with bacon, onion, green pepper and tomatoes is hard to rival. We'd like to give you full directions for these and other squash dishes if you write us.

TWO-WAY THREE BID.

The new two-way three bid has all the effectiveness of a masked or camouflaged battery. The enemy has no means of determining its power or scope until it is too late to set up the proper defenses. Whether the shell it throws turns out a dud or a high explosive, its menace remains real.

The fact that the three-bidder's partner, as well as his opponents, cannot know the true implication of the bid until the second round, works little or no hardship on the users. The partner can afford to investigate the meaning by holding the bidding open. At the worst he will increase the contract only one trick. But the adversaries are in a pretty dilemma indeed: Bid, and risk being slaughtered; pass, and risk losing a lay-down game. Note the huge value of the opening three-bid in today's hand.

East-West vulnerable.

♥ Q 10
♦ 10 9 8 5 2
♣ K 9 3

WEST
♠ A 7
♥ K 9 7 6 4

♦ Q 7 3
♣ A J 6 4

SOUTH
♠ K Q J 9 8 3 2
♥ J
♦ K 6 4
♣ 8 7

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
3 spades	Pass	3 no trp.	Pass
4 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

The contract was defeated four tricks but, in view of the honor distribution between the two defenders, criticism on the grounds of failure to double would be most unfair. A blighting redouble might be lurking in the bushes! Nor could either West or East have entered the bidding except at risk to life and limb. It is quite true that they could have made a grand slam by the successful finesse of the minor-suit kings and, that being the case, that the theoretically correct contract would have been six hearts, on the percentage that at least one finesse would work. But this was one of those hands in which the greatest of experts would be helpless, hamstrung! Neither defender could be sure that South's bid was, this time, the "weak variety"; nor, for that matter, that North was not prepared to crucify any adverse four bid. Against the old type preëmptive three bid, West might have taken a good deep breath and entered the bidding, but with South, as well as North, a potential sharpshooter, the risk was disproportionate.

Thus, the gain accruing to the opening bid, representing the difference between the 200 points lost and the 1,630 points that would have been lost had the opponents taken the rubber with a small slam, was 1,430 points.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Both sides were vulnerable. East dealt and bid one spade. South [my partner] said two diamonds. West bid two hearts. I held: ♠ 6 4 ♥ Q J 10 9 8 ♦ 8 5 4 ♣ 9 6 3. I doubled. Was that correct?

Answer: No, you should have passed. You were unprepared for any other bid, and your premature double was apt to trap your partner into doubling the next bid. In that event, you would be unable to deliver a single trick on defense.

HUSKIES give you these food essentials

Iron for blood. Phosphorus and other valuable mineral salts for strong bones and teeth. Carbohydrates for food-energy. Protein to help build muscle. And Vitamins A, B, E, and G . . . important to good nutrition.

ETHEL ARNOLD, noted tennis star. Successful U. S. Wightman Cup Team member, 1935, says: "HUSKIES are marvelous . . . give breakfast a new zest. As an athlete I find them mighty satisfying."

CHARLIE GRIMM, Mgr. of the Chicago Cubs, 1935 National League Champions, one of the greatest first basemen of all time, declares: "If you want a cereal with a brand-new flavor, try HUSKIES!"

GEORGE BARKER, former Inter-Collegiate cross-country champion, knows what helps build endurance. He says: "I'd run many a mile for a bowl of HUSKIES—they certainly stick to the ribs!"

BOYS! Girls! "Buster" Crabbe is right! HUSKIES are brand-new. And what a flavor you get in those crisp, crunchy flakes of golden-brown whole wheat! Try 'em yourself. Remember, too, that in every tempting bowlful you get the valuable food essentials of the whole wheat berry (see panel at left). Why not treat yourself to HUSKIES today! Your grocer has 'em.

Miss Theodora Finney to Bow at Lake Geneva

BY JUDITH CASS.

AMONG the pleasant social events of the summer at Lake Geneva will be a debutante party to be given Sept. 5, when Dr. and Mrs. William P. Finney of Winnetka will present their daughter, Miss Theodora Finney, at a tea at their summer home, the Knoll. It has been quite a while since Lake Geneva summer residents have had a debut to look forward to, but this summer they have no less than three debutantes vacationing there, although Miss Finney is the only one who will come out formally at the resort. Miss Mary Warner, daughter of the Rawleigh Warners of Winnetka, and Miss Hester Reilly, as well as Miss Finney, are spending the summer at the lake.

The three debutantes will arrange a table of garden accessories to be exhibited at the flower market to be held the last two days of this month by the Lake Geneva Garden club. Miss Warner is leaving Lake Geneva next month to visit Miss Virginia Creigh and her parents, the Thomas Creighs, at their summer home in Battle Lake, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Creigh are going to wait for another year to introduce their daughter into adult society. Miss Creigh was graduated from the North Shore Country Day school last month and expects to enter Vassar in September.

Another Debutante Party Announced.

The date for another debutante party has been set, a luncheon that Mrs. Joseph McNulty will give for her daughter, Miss Catherine McNulty. The party is to be given on Sept. 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McNulty in Hawthorne place and about 50 young women will be invited. The McNultys will give another party for their daughter later in the season.

Before Mr. and Mrs. Albert Day Farwell sailed for Europe they set the date for Miss Marian Farwell's debut tea for the afternoon of Sept. 12. The party will be given at the Farwell home, Edgewood, in Lake Forest. The debutante, Miss Farwell, and her younger sister, Miss Edith, accompanied their parents to England.

Arrange After Race Parties at Mackinac.

Each year when the yachtsmen—triumphant and defeated—arrive in Mackinac at the end of the long race from Chicago there is a great deal of celebrating, and wives and families and friends gather 'round to congratulate the winners and condole with the "also rans."

The first of the forty-one boats that left Belmont harbor Saturday afternoon were due in Mackinac last night, and several Chicagoans were at the docks to greet them.

William A. Cremin, who sailed on one of the boats, invited Miss Marion Gordon to come up from Harbor Point, where she is summering with her family, to join him for the after the race parties. Mrs. Lincoln S. Harris [Jean Hyman] also will be up from the Point to meet her husband, who is in the race, and the former Jane Fortune will go up with them to join her husband, Joseph E. Nolan, who was a member of the crew of the Elizabeth, three times winner of the race. Mrs. Nolan is visiting her aunt, Miss Joanna Fortune, in Wequetonsing.

Mrs. Lynn A. Williams Jr., wife of the Elizabeth's owner, also will be in Mackinac today. Mrs. Henry B. Babson and Miss Betty Babson did not go north to see the finish of the race in which Mr. Babson skippered their yacht the Maruffa. Mrs. Babson and her daughter are dividing the summer between their Lake Shore drive apartment and their farm near Grand Detour, Ill. Next month they will cruise in Georgian bay on the Maruffa.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth and Paulina in City.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth and her daughter, Paulina, are at the Blackstone for a day or two on their way west. They arrived yesterday and they will leave today or tomorrow for Albuquerque, N. M., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Simms. From there the former Alice Roosevelt and her daughter will go to California to spend several weeks seeing

Hot Numbers Are Popular at Park Concert

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Loyal thousands of us sat huddled last night in the shelter of the Grant park bandshell nursing a vain hope that the resourceful north wind would stop careening so unthinkingly around this poor barrier and quit whistling through our whiskers in such a shrill, wintry monotone. As a realization of these dreams became a more and more remote possibility, we turned for comfort to the warm tone colorings of George Dasch's brilliant band.

This lusty organization played a fast moving program which opened with the "Beautiful Galathea" overture and listed such pleasingly torrid things as the barbaric processional from Gounod's "Queen of Sheba." The brasses outdid themselves in the latter work, succeeding for five blissful minutes in keeping their audience's minds on the steamy near east of several millenniums ago.

Among the novelties programmed by able Mr. Dasch [the same man who has done such a good job with the Business Men's Symphony orchestra] was a Hayden Wood "Mayday" overture which deserves some rehearsing. This Wood, I think, is the master who gave "A Brown Bird Singing" to the world and to radio.

There were deft salutes to quite different types of beauty in an excerpt from Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade" suite and Strauss' sensationally un-Baghdadian "Thousand and One Nights."

Marjorie Dodge, accompanied by the band, sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" in an English translation. Her tone quality and voice production passed even the test of great volume satisfactorily. "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," an encore, worked powerfully on the emotions of patrons occupying seats in the more exposed parts of the audience area, and aroused a nostalgia for the south in many a breast that has never swelled to the sight of any landscape below Hegewisch.

Airy Capes Add Daintiness to Evening Gowns

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Mere trifles, but what trifles. Airy, picturesque capes as transparent as only net can be, as cool as a breeze and just as light, are the newest summer capes to wear over party clothes. Lots of the ice white sleek satin dance and dinner clothes are sold with a knee length circular cape of white net or white chiffon, the net a bit cooler looking than the chiffon, but both utterly feminine, flattering and devastatingly effective over the shimmering loveliness of white satin. If you like soft pastels, buy the satins in bonbon pink or yellow or blue and have your own cape made in net to match.

On a hot summer night they are irresistible extras to cover your shoulders. In one store you'll find separate capes in the neckwear collections, exciting new arrivals that spell glamor and romance worn with any dress you own. One of thin, thin chiffon is strewn with white petaled daisies, appliqued to the chiffon, the gold yellow centers of the white daisies are the only color contrast. Another white cape has dozens of small blue bachelor buttons sewed thereon. Imagine this creation for a blonde or brunette over either a cool white or pale blue gown. And this same blue blossomed cape is perfect with a pale yellow full skirted dance dress and almost as big a success with pink.

There isn't any limit to what an imaginative shopper can do with a white thin cape and an assortment of artificial flowers. One of these capes with petunias, in lovely pinks and blue mauves, rich nasturtiums, violets, and rosebuds are buys that can revivify one of your best party going gowns with a little labor. It's the trick of the summer for reviving a wilted set of evening costumes.

American Bible Society Moves After 83 Years

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—The American Bible society quit the historic old red brick Bible house on Astor place today and moved to new quarters at 57th and Park avenue. The society, organized in 1816, occupied space in Bible house for 83 years. More than 76,000 copies of the scriptures were printed and bound in the building, and some 58,000,000 other Bibles bought by the society from outside printers passed through the doors.

Suit Values Gary Cooper at 4 Millions

Paramount Avers Goldwyn "Stole" Him.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 20.—(AP)—The cash value of Gary Cooper, tall, blue eyed movie star, was rated at 4 million dollars today when Paramount Pictures corporation sued Samuel Goldwyn, film producer, charging that Goldwyn "stole" Cooper.

Paramount asked 4 million dollars actual damages and another million as a punitive award.

A suit brought in federal court charged that Goldwyn, or his representatives, secretly induced Cooper not to sign a new contract with Paramount, his present employers, when negotiations were opened on that subject last January. His present ticket expires next December.

All this was accomplished, it continued, "by means of false and fraudulent representations and statements." Adolph Zukor, Paramount chairman of the board, personally accused Goldwyn of a "breach of good morals and ethics, and a violation of the law."

Goldwyn replied: "I haven't seen the complaint, but I do not understand any theory on which any such claim can be based."

Cooper himself tossed the task of talking into the lap of his manager, Jack Moss, who admitted he had signed the actor to a Goldwyn contract before the Paramount agreement had run out.

"It was just one of those things," Moss said. "I don't know of any trouble between the two studios."

The movie colony was inclined to believe sentiment played an important part in Cooper's alignment with Goldwyn. Gary, friends said, got his first movie chance through Goldwyn ten years ago last month.

Arriving in Los Angeles from his native Helena, Mont., Cooper vainly hunted a job as a newspaper cartoonist, and eventually landed in Hollywood as a cowboy extra in "The Winning of Barbara Worth," a Ronald Colman-Vilma Banky vehicle.

Goldwyn picked Cooper from out of the crowd, gave him a second lead in the film, and saw him go on to become one of the most important players in the movies.

Gary's intimates said the actor has long hoped for a chance to go back to Goldwyn, using his now great popularity to his benefactor's advantage. He has been under contract to Paramount since August, 1926.

Salary, it was understood, did not influence the switch. Cooper is reported to receive "more than $100,000 a picture."

There is no provision against "star raiding" in the statutes of the Producers' association agreement or the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

It's the highlights in hair that bequeath it beauty. A new corrective oil, to be used before shampooing, is impressively successful in improving dry, brittle and dingy locks.

Hair need reconditioning? If it doesn't you can count yourself among the luckiest of women. Seems to us we don't see a feminine head around town these days that wouldn't be better looking for a bit of intelligent attention. And this is especially true of women who go in for sun and swimming.

If you decide, after an honest examination in your own mirror, that your locks could do with some sprucing up you might start by investing in a corrective oil we discovered recently. It's a great help in converting dull, brittle, and lifeless locks into a halo of gleaming beauty.

This corrective oil is a blend of many fine oils, each selected for a definite purpose. You'll find it easy to use. Simply warm up a tablespoonful or so, then saturate the scalp with it, using a pad of cotton. When the scalp is thoroughly doused rub the remainder into the brittle ends. Do this at least an hour or half an hour before your shampoo; better yet, use it the night before. If the hair is awfully dry and unruly, the scalp very tight, it's a good idea to apply two or three hot, wet towels to assist penetration.

This oil is miraculously effective, but it isn't so heavy that you'll have to use strong shampoos to get it out. Two or three treatments with it will work an impressive improvement in hair and scalp. Luster, in particular, is improved—and the scalp is less tight.

Used very, very sparingly this same oil can be used occasionally as a dressing if the hair is unruly, as it so often is after swimming or much exposure to the sun.

ELEANOR NANGLE.

How Times Change Item; Indians Think Film Riding Strenuous

Sheridan, Wyo., July 20.—(AP)—Pop bottles replaced the peace pipe today as grizzled Cheyennes—their forefathers were allies of Sitting Bull's painted warriors who massacred Gen. Custer's soldiers—ended a bloodless battle of words and sign language over a movie contract.

The pact was signed after objections from some of the older Cheyenne chiefs were met with the threat that Crow Indians, their traditional enemies, would be used to depict the Sioux and Cheyennes of sixty years ago in battles with Custer's men.

Finally the sixteen old men of the council agreed to furnish 1,000 men for the picture.

Eugene Hornbostel, business manager of the troupe filming scenes in Wyoming for Cecil B. De Mille's "The Plainsman," and the chieftains sealed the pact by passing soda pop from hand to hand and lip to lip. Two cases of pop were used.

SHERIDAN ROAD

By Helen Topping Miller

SYNOPSIS.

Eden Faraday, young secretary, opens the door of a taxi and finds a man murdered. She is taken to the police station, where she meets Jack Garnett, newspaper cameraman, and Owen Field, assistant district attorney, who arranges her release. Eden had been mistaken for Gracie Lincoln, a gunman's widow. The man murdered was a notorious gangster, Grappi. Eden's mother, Bridget Faraday, sells gowns and is in love with suave Sidney Creighton. Eden and her spoiled young sister, Robin, and brother Coburn, depend on their peppery grandmother. Because of rumor that Eden can identify the murderers, Owen Field has her guarded. Raquel Rusak, an older woman, is trying to force Coburn Faraday to marry her. Robin is carrying on a secret flirtation with Sidney Creighton. Eden goes with Garnett to see Gracie Lincoln, now married to Clint Jarvis, a taxi driver, who has been forced to drive the murderers of Grappi. Eden promises to help Clint gain an audience with Mat Burke, district attorney friend of her grandmother's. On his way there Clint is deliberately run down by a car. He is taken unconscious to a hospital. Garnett brings Gracie Lincoln to Eden's home. Running away from Raquel, Coburn calls at Sidney Creighton's and finds Robin there. She tells him they were married that afternoon. Owen Field wants to marry Eden. So does Jack Garnett.

INSTALMENT XXXII.

GIRL TROUBLE.

Burke laid his stubby fingers together, "Maybe Jack don't make such very good pictures. I never saw any. But—if maybe Clint Jarvis comes to and wants to talk—if he should, I'm saying—Jack Garnett's the man he'll talk to. And when we find the fellows who rode in Clint's taxi from just beyond that hotel to a place down near Jackson park where they had a car parked—if we should find who those fellows were it will be because Jack Garnett was around to help us do it. So don't blow your top yet awhile, Owen."

"Of course," his assistant was stiff, "I can't compel you to listen to me, Mr. Burke."

"That's a kind of a break for me, ain't it?" the older man smiled his gargoyle smile, "My opinion is—you've got girl trouble, Owen. It makes you hasty and all full of flourishes and high flown feelings. I'm not blaming you. She's a pretty girl. So was her grandmother a pretty girl—and I let a fresh water sailor with a lot of yellow hair and chest expansion steal her off of me. You get your breath calmed down and then you go home to dinner—and eat slow. Take a lot of time to chew. Then you meet me here at eight o'clock. Bring your car—taxis always make me nervous. I ain't saying we'll get a start on this taxi murder business—I'm saying maybe. But you eat slow. I've seen men drop dead in my time, getting their arteries ll bulged up and pounding. Try a little soda bicarb—and come back here t eight o'clock. So long, Owen."

"No—I'm not broken up about him. It's not that, Ginter."

One did not tell one's immediate superior that he was a dull old fool. One did not tell the district attorney of a big city to go to hell. But there were times when it would be sweet to be able to do it!

Jack Garnett drove his muddy old car back to the hospital.

But there he did not go directly up to the room where Clint Jarvis lay, under a dim light, motionless and gray faced, a uniformed policeman slumped in a chair beside the bed.

Instead Garnett went into a telephone booth. He made a call, and at the other end of the wire a pasty faced man laid down a soggy bar cloth and, taking down the receiver, shouted "Yeah?" into it.

Then he stiffened, pressed the instrument closer to his ear and glanced around the place at the two or three dull looking customers who were eating swiss on rye and drinking beer stupidly. Then he said guardedly, "Monk ain't here. This is Ginter."

"I know he's not there," Garnett was saying, back in the booth, "All I want you to do is take down an address."

He wrote laboriously as Garnett dictated and called back the number as he was directed.

"Now get that to Monk," Garnett spoke carefully into the phone, "Tell him Gracie Lincoln is at that address. Tell him she wants to get away and that she isn't going to talk to the cops."

"How about him?" inquired Ginter, guardedly, "In the hospital?"

"He isn't going to talk either. Tell Monk this is Jack calling—he'll know who you mean. And tell him Lincoln might not go with him. She thinks he framed Clint. Tell Monk he'd better send somebody else—somebody she knows. Understand?"

"Yeah—I get you." The bartender hung up without a click, looked about and discerned that none of the customers appeared to be interested. He moved casually toward a rear door, languidly swiping the bar as he went, but once the door closed upon him, he became instantly alert and swift. From a cupboard under the sink he took out another telephone, jiggled the hook and cupped the mouthpiece in his hand.

"Listen," he said, "Get this to the boss. Tell him this fellow Jack—yeh, he's a friend of Monk's—he comes out here—this Jack knows where Lincoln is. I got it wrote down here. Get a pencil. Now, read it back to me. Listen, this Jack says Lincoln has shook the cops and she wants to get away, see? She wants to go tonight—about nine o'clock. No—he ain't dead but he ain't never going to do no talking. Yeh—this is Ginter."

He hung up. Back at the bar he turned on more lights, rang the register, resumed his languid swabbing.

A car stopped outside, and a girl came in. Ginter grinned at her. "Hello, Raquel. Tony said you was here a while back."

Raquel stood still for an instant, frowning at her reflection in the mirror. "Yes—I was here." Then with a sudden savage gesture she tore the knot of violets from her coat and flung them on the floor.

"Your boy friend coming? Want a table?"

"No, I don't want a table. I want to be let alone. Give me a drink, will you?"

Ginter slid a small glass across the bar. "That guy run out on you, did he? You must be worked up to be drinking hard stuff."

"What would you do, Ginter," she asked sharply. "If a woman in a velvet negligee looked you through as though you were a worm or something—and gave you a lot of cool contralto and shut the door in your face?"

Ginter's laugh was a bark. "Ha—I could have told you you were wasting time on that guy! You want to know what I'd do? I'd probably kick the door down. And then I'd go out and get drunk."

"Grand advice. I may take it. Now I've got to telephone my mother. She's fixing up a party. This was to have been my wedding day. Funny isn't it? Go on and laugh, you fool—laugh your head off. See—I'm laughing."

The harsh laugh broke on a ragged half sob. Ginter looked at the girl sharply. Always he had thought of Raquel as a shrewd little dame, hard and sharp as an ice pick, putting on a Spanish act and getting away with it.

"You must have liked that guy," he remarked with half indulgent scorn. "I never saw you get broke up over a man before."

"No—I'm not broken up about him. It's not that, Ginter. It's—being what I am. Well—you know. Men won't give a woman like me a break. We have to kick and claw. And back there—on Sheridan road, the contralto blondes sit and do their nails and look at us from under their elegant eyelashes—O, God! Give me another drink!"

"No, you don't need another drink. You need a cup of coffee. Sit down while I get it. Then you can call your mother."

"She'll rave. I won't dare go home. And I've got Kalaban's car. He'll be raising the devil about that, too. I suppose I might as well go—get it over. Never mind the coffee, Ginter. I'll go home. And if you hear of a woman being dragged out of the river tomorrow, tell them I died for love and all that rot, will you?"

Ginter leaned on his bar unperturbed. "If you let a guy like him send you to the river—you're weak in the cabin," he drawled scornfully. "Why don't you get Kalaban? He's in the big money and he'll go bigger."

Be smart this season! Select your warm weather wardrobe from the sparkling modes presented in the summer edition of the Chicago Tribune Book of Clotilde Fashions. The booklet, presenting all types of summer attire, is 15 cents, or 10 cents when ordered with a pattern. Address Chicago Tribune, P. O. Ugly Duckling May Become a Beautiful Swan

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

When you are young, in the late teens, let's say, and early twenties, I notice, you girls are most critical about other girls—and yes, about yourselves. Up to a certain point this is all right. Perhaps it is good medicine for you. You'll say of another girl, "Isn't her skin AWFUL? Isn't her walk TERRIBLE? Aren't her teeth FRIGHTFUL?"

It puts you on your mettle, or should, to hear one of the girls getting this sort of raking. You know you'll get it, too, if you fail in such respects. BUT I don't want you young women who are suffering from an inferiority complex to let this sort of criticism down you. I don't want you to get to thinking that because you aren't the most beautiful, and the most popular that there's something terribly wrong with you.

If your skin is AWFUL, you don't have to stand that for long. I have seen numerous times how girls have overcome broken out skin with a little more attention to their diet, and certain features of local care. You are free to ask me for details on skin care any time.

If you walk terribly, you can learn to straighten up and move along with grace in a few good self-administered lessons. If your teeth are in good condition you can recreate a lovely mouth with the aid of your dentist and scrupulous daily care. If you don't like the shape of your nose, or the color of your hair or eyes, forget about those features, and fasten on the good points you have, or may have with a little care, and play them up for all they are worth.

What I want you young women to get into your sometimes depressed young heads is that you can make good looking girls of yourselves without having a great deal of beauty to start with. You've got the lines of youth, by which I mean the lovely cheek line and the silhouette line, if you're not overeating and playing lazy-mazy all the time. You can learn tricks of dress and hairdress. You can bring out a great deal of beauty with the aid of color, dress color and makeup color. Just a little of the latter color becomes your years. In other words, even though at this moment you may be suffering hair, skin or figure troubles, you've got in you to be a mighty good looking young person. It's up to you. If you're eager enough, I can guarantee you that in six months' time you can make such a change in yourself you will feel like a new girl. Ask me how!

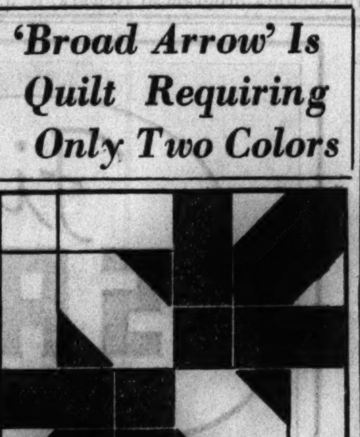
'Broad Arrow' Is Quilt Requiring Only Two Colors



Broad Arrow.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Broad Arrow" is a Massachusetts quilt which was made about 1875. The title has a British flavor since it was named after the broad arrow which the English navy used as a mark upon all admiralty property. Only two solid colors are required for this pattern, and the quilt is set together with pieced blocks to form an allover design. The finished coverlet measures 90 by 108 inches. This size may be reduced for a single bed since the block is exceptionally suitable for boys' rooms.

BACKACHE

35 CENTS PROVES IT

When your kidneys are clogged and your bladder is irritated and passage scanty and often smarts and burns you need Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules, a fine harmless stimulant and diuretic that always works and costs but 35 cents at any modern drug store.

It's one good, safe way to put healthy activity into kidneys and bladder—you'll sleep sound the whole night through. But be sure and get GOLD MEDAL—right from Haarlem in Holland—you are assured of results.

Other symptoms of weak kidneys and irritated bladder are backache, puffy eyes, leg cramps, moist palms.

Sally's Young Guests to See Circus Pongurs

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Bet none of you boys or girls ever saw a pongur! Neither did I, so we're even. But I'm going to see a whole herd of 'em on July 30, and if you'd like to get a peek at one you'd better see if you can't come along with me.

They're a new kind of animal which the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined circus is bringing to Chicago for the first time this year. I understand that they're the smallest animals of their kind to be used as beasts of burden and they're a cross between a donkey and a zebra.

If you like that song that's all about "the daring young man on the flying trapeze" you're sure to be happy at this circus, because you'll have a chance to see all kinds of trapeze acts. Pretty Dorothy Herbert, who rides and jumps her horse without reins, and puts him through a fiery circle, is one of the headliners, and she's enough to take your breath away.

Col. Tim McCoy, the great western star, will be there with his famous rough riders and of course there will be all kinds of your favorites, the clowns.

If you think you'd like to come to this party with me, write and tell me why you should be included. You can tell me anything you like. You don't have to worry about your writing or spelling; I just want to know that you really and truly, cross your heart, want to come. I'm going to take fifty boys and fifty girls. So if you can write a convincing letter you may see your name in next Sunday's TRIBUNE—that is, of course, if you remember to tell me your full name and address and age, and get your letter to me by Thursday, which is the day I'm going to pick the winners.

that state, which Mrs. Longworth has not visited in many years and which Paulina never has seen before.

Mrs. James L. Houghteling is making no plans for a vacation for at least six weeks for she will have to spend that length of time in bed while a broken bone knits. She and her daughter, Peggy, were in an automobile accident last Thursday afternoon. Peggy's injuries were not so serious although she was bruised and suffered a slight concussion.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Quincy White of East Division street are being congratulated upon the birth of a son yesterday afternoon at the Blodgett hospital in Grand Rapids, Mich. Mrs. White and her son Roger Jr., 2½ years old, have been spending the summer with Mrs. White's mother, Mrs. John C. Everett, in Waukazoo, Mich.

Cynthia Cooke in East For Cousin's Party.

Miss Cynthia Cooke, daughter of the Henry E. Cookes of Geneva, motored east last week with friends to attend the party given on Saturday night by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitman Means of Boston, to announce their daughter Susan's engagement to Charles Loring Jackson Noble.

Miss Cooke's and Miss Means' grandmother, Mrs. William H. Hubbard, did not go east for the announcement party for she is not very well and is spending the summer very quietly in Lake Forest at the Deerpath inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Linn arrived at home last night from a week's visit in Charlevoix, Mich.

Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman has gone to Santa Barbara for the remainder of the summer.

The Julian Armstrongs and their daughter and son, Miss Priscilla and Andrew Armstrong, have gone east to bring their new schooner home to anchor in the Naval station harbor, sailing it from Boston by way of the St. Lawrence river and the Great Lakes. They will return to Lake Bluff Aug. 1. The Armstrongs' other daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett B. Le Van [Katharine Armstrong], have gone to Red Cedar lake in Wisconsin.

Albert A. Spragues Going to England.

Col. and Mrs. Albert A. Sprague are leaving next week for Quebec, where they will sail to spend a month in England and Scotland. They will spend most of their time playing golf and visiting friends on the moors. Their daughter, Miss Laura Sprague, and her younger brother, Otho, sailed on Saturday for Germany. After seeing the Olympic games they will visit friends in Scotland before rejoining their parents for the journey home.

Mrs. Helen Walker Szukalska and her daughter, Kalinka, will sail Aug. 4 on the Polish ship, Batory, for Copenhagen. They will visit Sweden and Norway as well as Denmark before returning in about six weeks.

Col. and Mrs. George Voevodsky and their little son, Peter, are making a fast trip to Europe the first week in August, sailing on an Italian liner for Nice to visit Col. Voevodsky's father, Admiral Stephen Voevodsky. It will be Admiral Voevodsky's first meeting with his daughter-in-law and his grandson, and it is probable that his two other sons who live in Europe also will come to Nice to make the family reunion complete. Col. and Mrs. Voevodsky will remain abroad just two weeks.

Junior W. P. Martins Going East for Month.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Martin Jr. are looking forward to a yachting trip this week-end when they will join friends in New York to spend four or five days cruising. The Martins are going east tomorrow to be away for a month. When they leave New York they will go to Chocorua, N. H., where they will visit his sister, Mrs. William Mitchell Blair.

The senior Mrs. William P. Martin will sail for England the middle of August and join Mrs. George D. McLaughlin, who is traveling abroad now. Dr. and Mrs. Philip Miller sailed on the Deutschland on Thursday to spend six weeks abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Charles G Little, Miss Myra and Miss Edith Little, and the Charles J. Littles also were on board the Deutschland.

Mrs. Frederic de Coningh, whose daughter, Mary, became the bride of Henry De Wolf Smyth on June 30, sailed for Europe on the Bremen Friday. Among her fellow passengers are Mrs. Marjorie Letts and Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Dent of Riverside and their daughter, Miss Catherine Dent.

Mrs. Joseph P. Rend and her daughter, Miss Mary Rend, sailed for Europe last Wednesday on the Normandie. Also on the Normandie were the John C. Dinsmores. Edmund F. Mansure and his brother, John F. Mansure, are sailing today on the Franconia for a cruise to Nassau and Havana.

Miss Barbara Ann and Miss Peggy Sargent sailed on the Rex last week to spend six or eight weeks in Europe. They will visit Italy first and then go to Germany and Sweden, sailing home from Bergen on the Bergenfjord. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Sargent, are remaining at home this summer.

WEDDING

The wedding of Miss Ancha Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Anderson of 874 Hill road, Winnetka, to Herbert Lundahl of Kenilworth will take place the afternoon of Aug. 15 in the Andersons' garden.

Mrs. Paul de la Vergne will be her sister's matron of honor, and Miss Nancy Lewis, Miss Gretchen Onderdonk, Miss Jean Boyd, Miss Marion Bard, Miss Nancy Palmer, and Miss Jane Lundahl, the bridegroom's sister, will be bridesmaids. Little Joyce de la Vergne, the bride's niece, will be a flower girl.

Edward Lewis will be Mr. Lundahl's best man, and David Danforth, David Phillips, John Norcott, Carl Davis, George Rayner of Lewiston Heights, N. Y., and Aylett Buckner of New York will usher.

Barrymore Not to Wed Elaine, He Declares

Beverly Hills, Cal., July 20.—(AP)—John Barrymore, arching an eyebrow, declared emphatically tonight he never was engaged to Miss Elaine Barrie. He added, also with emphasis: "We're not going to be married."

The actor made his statement after Miss Barrie, in an interview with newspapermen, asserted that within the next few days a bank messenger would serve as the actor's proxy in placing an 8½ carat ring on her finger in betrothal.

Miss Barrie had said she was informed the ring and the golden brocade mandarin coat Barrymore once gave her and then put in trust, after she flung them at him during a quarrel in a New York apartment, were to be delivered her by a bank.

"I don't recall ever making any such fool agreement," said Barrymore. "If I did, and they try to deliver the ring and mandarin coat I'm going to put a stop to it.

"I never was engaged to her. A man can't get along with a dame like that. We're not going to be married."

South Shore Y. M. C. A. Boys Leave for Camp

Ninety boys and ten counselors from the South Shore Y. M. C. A., 7209 Jeffery avenue, left on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for Camp Channing at Pullman, Mich., yesterday afternoon. Vacations of from two weeks to a month will be provided at cost for the group. In recent years the South Shore Y. M. C. A. has sent its boys to a camp 300 miles away. Camp Channing was selected this year because its nearness to Chicago will enable parents to make week-end visits.

Cursed? And How! Charges Actress; She Wins Divorce

Los Angeles, Cal., July 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Hedwig Joby, former actress, testified today that her husband, Hans Joby, actor, kicked her in the stomach, beat her, and once threw a baby carriage at her. "Did he ever curse you?" asked Superior Judge Caryl M. Sheldon. "And how!" replied Mrs. Joby. Mrs. Joby was granted a divorce.

Vacation Mood Cheers Mother During Summer

Children Respond to Happy Atmosphere.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Yesterday we were talking about the aimlessness that sometimes comes over children during the summer months. But, before suggesting summer activities, it is important that mothers are told to get into a vacation mood themselves.

Going away to country or seashore for a complete change of scene usually will awaken "vacation spirit" even in the most conscientious of mothers. Nothing is more relaxing than a sun flooded beach, or a comfortable chair waiting under the cool shade of a huge, old tree.

But it isn't necessary to go away for that vacation spirit. You can stay right in your own house, and change your state of mind. Then all sorts of vacation pleasures, more leisure, and a dash of the carefree attitude will result. You'll be refreshed, the children will enjoy being with you, and you will like having them home.

More ingenuity, perhaps, is required to induce the vacation spirit at home. Indoor changes are refreshing and work saving. For instance, slip covers, light, inexpensive window draperies, washable bed covers, and a rearrangement of furniture give the house a summery air. Serving meals picnic style will please the children and relieve you.

Dressing the children to avoid constant washing and ironing and whitening of shoes can be accomplished with a little planning.

Getting away from "home grounds" is refreshing. For the out of towner or country woman this is easy. For city dwellers there are dozens of pleasant outdoor activities during the summer, especially on uncrowded week days.

We have lists of books for all ages and an interesting new one called "Reading for Pleasure" (for boys and girls in their teens). Each list requires a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in the Sunday Tribune.

Former Spy Suspect Warned Movie Will Bring German Ban

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Isobel Steele, who spent four months in a Berlin prison suspected of espionage, will sacrifice any chance she ever had of being a popular film star in Germany when her first picture, "I Was a Captive in Nazi Germany," appears here next week, she said today.

For Miss Steele has a letter from Dr. George Gyssling, German consul in Los Angeles, warning her that if the picture is released it and future films in which she may appear will be banned in Germany.

The German decree concerning foreign films, according to this communication, permits a ban on any films "the tendency or effect of which is detrimental to German prestige," and also on films in which appear film workers who have previously participated in the making of pictures objectionable to the Nazi régime.

Miss Steele is unworried. Uppermost in her mind is the fact that she is to get married this afternoon or tomorrow in Greenwich, Conn., to W. G. Quisenberry, vice president of Trans-Radio press.

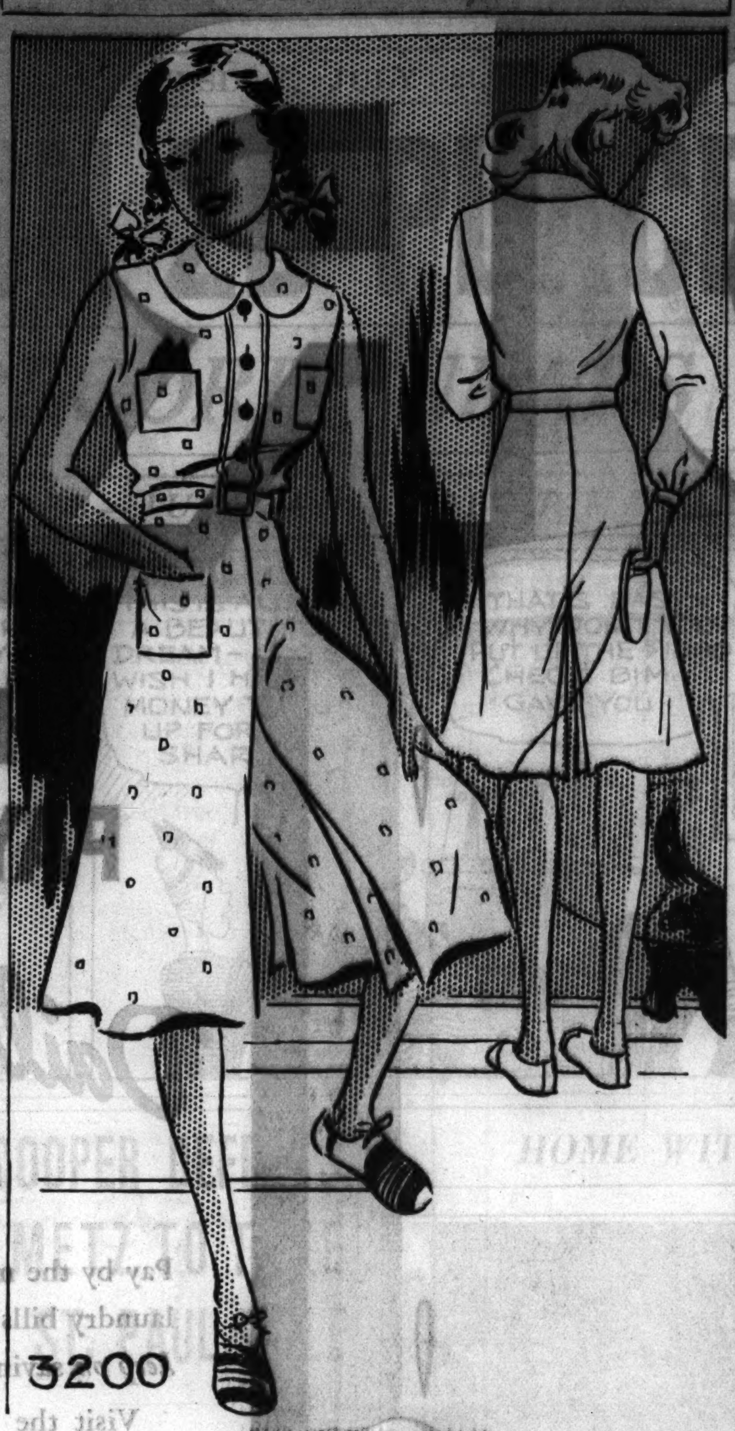
Smart Culottes for Girls



GIRL'S CULOTTE OUTFIT.

Not long ago we presented a smart shirtwaist and culotte outfit for young women. Now we offer a similar version of this indispensable vacation ensemble for the youngest set of sportswomen! The shirtwaist top has a rounded collar, a smart buttoned closing, and two patch pockets. There are no sleeves, but the pattern provides for them should the young wearer decide that she would like to have them.

The culottes are amply plaited for fulness, and are fitted snugly to the waist with a narrow belt. Seaming down front and back makes the "trousers" fit comfortably and attractively to the hips. A patch pocket similar to those on the blouse is found on the culottes.

This extremely practical outfit for vacation days is simple to make and inexpensive, too. If ever there was a year for cottons, it is this year. The colorful and gayly patterned fabrics are legion and their prices delightfully low. The original of this model is fashioned of strawberry pink pique, dotted in white.

Another clever and summery color scheme creates the culottes in brown, with the shirt in bright yellow. The brown contrast may be repeated in the collar, pockets, and buttons of the blouse.

Style No. 3200 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12, 14 years. Size 12 requires only 2⅞ yards of 39 inch material.

Death Reveals Actor's Gift to Repay Kindness

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 20.—[Special.]—Recent death in Turin, Italy, of Marfioti Leonardo, veteran singing maestro, revealed that the aged musician had been living the last years of his life in his old home through the generosity of a motion picture actor. When the actor was struggling in New York for an opportunity to sing and a salary that would keep his young wife and himself Leonardo helped the young man. A close attachment developed and when the actor came to Hollywood he brought the old singing coach with him. On Leonardo's 70th birthday his younger friend asked what he could do for him in the way of a real gift. The old man said he wanted to go back to Italy and spend the remainder of his life in the scenes of his remembrances of sunny youth. He had been back in Turin five or six years before death overtook him. The younger actor who was Leonardo's benefactor was John Boles.

One hundred students from Loyola university of Los Angeles and Father Lorenzo M. Malone, S. J., its faculty leader, have been signed by R. K. O. studio to play parts in the Sean O'Casey story, "The Plough and the Stars," for which five of the Abbey players have been fetched from Dublin to support Barbara Stanwyck and Preston Foster.

Tilly Losch gets the main Chinese feminine rôle, that of Lotus, in Metro's "The Good Earth." Tilly has just played an Arab girl in Marlene Dietrich's "Garden of Allah."

As soon as George O'Brien finishes his screen impersonation of Daniel Boone he will put another chapter of American history on celluloid, having today been announced by Producer George Hirliman as slated to star in "Sam Houston." The story is by Edgecomb Pinchon, author of "Viva Villa," and Hirliman.

In the wake of the current year's popularity for child players has come a studio tendency to sign up boy sopranos and tenors. R. K. O.-Radio, which already is contracted to release the output of 8 year old Warbler Bobby Breen, has now given a contract to 10 year old Philip McMahon, Boston lad, with considerable stage experience as a singing entertainer and precocious actor. Lew Brown, the musical producer, saw and listened to the McMahon youngster at a New York benefit show and signed him pronto for Brown's story, "Around the Town," now being readied for production.

A sculptress, Thyra Boldesen, asked Jean Hersholt for permission to model his bust in marble. Hersholt paid the sculptress a neat compliment in return. He asked permission to paint her portrait while she sculpted. Hersholt, like Sir Guy Standing, Lionel Barrymore, and Richard Cromwell, is an artist with a professional standing.

Sally O'Neill has been keeping company with Tommy Guinan, the late Tex's brother. . . . Marion Tally, just finishing up her first movie at Republic studio, had enough confidence in her friend, Margaret Irving, to fly with the latter handling controls of her own plane on a week-end sky hop from Hollywood to Monterey, Cal.

In order to get Warren William as leading man for Mae West in "Personal Appearance" Emanuel Cohen, Miss West's producer, signed William to a three picture contract, assuring the actor of a year's salary. Because of Miss West's tendency to minimize the glamor and attention focused on her leading men, and to reduce their opportunities for dominating the film situations, many leading men have been fighting shy of chances to play with her.

After having spent 99 camera days [117 days elapsed time] shooting Columbia studio's bid for spectacular prominence, "Lost Horizon," since last March 23, Director Frank Capra awarded himself an immediate three week holiday, picked up Mrs. Capra last night and left for the Thousand Islands.

Edward Arnold's income tax was $21 in 1932. He is paying over $6,000 a year now. That's one yardstick for measuring the rise of a movie star. Arnold, however, is sticking to a resolve he and his wife agreed on. They are not paying over $125 rent for their house.

Victor McLaglen, who is 6 feet 4 and weighs about 225 pounds and plays a tough steelworker in a Pennsylvania mill town, had to put on a bare knuckle fight with William Hall, 6 feet 3½ and a former amateur boxer, for one of the main scenes in Universal's "A Fool for Blondes." With shots from different angles, the men were required to punch away at each other for seven minutes. Neither was seriously hurt, but McLaglen was exhausted. He gasped that it was his hardest fight since the time he put on the gloves against Jack Johnson in British Columbia before the war when ham and bean money would persuade McLaglen to fight anybody.

Good Morning!

This queer concoction had, for me, an outstanding novelty besides its bizarre plot. I. E.—It's the first film that I recollect in which I haven't cared for Lionel Barrymore. [Of course you're surprised! So was I.]

The tale told is one of a strange revenge. It is perpetrated by Lavond, a man who, railroaded to prison by business associates for a crime he didn't commit, emerges after many years with but one idea in mind—V-E-N-G-E-A-N-C-E!

He escapes from Devil's Island in company with a dying and half mad scientist, Marcel, who has discovered the secret of reducing men and animals to toy proportions.

Marcel dies, but Lavond, assisted by the woman who has shared Marcel's secret, carries on the toy business which serves as a blind for his other activities. He dons the disguise of a dear old lady. [A disguise that wouldn't fool anybody, let alone his terrified former partners, who know of his escape and live in daily terror of his appearance.]

◆

Through a servant girl, shrunk to doll size, the relentless pursuer strikes first one then another. The city seethes with excitement over the nature of his crimes. . . . One of the men, guilty of the embezzlement of which Lavond was charged, confesses. . . .

Suddenly, aware of the enormity of what he has done, Lavond . . . ? I'll let the picture reveal the rest.

To me the best part of the film was some expert trick photography. Otherwise—despite some good acting—"The Devil Doll" didn't register in this quarter. The desperate angling to set you agape is too palpable.

See you soon.

ALL-STAR VOTE SETS RECORD; NEARS MILLION MARK

BERWANGER AND SHAKESPEARE IN CLOSE RACE

Smith Retains Lead Among Tackles.

BY ARCH WARD.

Nearly a million votes have been cast in the All-Star football poll and the battle is just beginning.

Today's national standings, which include approximately 947,000 votes, have broken the record for football balloting. Although the voting doesn't end until midnight Saturday, the returns already have surpassed last year's figure of 737,000.

Candidates with organized support are moving ahead rapidly. It is unlikely that players in the lower brackets this morning will dislodge the leaders, but there is a possibility that four or five who now appear to be outsiders will land places on the squad.

The biggest block for any individual player that came in yesterday was 22,538 for Don Elser, Notre Dame full back, whose home is in Gary. Others who scored heavily in the Gary Post Tribune returns were Dailey, Purdue, half back; Rukas, Louisiana State, tackle; Antilla, Illinois, tackle; Oech, Minnesota, guard, and Jones, Ohio State, center.

Backs in Hot Fight.

Minnesota fans are determined that the drives inaugurated for Illinois, Notre Dame, and Stanford players will not crowd any Gophers into the background. The Minneapolis Star yesterday forwarded 5,443 votes for a lineup that included Minnesota's seven candidates—Seidel, Beise, LeVoir, Roscoe, Rennebohm, Smith, and Oech. The voting in the Duluth Herald poll added to the Gophers' totals. Beise is the pace setter at Duluth. He is running 68 to 1 ahead of his rivals for the full back position. Rennebohm is almost as heavy a favorite at center.

Probably the hottest contest the poll is developing is between Berwanger of Chicago, and Shakespeare of Notre Dame, at half back. Berwanger is running ahead substantially in conference centers, but Shakespeare is piling up huge leads in New York and Chicago where the voting is heavy. In yesterday's returns from the New York Herald Tribune, Shakespeare was leading the Midway star better than 8 to 1.

It appears that both will be in the starting lineup when the All-Stars face the Detroit Lions at Soldiers' field the night of Sept. 1. George Roscoe of Minnesota and Bobby Wilson of Southern Methodist, however, are holding up stoutly.

Riley Smith Popular.

Another close fight for leadership involves Riley Smith of Alabama and Glen Seidel of Minnesota. Smith, who is in front by a narrow margin this morning, owes his position to national popularity, because he lacks the organized support enjoyed by Seidel.

Dick Smith, Minnesota tackle, is the one player who seems to have a starting position clinched. He took the lead the day the poll opened and never has lost it. His margin over Reynolds of Stanford, who ranks second among the tackles, is nearly 18,000.

One of the most interesting developments has been the surprising support for Willis Munger, Illinois college guard. More or less unknown outside of the Little Nineteen conference, Munger this morning sees his name higher in the standings than several players at his position who achieved national recognition in their undergraduate days.

The Joliet Business Men's association, which is interesting itself in the candidacy of Les Lindberg, Illinois half back, yesterday sent an express package containing 12,000 votes. Other Illinois players, notably Gryboski and Galbreath, also rolled up thousands of votes.

Linn Picks Team.

Among the lineups submitted to THE TRIBUNE yesterday were two by

Sun Teddy Revives Wright's Hopes of Winning Classic

BY FRENCH LANE.

Warren Wright's hopes of winning the Classic stakes at Arlington Park Saturday have been fluctuating lately like the market does during a panicky day on the stock exchange.

Last Saturday he thought—and so did every other racegoer—that he didn't have a chance to win the $30,000 prize after his 3 year old Count Morse finished last in the Blackstone purse which engaged Classic eligibles.

Last night Mr. Wright believed, and so did everybody else, that the Classic prize isn't entirely out of the range of his grasp. Sun Teddy, his other Classic candidate, had performed brilliantly in the Creston purse during the afternoon. This race also had engaged candidates for the Classic.

Sun Teddy Steps Away.

Romping up from behind after the first five furlongs of the mile of the Creston had been run, Sun Teddy took the track and made those who were attempting to keep step with him look like so many slow-pokes. On sufferance he had permitted Dale Shaffer's Bulwark to make the pace during the early furlongs. At the turn toward the stretch, Jocky Arcaro gave Sun Teddy his head. He drew out suddenly into a lead of five lengths. A sixteenth from home, with the trailers all soundly whipped, Arcaro took Sun Teddy's head in hand, slowed him up and finally permitted him to win by three lengths.

Bootless Romps in Second.

Col. Ed R. Bradley's Bootless came up from the rear and took down second money, while the tiring Bulwark finished third. Charley Bidwill's Gyral was fourth. Last in the seven horse field was California's Classic hope, Valiant Fox. He showed some speed in the early stages, but, after he was whipped by Sun Teddy, he put but little heart into his final effort.

COOPER DEFEATS METZ TO TAKE ST. PAUL TITLE

Glen Oak Golfer Scores 66-69-135 in Play-off.

St. Paul, Minn., July 20.—(AP)—Harry Cooper of the Glen Oak Country club, Chicago, captured his third St. Paul open golf championship today by a four stroke margin over Dick Metz of the Mill Road Farm course, near Chicago, in a 36 hole playoff.

Piling up his advantage on the morning round, which he finished with a five stroke lead, Cooper had a 36 hole total of 66—69—135, and Metz had 71—68—139.

The two players completed the regulation 72 holes Sunday with 277 totals after Cooper had overcome Metz' six stroke advantage in the last two rounds.

Sets Course Record.

Cooper won his first title in 1930. Last year his 271 bettered par by 17 strokes. It was the first year that Metz, 26 years old, has played in the tournament.

Cooper, who set a new course record of 63 in the morning round Sunday, again had his putter working in brilliant fashion this morning, sinking putts ranging from 15 to 40 feet. On one hole, the 16th, he needed three putts.

Metz putted for eagles and birdies on five holes on the afternoon round only to have his ball stop just short of the cup. At one time he had cut Cooper's lead to three strokes, but the steady play and experience of Cooper carried him through with pars and birdies.

Metz stepped out to a one stroke advantage on the first hole when he laid his approach four feet from the pin and sank the putt for a birdie 3. Cooper evened things on the third with a birdie 4 and moved into the lead on the fourth with a deuce, sinking four foot putts in each case. Metz went one over par on the fourth when he three putted.

Cooper Shoots 66.

Cooper picked up another stroke on the eighth where Metz drove into a trap and ended up with a 5, one over par. On the ninth Cooper increased his lead to four strokes by holing a ten footer for a 3, Metz putt for a birdie stopping on the rim of the cup.

Cooper made his fifth birdie of the round on the par 5 twelfth, Metz missing a six foot putt for a 4. Cooper relinquished one stroke of his advantage by three putting the sixteenth, but he got it right back with a curving twenty-five foot putt for a birdie 3 on the seventeenth. They halved the eighteenth in par, leaving Cooper with a five stroke advantage at the half way point, his score being 66 and Metz's 71.

Metz Gets Birdie.

From that point until the 29th they matched stroke for stroke with neither getting into serious trouble and never going over par. On the 29th Metz approached to three feet from the pin and got his birdie three to be only three down.

Both birdied the long 519 yard par five 30th and after halving the next two, Metz went over the green on the 33d and took a four to put Cooper four strokes ahead again. The last three holes were halved in fours.

Lombardi, Kampouris Hit Homers as Reds Win, 10-2

Albany, N. Y., July 20.—(AP)—Home runs by Ernie Lombardi and Alex Kampouris marked the 10 to 2 victory of the Cincinnati National league club over Albany of the International league in an exhibition game tonight. Score:

LOUIS, SHARKEY TO MEET AUG. 18 IN YANKEE STADIUM

New York, July 20.—(AP)—Jack Sharkey of Boston, former heavyweight champion, was selected today as Joe Louis' first comeback opponent. Mike Jacobs' Twentieth Century Sporting club signed Sharkey and Louis for a 10 round bout at the Yankee stadium Aug. 18.

Johnny Buckley, who has managed Sharkey since long before he won and lost the world's heavyweight crown, signed the contract after a long conference.

Nothing was said about terms but it is believed each fighter agreed to 20 per cent of the net receipts in which the Milk fund will share.

Sharkey, now in the midst of a successful comeback campaign, was elated when Buckley telephoned him the match had been closed. He believes if he can repeat Max Schmeling's feat and win from Louis, he will have a chance to regain the title.

His comeback campaign began last November when he knocked out Unknown Winston twice in what was to have been a ten round bout at Boston. Winston was counted out after 1:10 of fighting in the first round, but the referee wasn't satisfied and made the boys do it over again. Sharkey then made it official by flooring Unknown again in two minutes of the second round.

In February of this year he was outpointed by Tommy Shucco of Boston, but came back in April to hold Shucco to a draw. Then he made the first real showing of his comeback by decisively outpointing Phil Brubaker of California, last month.

New York Team Strengthened for C. Y. O. Bouts Tomorrow

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Catholic Youth boxers will break camp today at Lockport. The squad, in charge of Coach Paddy Kane and Tom O'Connell, will be quartered at the Auditorium hotel until time to weigh in tomorrow afternoon for the intercity matches tomorrow night at Soldiers' field against the Catholic champions from New York.

New York's team completed training yesterday under the direction of Pete Mello at the Palmer house. The spirit of the lads, who hope to gain their first intercity title tomorrow night, was immensely improved yesterday when Willie Tweedie, hard hitting bantamweight, joined the team. Tweedie will fight the Chicago 118 pound champion, and what is more important, his presence means that George Coyle, star of the invading team, now will fight in the featherweight division. Prior to Tweedie's arrival it was feared Coyle might have to reduce to 118 pounds to fill the vacancy.

Expect Crowd of 50,000.

Officials of the Catholic Youth organization yesterday estimated that approximately 40,000 tickets had been sold for the 16 amateur fights tomorrow night. With fair weather promised for the bouts, it is hoped that more than 50,000 will attend. Proceeds will be used by the C. Y. O. milk fund to supply the needs of 35,000 boys and girls.

With the rapid recovery from a slight fever and throat infection of Capt. Johnny Markell, New York welterweight, the invading squad again is intact. Sunday when Markell complained of illness it had been suggested that Dennis Degan, one of New York's boxers who failed to make the team for the Chicago trip, fly here to join his mates. Degan's trip was canceled yesterday when Coach Mello was assured by physicians that the New York captain will be ready to box.

The cool weather was welcomed by both camps. It enabled the boys to finish their two weeks of preparations at full speed, and continuation of the lake breezes will give the spectators a break. Plans already have been made, however, to eliminate the inconvenience of gnats, which clustered in swarms around the ring lights at the recent fights at Comiskey park. Four large electric fans will be mounted on the edge of the canvased ring, and air currents will be directed upward to clear the space around the lights.

Exchange Lists Tonight.

Coaches Mello and Kane will exchange official lists of their boxers tonight. While both teams have been chosen, the order of appearance of the boys is not definitly known.

Coach Kane hopes to match his men advantageously, so that at least an even break will be accomplished. Chicago's boxers are hopeful of again proving their supremacy over their Catholic rivals from New York. Last year Chicago triumphed 10 to 6 in the first of the series held at Wrigley field.

No invading amateur boxing team ever has whipped a Chicago team in its own back yard. In 1928, in the first of the annual Golden Gloves intercity battles, New York tied Chicago. This compliment was returned last March, when Chicago fought New York's Golden Glovers to a draw in Madison Square Garden.

KREEVICH MAY REPLACE HAAS IN RIGHT FIELD

Get New Pitcher

BILL DIETRICH, a bespectacled right handed pitcher, was obtained by the White Sox yesterday from the Washington club. Harry Grabiner, Sox vice president, announced that the transfer was made at the $7,500 waiver price. Dietrich will join the Sox tomorrow. Dietrich until recently was a member of Mack's Athletics.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox are back home. They've come home before in recent years, usually sneaking up side streets to avoid attracting attention. This time it's different. They're loaded with plunder from the east, eleven victories in 13 starts, to be exact. They are within whispering distance of second place, and they want the world to know they have serious intentions of moving into that lofty notch. Operations along this line will be taken up today against the Senators at Comiskey park.

It's no trick to explain just how the Sox in a space of three weeks have been able to travel from far below to well above the .500 mark. They took a strangle hold on the league through the simple process of doing everything as it should be done. They've been turning in great fielding stunts, a department usually weak. They've been getting good pitching most of the time. And how the boys have hit! The enemy pitchers can tell you about that.

What a Record!

During the hilarious trip just concluded with a string of eight straight victories, the Sox seldom were shy on runs, whether winning or losing. In four games at Philadelphia they crossed the plate 47 times. Three victories at Washington netted them 31 runs. They scored 15 in three games with the Yankees, losing one. At Boston, where they won two and experienced their only other beating of the tour, they totaled 19 runs. The lowest they scored in any of their winning battles was 5 runs, and the highest was 21.

This daily powdering of the ball has showered Uncle Jim Dykes' current sensations with color. You don't find them hanging around waiting for an error by the other fellows to give them a winning run. Big innings is their mode of procedure. Their power has stretched from the sensational Rip Radcliff right down to Dykes in the seventh notch. They have taken turns breaking out with long hits with men on the sacks. That's the way it has been for the past three weeks. Maybe it will continue.

Now They Can Talk.

It's been a long time since south side rooters have had a chance to talk about hitters. Somewhere along the trail during the past fifteen years or so the Sox may have had one fellow up with the leading stickers for a short spell. Now they haven't one, but two among the first five of the league. One is Radcliff who, until he was blanked in the second game at Philadelphia Sunday, had delivered 29 hits in 12 consecutive games. The pace of Luke Appling, the other slugger, has been only a bit slower.

Luck, which never gives a Sox team much of a break, may force Dykes to break up his winning combination today. Old Mule Haas, who has been fielding sensationally and holding up his end of the hitting, suffered a slight charley horse near the close of Sunday's toil at Philadelphia. The mishap may force him to rest for a few days. If he's not able to take a hand this afternoon, Mike Kreevich will go to right field.

For the opener with the Senators this afternoon, Dykes will present his southpaw, Italo Chelini. The lad already has contributed two victories to the total of ten which the Sox have registered over the Washington entry in 14 games this season. The Senators' starter may be Buck Newsom, the fellow who both pitches and talks a good game.

AL NETTLOW AND BENNY BARRISH TO BOX TONIGHT

Dungey to Face Higgins in Semi-Final.

Al Nettlow, former Chicago Golden Gloves champion fighting under the colors of the Catholic Youth organization, will make his debut as a windup performer in an eight round bout against Benny Barrish of the west side tonight at Western stadium. The agreed weight is 136 pounds.

Nettlow whipped Chief Webster and Billy Sullivan in recent weeks, showing improvement in so doing.

George Dungey, Bloomington, Ill., welterweight, and Gene Higgins of the C. Y. O. will be opponents in the five round semi-final. Sammy Verse clashes with Eddie Moran, Cowboy Logan faces Rolla Taylor, and Tuffy Breese opposes Jimmy Mitchell at four rounds. A wrestling exhibition also is carded. This will be Promoter Sam Alruscato's first professional show of the season.

The scene will shift to Northwest stadium tomorrow night where Sammy Mandell, the old lightweight champion, presents his second show, topped by a ten round encounter between Tommy Freeman, former welterweight titleholder, and Johnny Phagan. Freeman, who has not appeared here in more than five years, is favored to defeat the 1932 international Golden Gloves 147 pound king. Fans who saw Tommy score a technical knockout over Mickey O'Shea at Hot Springs, Ark., a few weeks ago predict that the veteran campaigner will knock out Phagan too. Johnny has been inactive since last November when he held Maurie Sherman of Detroit to a draw. His main weapon is a terrific right uppercut, used when an adversary assumes a crouching position. He will rely on this punch to bring him victory.

Gene Salvatore, La Salle, Ill., lightweight, will resume training this afternoon at Madison Square loop gymnasium by sparring with Leo Rodak and George Dixon II. in preparation for a ten round contest with Davey Day at Marigold gardens Monday. . . . A ten round headliner between Milt Aron, 1931-'32 Dubuque, Ia., sectional Golden Gloves titleholder, and Chuck Woods, Detroit junior welterweight, is being planned at the Marigold arena Aug. 3. . . . Promoter Fred Kohler yesterday promised Zack Malkov a match with Everett Marshall, claimant of the heavyweight wrestling title, if he is victorious over Ali Baba tomorrow at Arcadia gardens. Herb Schwartz, Milwaukee giant, will meet Pat McCleary, 280 pound Boston wrestler, and Midget Fischer tackles Rudy Kay. . . . E. G. Bickhaus, Quincy, Ill., promoter, will offer a fight involving Ellis Bradley and Wally Elkins in his main event a week from tonight.

All-Star Poll Sets Record; Near Million

supporters of Berwanger who have seen him in most of his games. One came from James Weber Linn, professor of English at the University of Chicago. His comments:

"For your All-Star team it would hardly be fair to restrict the vote of each selector to men whom he had seen play, but it is more fun to pick that way. On that basis I choose the following, who could be molded into a magnificent team: Ends—Loebs, Purdue, and Antonini, Indiana. Tackles—Smith, Minnesota, and Bush, Chicago. Guards—Tangora, Northwestern, and Gryboski, Illinois. Center—Rennebohm, Minnesota. Quarter back—Seidel, Minnesota. Half backs—Berwanger, Chicago, and Lindberg, Illinois. Full back—Duvall, Northwestern.

The other was from Edward Stern, managing editor of the Daily Maroon, official student newspaper of the University of Chicago. He wrote:

"University of Chicago is 100 per cent behind Berwanger. Since he has decided not to play professional football, we want to see him once more on the gridiron. We think he can show his heels to any one in a football uniform, including the world champion Detroit Lions. Here is my supporting cast for Berwanger: Ends—Millner, Notre Dame, and Topping, Stanford. Tackles—Harre, Ohio State, and Spain, Southern Methodist. Guards—Tangora, Northwestern, and Gryboski, Illinois. Center—Jones, Ohio State. Quarter back—Seidel, Minnesota. Full back—Crayne, Iowa, and the other half back, Pilney, Notre Dame."

SUFFOLK DOWNS DAILY DOUBLE PAYS $3,289.40

Boston, Mass., July 20.—(AP)—The largest daily double payoff in New England turf history and the third greatest in the country was returned at Suffolk Downs today when the combination of F. G. Heller's Dilwin and Bayard Tuckerman's Petart paid four ticket holders $3,289.40 for each $2 invested. Dilwin, winner of the first race, was an outsider at $90.80 straight, but Petard was strongly backed, paying $7.80.

Time, :23 3-5, :48 4-5, 1:01 1-5, 1:08 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Jabberie, $18.60 straight, $7.80 place, $6.00 show; Maxine B, $10.20 place, $5.80 show; Prum, $10.00 show. Winner trained by A. Swenke. Went to post at 2:22. At post 2½ minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won easily; place driving.

JABBERIE, suited by the going and raced wide after the first quarter, improved her position steadily and drew out fast after easily overtaking the leaders in the final eighth. MAXINE B displayed good speed from the start and weakened in the last sixteenth, but outlasted PRUM. PRUM was under strong urging from the start and faltered after reaching the last eighth.

SECOND RACE—Seven-eighths of a mile, out of chute. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50. [Daily double, 1st and 2d races, paid $30.60.]

Time, :23 1-5, :47 2-5, 1:13 1-5, 1:26 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Repaid, $4.60 straight, $3.20 place, $2.40 show; Star Banner, $4.00 place, $3.00 show; Imperial Pal, $3.00 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 2:52. At post 1 minute. Start bad from permanent stalls. Won driving; place same.

REPAID, away poorly and kept on inside for five-eighths, raced between horses when moving up rapidly thereafter, came to outside of STAR BANNER and was up in the closing strides. STAR BANNER, well in hand for five-eighths, raced into a long lead quickly and weakened in the final eighth, but barely failed to last. IMPERIAL PAL began to move up on the turn, ran out badly when entering the stretch and, coming with fine speed, was straight in the last eighth, was rapidly overtaking the leaders.

THIRD RACE—Three-quarters of a mile. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

LIQUIDATION [H.Schutte]	112	7	6	5¹	4¹	5h	9	C.C.Miller	7.30-1

Time, :23, :47 2-5, 1:14. Two dollar mutuels paid: Gay Bubble, $5.00 straight, $4.00 place, $3.00 show; French Boy, $19.40 place, $8.00 show; Porcellus, $3.20 show. Winner trained by E. B. Carpenter. Went to post at 3:25½. At post 1½ minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving; place same.

GAY BUBBLE, saving ground while reserved off the pace, came to outside in the stretch and, standing a hard drive gamely, wore down FRENCH BOY in the closing strides. Latter forced the early pace under stout restraint, took a short lead entering the stretch and also stood a drive courageously, but was not good enough. PORCELLUS, away fast, stumbled in the first eighth and moved up stoutly on the stretch turn, but hung in the late stages.

FOURTH RACE—Three-quarters of a mile. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

OTTOMAN [J.Gilbert]	110	8	1	1¹½	1³	1³	1²½	C.E.Hagyard	1.10-1

PAYNE [L.Guymon]	108	4	6	7³	7⁴	7⁵	5¹½	P.L.Kelley	17.20-1
TENACE [B.Neal]	107	3	5	5h	5¹½	5²	6⁴	R.C.Thatcher	11.60-1
TRANSIT LADY [R.Wholey]	108	6	4	2h	3½	6¹½	7²	Mrs.H.McIlvain	7.00-1
OVER YONDER [Robertson]	112	1	9	9	8⁶	8⁶	8³	F.L.Flanders	8.70-1
MORETIDE [L.Balaski]	108	2	7	8½	9	9	9	J.E.Hughes	42.80-1

Time, :23 3-5, :47 2-5, 1:13 2-5. Two dollar mutels paid: Ottoman, $4.20 straight, $3.20 place, $2.60 show; Brilliant Light, $5.20 place, $4.20 show; Short Skirt, $5.60 show. Winner trained by J. P. Sallee. Went to post at 3:54. At post 3 minutes. Start good for all but Over Yonder, from gate. Won easily; place driving.

OTTOMAN, away fast and rated under strong restraint for three-eighths, increased her margin when approaching the stretch and continuing well, held sway thereafter. BRILLIANT LIGHT, under light restraint for about five-sixteenths, was strongly urged thereafter, bore out slightly on stretch turn and held on well when straight. SHORT SKIRT, slow to respond to light pressure, came with improved speed in the final quarter and was rapidly wearing down BRILLIANT LIGHT.

FIFTH RACE—Three-quarters of a mile. Purse $1,200. Net value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50.

VISIGOTH [C.Parke]	111	3	5	5	5	4³	1½	ShadyBrookFm.	4.20-1
SLIM ROSIE [W.D.Wright]	109	4	1	1¹	1¹½	1¹	2¹	WeilSta.	6.60-1
THE FIGHTER [Robertson]	116	2	4	3³	3⁴	2¹	3½	MilkyWayFm.	1.30-1

Time, :23, :46 4-5, 1:12 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Visigoth, $10.40 straight, $5.80 place, $3.00 show; Slim Rosie, $7.20 place, $3.40 show; The Fighter, $2.40 show. Winner trained by George Brooks. Went to post at 4:22½. At post 3 minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; place same.

VISIGOTH, away slowly and remaining far out of it for a half mile, began to move up fast when swinging to the outside on the stretch turn, headed the leaders in swift succession in the final sixteenth and won drawing clear. SLIM ROSIE, well rated in the early pacemaking, swerved out after reaching the final quarter and, holding on well when straight, outstayed THE FIGHTER. THE FIGHTER, raced wide throughout and under restraint for a half mile, slightly impeded ROCK X as they straightened up in the stretch and held on well to the final fifty yards before faltering.

SUN TEDDY [E.Arcaro]	110	4	5	4h	4¹½	1³	1³	CalumetFarms	1.00-1
BOOTLESS [J.Renick]	107	1	7	6³	6³	3²	2²	E.R.Bradley	5.40-1
BULWARK [N.Wall]	101	3	4	1h	1¹½	2¹	3³	E.D.Shaffer	9.50-1
GYRAL [B.James]	107	7	3	7	7	6⁴	4²	ChicagoSta.	16.40-1
BLIND PIG [C.Parke]	107	5	2	3¹	2h	5½	5h	Mrs.E.Denem'rk	12.80-1
MISS DIAVOLO [J.Nolan]	102	2	6	5h	5²	4²	6⁶	ValdinaFarm	38.20-1

Time, :23 4-5, :47 3-5, 1:12 4-5, 1:38 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Sun Teddy, $4.00 straight, $2.80 place, $2.40 show; Bootless, $4.00 place, $3.40 show; Bulwark, $3.60 show. Winner trained by B. B. Williams. Went to post at 4:52. At post ½ minute. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

SUN TEDDY, never far back, raced to the front with a rush around the leaders on the turn, increased his margin approaching the final eighth, then held sway to win with something left. BOOTLESS, forced back repeatedly as he failed to secure room on inside the first five-eighths, moved up gradually when clear, swerved out badly in the last eighth and held on with determination to the end. BULWARK made much use of in the early racing, readily submitted to the winner, but held on with good courage to the last eighth, then faltered.

SEVENTH RACE—Three-quarters of a mile. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

MY SURPRISE [McClellan]	113	3	7	7	7	4³	1¹½	Mrs.E.Denemark	8.00-1
CANDESCENT [A.Robertson]	113	6	3	2h	1½	1²	2¹½	B.C.Carpenter	2.80-1
MERRY CAROL'E [Guymon]	108	2	4	4½	3¹½	3h	3½	P.L.Kelley	4.40-1
BUSY SPAIN [B.Neal]	113	5	6	5¹	5h	5¹½	4³	Mrs.L.Hartwick	9.50-1
EP [C.Parke]	108	7	1	1h	2²	2h	5¹	W.F.Black	6.70-1
CHIMNEY TOP [J.Nolan]	113	4	2	4²	6³	6³	6³	J.Carter	3.40-1
PRINCE HEATHER [Schutte]	114	1	5	6¹	4½	7	7	J.Jaffee	14.50-1

Time, :23 3-5, :47 2-5, 1:13 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: My Surprise, $18.00 straight, $6.80 place, $4.60 show; Candescent, $4.20 place, $3.00 show; Merry Caroline, $4.20 show. Winner trained by B. S. Michell. Went to post at 5:19. At post 1¼ minutes. Start good. Won handily; place driving.

MY SURPRISE, outrun early, came with a rush on the outside in the final quarter and, overtaking CANDESCENT in the last fifty yards, drew clear without need of strong urging. CANDESCENT easily raced EP into submission and held on well, but was not good enough. MERRY CAROLINE, under snug restraint for a half mile, was placed to mild pressure in the stretch and held on well to the last sixteenth, where she weakened.

EIGHTH RACE—One and three-sixteenth miles. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $600; second, $100; third, $75; fourth, $25.

MERRY GO ROUND [B.Neal]	108	8	3	3²	2½	1h	1³	Mrs.W.Westrope	1.60-1
COURT [J.Rosen]	108	9	7	2¹	1³	2⁵	2⁵	E.W.Duffy	21.10-1
MIGHTY QUICK [L.Guymon]	105	5	4	7½	5¹	3³	3⁶	J.Friedman	5.60-1
JUDGE G [E.Hannah]	108	1	1	4h	7²	5²	4¹	Mrs.E.Bischoff	96.00-1
PORTFOLIO [R.McClellan]	110	6	9	9	9	6¹	5³	E.H.Murray	17.90-1
BALLYWISE [J.Nolan]	113	3	2	5¹	3⁴	4²	6⁵	D.Hardy	5.70-1
MOUNT LOOKOUT [Moran]	118	2	6	1h	4h	8⁶	7½	C.N.Brewer	13.00-1
REDNECK [B.Morris]	103	4	5	6h	6h	9	8¹	E.Johnson	8.60-1
MOPECO [E.Arcaro]	115	7	8	8³	8⁵	7³	9	J.Newman	8.00-1

Time, :24, :48 2-5, 1:13 3-5, 1:40 3-5, 2:00 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Merry Go Round, $5.20 straight, $3.60 place, $2.80 show; Court, $11.60 place, $7.40 show; Mighty Quick, $4.00 show. Winner trained by W. T. Westrope. Went to post at 5:46. At post 1½ minutes. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

Louis, Wife and Managers Visit in Indianapolis

Sun Teddy Is Easy Winner at Arlington

out of the Hertz chute in 1:38 4-5. The track was dull all afternoon, and Sun Teddy's performance was extra good. He could have run the eight furlongs much faster had Arcaro demanded more speed.

Mr. Wright's trainer, Bert Williams, wasn't quite sure last night whether he would depend entirely on Sun Teddy in the Classic. He is confident Count Morse will be a much better horse on a fast track than he was in the mud last Saturday.

There were other important developments in the Classic situation during the day.

Memory Book Arrives.

From New York came Mrs. Helen Hay Whitney's Greentree Stable colt Memory Book. This son of St. Germans-Momento went into quarters in a private stable early yesterday morning, and, according to John Gaver who will saddle him Saturday, will run the race of his life in the Classic.

The Whitney racing board of strategy all season has regarded Memory Book as one of the best 3 year olds of the year, but he was so slow reaching top condition that for a time he lost all consideration as far as 3 year old championship honors were concerned.

Finally, while in New England for a short campaign, he hit his stride. In the Yankee stakes at Suffolk Downs on July 4 the big chestnut ran an amazing mile and three-sixteenths in 1:56 3-5 to lower the track record and whip the iron horse, Rushaway, by nearly three lengths.

Since that engagement he has been kept razor sharp at Belmont Park, and will get his final prep for the Classic probably over the full mile and a quarter route tomorrow morning.

Granville Works Out.

Granville was on the track early yesterday morning and he, too, will get his final sharpener tomorrow or Thursday morning. Carvola and Sparta were two others which showed fine speed over the slow track during the training period yesterday, although they were restrained by their exercise boys throughout their short tests. They, too, will get their final tuning up drills either tomorrow or Thursday morning.

There was some wagering at Arlington yesterday that a filly for the first time wins the Classic. Three of them will go to the post in the $30,000 race—Sparta, Carvola, and Floradora—and it is Dale Shaffer's Floradora's stock which is booming.

She's Great Stretch Runner.

Her victory in the Blackstone purse Saturday, in which she defeated Mr. Bones, Hollyrood, Count Morse, and Isolater, won her an enormous following. She is robust looking filly, and has shown more stretch running ability in her two victories at Arlington than any other horse that has started there this season. Her Classic weight package will be 113 pounds.

DISCOVERY COMING

Before he returned to New York after watching his filly, Swiftly, run in the Lassie stakes on Saturday, Alfred G. Vanderbilt announced that he will send Discovery back to Arlington within a few days to fill his engagement in the Arlington handicap on Aug. 1.

Hal Price Headley's Whopper, which was operated upon last Friday, is showing steady improvement despite a slight fever yesterday, Trainer Duval Headley reported at Arlington Park.

Jocky Silvio Coucci will arrive from New York within a few days to ride the Greentree stable's Memory Book in the Classic at Arlington Park on Saturday.

Jocky J. Mattioli has been engaged to ride Hal Price Headley's Sparta, the Latonia Oaks winner, which will run as an entry mate with Hollyrood under the Headley colors in the Classic.

OLYMPIC COACH ASSIGNS POSTS TO ASSISTANTS

Bartlett Will Instruct the Javelin Throwers.

ABOARD S. S. MANHATTAN, July 20.—(AP)—Coaching assignments calculated to give America's Olympic bound track and field athletes the best available advice and featured by the appointment of one competitor coach were announced today by Head Coach Lawson Robertson.

Lee Bartlett, Union City, Mich., javelin thrower, who has been a member of Uncle Sam's last three teams, was placed in charge of javelin throwers.

The majority of the remaining events were assigned to a five man staf, besides expected assistance from such coaches as Carl Olsen of the University of Pittsburgh, who is handling Johnny Woodruff, 800 meter star, and Fred Tootell, Rhode Island State coach and 1924 Olympic hammer throw winner.

Hayes Coaches Distance Men.

Brutus Hamilton, University of California coach; decathlon and shot put, in addition to personally supervising Glenn Cunningham, a former pupil and America's main hope in 1,500 meters.

E. C. [Billy] Hayes, Indiana university: 800 meters, excepting Woodruff; steeplechase, 5,000 and 10,000 meters and 400 meters hurdles.

Dean Cromwell, University of Southern California: discus, 400 meters and pole vault, plus Southern Californians in other events.

George V. Brown, Boston: 50,000 meter walk and marathon.

Robertson will supervise the sprinters and the 400 meter relay. The few remaining assignments, including the high jump and the 100 meter high hurdles, will be made later.

Coaches like Larry Snyder from Ohio State, and Francis Welch, coach of Archie San Romani, Emporia, Kas., State Teachers' 1,500 meter star, also may be consulted.

Relay Lineup Indefinite.

Robertson took time out to deny that the 400 meter relay team—Sam Stoller, Cincinnati; Matthew [Mack] Robinson, Pasadena, Cal. Junior college; Foy Draper, University of Southern California, and Marty Glickman, Brooklyn—which the track and field committee named this morning, represent the selections. But he conceded it was the most likely combination with the possible exception of Robinson.

The task of solving Jack Torrance's weight problem apparently has taken care of itself. Due to a touch of sea sickness, the big southern shot putter dropped 16 pounds to 308. However, neither he nor officials were worried because he heaved the shot 54 feet in practice before sailing.

The University of Washington's oarsmen all regained lost poundage. Stroke Don Hume went from 159 to 165 in one day, while Herb Morris, No. 1, oar, regained five pounds to tip the scales at 172.

Boxer Eats Way Up Scale.

Flyweight Boxer Louis Laurie of Cleveland presented somewhat of a problem. He has eaten himself into the featherweight class, picking up eight pounds in two days. He hopes to lose them before landing.

Wrestling tryouts, under the supervision of Coach Billy Thom of Indiana university and Bill Streit Jr., chairman of the wrestling committee, will begin tomorrow in all classes.

There was considerable relief on board this morning when Jesse Owens, Ohio State sprinter and jumping star, took a light workout for the first time after suffering from a head cold and laryngitis. Owens jogged around the promenade deck and then walked a mile at a brisk pace.

Official sanction of six post-Olympic meets was announced, including a dual meet with the British Empire at White City stadium, London, Aug. 15, in which 50 Americans will participate.

Ball Team Books Games.

Another team of track and field athletes will barnstorm through Sweden until Sept. 9; 15 men swimmers will invade Poland, nine swimmers, including one woman, will tour Scandinavia and Germany; a triangular track meet will be held with Japan and France at Paris Aug. 23, while the baseball team has been booked for exhibitions in Antwerp, Amsterdam, Paris and London.

OLYMPIC TORCH IS KINDLED.

ATHENS, Greece, July 20.—(AP)—The Olympic torch, kindled from the sun's rays on Mount Olympus and to be carried to Berlin by a relay of torch bearers for the opening of the Olympic games in the German capital Aug. 1, was started for Berlin today.

The first runner lighted the torch at the altar of the Olympia stadium and then dashed away on a kilometer run to the place where the next runner waited.

SOCCER TEAM TO FACE ITALY.

BERLIN, July 20.—(AP)—America's soccer team has been drawn to play Italy in the first round of Olympic competition, it was announced today.

8 MIDGET RACES ON LINCOLNWOOD CARD TONIGHT

Eight midget auto races will be held tonight at the Lincolnwood Motor speedway, Lincoln and Devon avenues. Wally Zale, Jimmy Snyder, Tony Willman, and Emil Andres are among the drivers entered. Time trials will start at 7:30.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

WAKE MAIL BOX.

DEAR Wake: Last week a Helper, who admitted he was a White Sox fan but not anti-Cub, asserted he would not have confidence in Grimm's men, if they win the pennant, in a world series against American league champions. He challenged any Cub fan to change his viewpoint, indicating he was open to argument.

Baseball is so full of uncertainties it always is difficult to convince a doubter with specific or logical argument. The New York Yankees seem assured of the junior league pennant. The Cubs, strong finishers, should outpace St. Louis to the end and thus meet the Yankees.

When the Yankees and Cubs met in 1932 the Yankees beat the Cubs four straight. Meantime, the Yankees have lost Babe Ruth. Their 1932 victory was due to batting. In that respect the Cubs now are better prepared and a better all around team than they were in batting, fielding, and pitching.

Hadley, Pat Malone, Pearson, Gomez, and Ruffing are New York's leading pitchers. I would not rate them as highly as French, Carleton, Lee, Warneke, and Davis. If a team with two sure fire winning hurlers gains a championship it has a distinct advantage in a short series like the world championship. Neither Yankees nor Cubs have such a pair.

The Yankees probably will be betting favorites in such a test, but I think improvement in Cubs' all around play is underestimated. Mr. South Sider will win a wager by sticking to his hometown against New York. If I can't convince him the scores this fall will.

Wrigley Field.

In discussion of Arlington Park stakes, I belong in the coterie which favors handicap stakes for older horses of known performance rather than 2 year olds. Reasons cited by Arlington Park sponsors for its Futurity, Lassie, and Hyde Park stakes, however, sound logical and no doubt are for the best interest of Chicago racing. Yet, I, too, long for the day when finances will permit an added money $25,000 or $50,000 stake for the old fellows. Even so, what a grand season, except for the heat, we're having out at Arlington.

Party Girl.

From one bright spot to another,
Fev'rishly wending her way,
Her laughter high pitched, staccato,
Her badinage brittle, gay.
Seeking in cocktails unnumbered
The spurious uplift she craves,
Poor little party girl, heedless
Of row upon row of graves!

A funeral cortège winding,
Not even her gay "pals" there,
For people like that shun sorrow
[Besides, they must henna their hair].
Poor little party girl lying
Out in that grave alone;
It isn't the saxophone wailing,
But the winds in the pines that moan.

PRETTY NIGHT BEATS ACTION IN EMPIRE RACE

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—The seven race winning streak of Mrs. Ethel D. Jacob's Action, seven year old converted jumper, was snapped in the mud and rain at Empire City today when the filly, Pretty Night, won by a length in the mile and a sixteenth Rye Beach handicap.

Action, which carried 126 pounds, conceded many pounds to the T. H. Somerville colorbearer, which was in with 104. The filly was a 3 to 1 shot, while Action was at 3 to 5. The only other starter was Bubblesome, which set the early pace, but faded to be beaten a length and a half for the place.

NEW CUB LINEUP FACES DODGERS IN OPENER TODAY

Hack Drops to No. 6 Spot; Allen to Play.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 20.—The Cubs will face the tail end Brooklyn Dodgers here tomorrow afternoon with a greatly shuffled lineup. The revised battle front will include Outfielder Ethan Allen, who has been out for five weeks with a spiked hand.

BILL JURGES.

League leading clubs rarely make wholesale alterations in the lineup without a protracted losing streak, but Manager Charley Grimm has stepped in with his changes after his team spent a week in which the pitchers had to hold the opposition to no runs or one run to win. Last week, it will be recalled, the Cubs won two 1 to 0 games, one 2 to 0 game, and one which was decided 2 to 1. One of the 1 to 0 games went ten innings, and the 2 to 1 affair went eleven innings before it was decided on three walks and an error. The Cubs made a grand total of three runs and twelve hits in their farewell double-header at Wrigley field yesterday. Here's the new batting order.

Galan Will Lead Off.

Augie Galan, a big success as a lead-off man last year, and something of a flop in the No. 3 spot this year, will resume his 1935 place. Bill Herman remains in his No. 2 spot, where he has done well for a long time. Allen will bat No. 3, moving up from the No. 6 hole to which he was assigned before he was spiked by Umpire Bill Stewart.

Gabby Hartnett will continue in the cleanup spot, No. 4, to which he was promoted early last year. Frank Demaree will stay in No. 5. Frank has been in a slump, but still is the team's leading hitter among the regulars. Stan Hack, far under his 1935 batting mark, will drop from leadoff to sixth. Bill Jurges, No. 8, for months and months, who has been hitting better this year than he's ever hit as a major leaguer, moves up a peg, and Phil Cavarretta drops down two pegs.

Warneke Wants Some Runs.

Added to this revised array tomorrow will be Lon Warneke who, in his last performance, snapped a stretch of ill luck with a 1 to 0 ten inning triumph over the Boston Bees. Lon reported himself as feelin' mighty fittin' at the conclusion of today's train ride.

Silvers Whips Leo Lomski in 8 Round Bout

Pal Silvers, veteran Brooklyn, N. Y., boxer, last night defeated Leo Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash., in eight rounds at Marigold Gardens. The decision was not unanimous, however, as Judge R. A. Goudie voted for a draw, while the other judge, Carl Witt, and Referee Norman McGarrity scored for Silvers.

Lomski, who rolled up four consecutive triumphs at the Marigold arena prior to last night, was floored for an eight count by a right to the jaw in the first round. A series of left jabs then reopened an old wound on his nose.

Lomski held Silvers even by scoring with a barrage of rights to the heart in the second round. Lomski won the third by landing several solid rights to the chin which made his 27 year old adversary hold on. They fought on even terms until the sixth, which was won by Silvers. Lomski caught two rockers in the next round, the punches causing the left side of his face to swell.

Silvers, who was a 2 to 1 underdog, weighed 178 pounds, and Lomski, 186½. A crowd of 1,288 attended.

Carl Fasnaugh, Toledo, O., lightweight, whipped Bus Breese, Manhattan, Kas., in the six round semi-final. Pete Lello, 1936 Chicago Golden Gloves champion, scored his second professional victory in two starts by stopping Hank Melody in one round. Nick Peters knocked out Danny Villario in two rounds, and Ritchie Howell, Danville, Ill., 122 pounder, defeated Sonny Batson in four rounds.

Following the Howell-Batson fight it was discovered Howell, the winner, had received a fractured right jaw. He was taken to the Alexian Brothers hospital.

Halas Puts Elser at Half-Back on All-Star Team

George Halas, owner and coach of the Chicago Bears, who held the All-Americans scoreless in the first two All-Star games and won last year's contest, 5 to 0, switched two players from their customary positions in naming the eleven men he prefers to see start against the Detroit Lions at Soldiers' field the night of Sept. 1.

Halas placed Don Elser of Notre Dame at right half back, and put George Roscoe of Minnesota at full back. Halas said he believes the All-Stars' defense would be increased, and that Elser and Roscoe would be able to perform to greater advantage in those positions. Halas' selections:

ENDS—Millner, Notre Dame, and Allman, Michigan State.
TACKLES—Dick Smith, Minnesota, and Stydahar, West Virginia.
GUARDS—Fortmann, Colgate, and Michaels, Villanova.
CENTER—Jones, Ohio State.
QUARTER BACK—Riley Smith, Alabama.
HALF BACKS—Berwanger, Chicago, and Elser, Notre Dame.
FULL BACK—Roscoe, Minnesota.

Chicagoans Trail in Public Links Trials

Farmington, N. Y., July 20.—(AP)—Mike Dolan, a Philadelphia gas station attendant, and Frank Connolly, who makes his living hiring city workers for Detroit, posted 71's today to lead the scoring in the national public links golf tournament, but their performances were overshadowed by Truck Driver Jimmy Caspio and Stock Clerk Johnny Racey of Cleveland, who equalled par on the par 72 blue course of Page Park. Dolan and Connolly played the red course, where par stands at 70. Because of the record breaking field of 222 starters, both courses are being used, the players alternating.

The race for team honors, decided by four players on each team over the 36 hole qualifying test, was so close that four teams were bunched within four shots of each other at a record breaking pace. Brooklyn, headed by Defending Champion Frank Strafaci, led at the half way mark with a 299 aggregate, with Seattle one behind. San Antonio, defending team champion, had 301, and San Francisco 302.

The Chicago team total was 319.

Wingate Shoots 82.

A new low record for breaking among the low 64 who will qualify for the individual championship, to be decided by match play beginning Wednesday, also seemed apparent. Seventy players had 77's or better and 49 of them had 76 or under, indicating that a pair of 77's at least would be required to qualify.

Of the four former champions, all but Bob Wingate of Jacksonville seemed sure of making the grade. Wingate had an 82 on the blue course. Strafaci scored a 73 while Charlie Ferrera, twice champion from San Francisco, had a 75 and Carl Kauffman, three time winner from Pittsburgh, had a 77.

On the red course, 10 were bunched from 71 to 74. In addition to Dolan and Connolly, the leaders, Jack Thurmond, San Antonio and Jack Evans, New Rochelle, N. Y., 72's; Lionel Wendland, San Antonio; James Mollnari, San Francisco, and Strafaci, Brooklyn, 73's; Bill Kinkella, Seattle; Walter Burkemo, Highland Park, Mich., and Mike McCarthy, New York, 74's.

Two Tie at 73.

COCHRANE AGAIN ENTERS HOSPITAL FOR EXAMINATION

Detroit, Mich., July 20.—(AP)—Mickey Cochrane, manager of the Detroit Tigers, returned to Henry Ford hospital for observation today. He said he had suffered a recurrence of symptoms that were diagnosed tentatively as indicating hyper-thyroidism six weeks ago. A close friend said Cochrane was fearful an operation might be necessary.

VINCENT LOPEZ THROWS CALZA IN MAT WINDUP

Levinsky Takes 10 Round Decision Over Brackey

Buffalo, N. Y., July 20.—(AP)—Kingfish Levinsky, Chicago heavyweight, scored a decision over George [Big Boy] Brackey of Buffalo in a 10 round fight tonight. Levinsky floored Brackey half a dozen times. Levinsky weighed 198 and Brackey 217.

Bears Sign Elser; Cards Get Kellogg

Two outstanding college back field players were added to Chicago professional rosters yesterday when the Bears announced the signing of Don Elser, Notre Dame full back, and Clarence Kellogg, St. Mary's [Cal.], full back, returned a signed contract to the Cardinals.

Elser, 212 pound all-around star, who played basketball and was one of the outstanding members of the Irish track team for three years, played full back at Notre Dame, but will be shifted to right half by the Bears. He is en route to California at present to take part in a motion picture, written by Francis Wallace, also a Notre Dame alumnus.

Elser to Play Half Back.

Coach George Halas, owner of the Bears, believes shifting Elser to half back will give the Gary, Ind., giant an opportunity to reach the stardom that was denied him at Notre Dame. In the Notre Dame system Elser was called upon to perform the most difficult blocking assignments. At right half back, in the Bears' offense, the blocking assignments are different and more suited to Elser's style. Halas also believes Elser's height and speed can be put to better use as a defensive half back. Elser is 6 feet 2 inches tall and runs the hundred under 10 seconds.

Signing of Kellogg gives the Cardinals three full backs, Mike Mikulak, the outstanding defensive back in football, and Mule Dowell, primarily an offensive player, who substituted for Mikulak last year. Kellogg is a husky, power house type, weighing 205 pounds and standing 5 feet 11 inches. He was regarded as one of the best line smashers on the Pacific coast last year.

Nichelini May Be Used at Full.

At St. Mary's Kellogg played two years with Al Nichelini, Cardinal half back, who also may be tried at full back this year to give the Cardinals the offensive threat in that position which was lacking in last season's attack.

Kellogg will report to the Cardinals on Aug. 15, when the squad will assemble in Michigan for a three weeks' training period.

GIANTS BATTER KIMSEY; CRUSH TIGERS, 16 TO 7

Detroit, Mich., July 20.—[Special.]—The New York Giants pounded Chad Kimsey, a relief pitcher for 25 hits today as they buried the world champion Tigers, 16 to 7.

Metuchen, N. J., Nine Beats Cards, 10-7, in Exhibition

Omaha, Neb., July 20.—(AP)—Bull Humphries pitched the Metuchen B. B. C. to a 10 to 7 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals in an exhibition game before an estimated 4,000 on the high school field tonight.

HOYT RETURNS, CHECKS YANKS; PIRATES WIN, 7-2

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 20.—[Special.]—Waite Hoyt, missing from the Pirates' pitching staf for two months as the result of an appendectomy, came back today to hold the slugging New York Yankees to six hits in six innings as his teammates beat the visitors 7 to 2 in an exhibition game. The Pirates scored six runs in the second on three triples and as many singles.

Mrs. Mann Medalist in District Golf

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Mrs. Russell F. Mann of Olympia Fields, who was until recently Lucile Robinson of Des Moines, Ia., yesterday launched her local competitive career by touring the Westmoreland course with a card of 41—40—81, three over par, to win medalist honors in the qualifying round of the Chicago Women's District Golf association's championship tournament.

Sharing the limelight with the former Drake university co-ed, who, three years ago, defeated Virginia Van Wie for the Western championship at Oak Park and then went on to win a place on the American Curtis cup team of 1934, was her Olympic Fields club mate, Mrs. June Beebe Atwood, who is defending the district title in the current tourney. Mrs. Atwood was exempt from qualifying yesterday, and will begin the campaign for her third championship in four seasons this morning as she meets Mary Louise Gardner of Indian Hill in the first round of match play.

Rena Nelson Scores 83.

Qualifying second to the medalist in yesterday's test was another former champion, Rena Nelson of Exmoor, who last won the district title in 1934. She paced the field for nine holes yesterday but wound up with a card of 40—43—83 to take second honors.

Third in the list of 32 players who won places in the championship bracket out of a field of 100 starters was Virginia Lindblad of Lincolnshire, winner of the Chicago Daily Fee championship last year. Miss Lindblad's card yesterday showed a 43—41—84 total on the par 78 course.

Two established stars of local women's tournaments were tied at 85, Mrs. L. H. Selz of Northmoor scoring a 43—42—85, while Mrs. Charles Dennehy of Onwentsia reversed the nines for the same total.

With most of the pre-tournament favorites listed safely in the group of entrants who scored under the qualifying limit of 94, one major upset grew out of the medal play test yesterday as Mrs. Vilas Norton of Glen View, winner of the state championship at Peoria last month, shot a 47—48—95 and failed to get into the championship flight.

Mrs. Mann Totals 81.

Mrs. Mann began her medal-winning effort slowly yesterday, missing the green to lose a stroke to par on the first hole. She was trapped at the fourth to lose another shot, but holed a three-foot putt for a birdie 4 at the eighth. When she three-putted the ninth for a 6 she was two over the outward par of 41. She started back with a birdie at the tenth on another three-footer, but with a chance for a second birdie at the thirteenth where she drove the green, she three-putted. Trapped at the fourteenth, and three-putting the fifteenth, she dropped two shots there, but came in with three pars for her total of 81.

Intrepid Takes a 7 Mile Lead in Yacht Race

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 20.—[Special.]—Intrepid, the early pace setter in the Chicago-Mackinac Island sailing race, was back in the lead late tonight after having been displaced temporarily by Vagabond and Betty Bro. Hope was in second place, seven miles astern of Intrepid.

The coast guard cutter Escanaba reported that the wind had lightened and that there was little prospect of a Chicago boat finishing the 331 mile race before daybreak.

Maruffa was third, close to Hope. Rubaiyat was a mile astern of Maruffa and Bagheera, Ponjola, Suez, Windigo, and Elizabeth five miles further behind. Betty Bro, Southern Cross, and Princess were ten miles behind Rubaiyat.

It appeared that either Hope or Rubaiyat would be the winner, time allowances considered.

Of the 42 crafts that started the 331 mile race, eight had been eliminated, including three that were forced out during a squall Sunday night.

The eight Chicago boats out of the race are Dorello, Flight, Warrior, Audax, Cynthia, Marchioness, Clio and Truant.

The cutter Baccarat, owned by Russell Alger and two-time winner of the 240 mile Port Huron to Mackinac race, was the first of the Detroit fleet to cross the line, finishing in corrected time of 40 hours 27 minutes 45 seconds. Baccarat overtook the leaders off Thunder Bay Island during a light breeze last night and maintained the pace when the wind freshened this morning. She beat the Minx and Trident, the latter a two-time winner, by approximately the amount of her time allowance, two hours and nine minutes. Baccarat, winner of the Bahamas race in 1934, escaped serious trouble Sunday night when her mast was threatened.

GUY BUSH, OLD CUB, RELEASED BY PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 20.—[Special.]—Guy Bush, veteran pitcher, was unconditionally released by the Pittsburgh Pirates today. Bush, once one of the leading righthanders in the National league, came to the Pirates from the Chicago Cubs with Big Jim Weaver and Babe Herman in exchange for Freddy Lindstrom and Larry French on Nov. 22, 1934.

Bush failed to show his old Chicago form last season when he won 11 and lost 11. This year his work was even more disappointing and he was used as a coach. Bush was one of the veterans in the league. He was serving his fourteenth season.

CONEY ISLAND GOES FOR $100,000 AT FORCED SALE

Cincinnati, O., July 20.—(AP)—The Coney Island race track, 10 miles east of here, was sold for $100,000 at public auction today to a group of Cincinnati men.

Peter A. Horbach, spokesman who entered the offer at a court hearing, announced that no race meeting will be conducted at the track this year. It has been in receivership.

When the plant is put into operation, he said, it will be "practically a new outfit," equipped with a totalizer, an electric eye for recording photo-finishes, and other modern devices.

TRIBUNE CANOE TO START TRIP THROUGH STATE

Itinerary Includes Seven Illinois Water Routes.

BY BOB BECKER.

About 11 o'clock this morning a Tribune canoe will be slipped into the sanitary and ship canal above Lockport, Ill. This will mark the start of a cruise that will take us over seven Illinois water routes.

From our starting point, we will pilot the 16 foot canoe [powered by a small outboard motor] down the modern drainage canal to the Lockport locks, continue down the Des Plaines to the Brandon locks pool, through the lock into the old Illinois and Michigan canal, and then chug down that historic old waterway to Utica in the Illinois river valley.

It's Tour of Investigation.

The objective of the Illinois and Michigan canal trip is to determine the present condition of the old I and M water route that has been abandoned for many years, see if part of the canal is being used for any purpose today, observe how the state has improved the waterway and its environs, note how the once busy canal possibly might be utilized for recreational or other purposes and to revive, by intimate contact with the picturesque old water route, some of the romantic history of the canal that years ago was crowded with boat trafic which helped build Chicago after the big fire.

After concluding the Illinois and Michigan canal trip, we will enter the Mississippi, or Hennepin, canal which cuts across Illinois for 75 miles to the Rock river above Rock Island to investigate that government owned water route, and then continue on to the Mississippi river.

Canal Has Been Neglected.

The Tribune canoe is unable to travel over the whole length of the Illinois Michigan canal, because that once important artery of travel between Chicago and the Illinois river valley has been neglected so long that in several places it is not even navigable for a canoe between Chicago and Joliet.

We saw the condition of that part of the waterway a few months ago when we led groups of Boy Scouts on hikes down the Des Plaines river valley, in which that river, the big sanitary and drainage canal, and the old Illinois and Michigan canal are located. There are places where the canal has been filled in so that it no longer is a water route. In other spots along the waterway we found spring freshets had been pouring silt into the canal bed, thus making it impassable for water craft of any kind.

But from Joliet on, V. D. Ehringer, general superintendent of the Illinois and Michigan canal, reports a fair level of water. So, starting below Joliet, the Tribune canoe will disturb the quiet of the old water route that was started in 1832 and completed in 1848 to become a tremendous force in the development of Chicago.

State Improves Water Route.

The state of Illinois, which owns the canal, now is busy with plans to conserve and improve the Illinois and Michigan canal in the hope that it may furnish recreational advantages to Chicagoland residents and others near the old waterway. The state does not permit power boats on the canal because of the damage to the banks from the wash of a fast moving boat. But the Tribune canoe, powered by just a small one cylinder motor, has been given a special permit for this tour of investigation.

JOE CRONIN'S MOTHER DIES IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, Cal., July 20.—[Special.]—Mrs. Jeremiah Cronin, mother of Joe Cronin, manager of the Boston Red Sox, died today. Cronin, his father and two brothers, Ray and James, were at the bedside when she passed away. Joe arrived in San Francisco yesterday from the east.

DR. FRUTKOW, 46, DIES; PROMINENT BACTERIOLOGIST

Streptococcus Infection Fatal; Rites Tomorrow.

DR. FRUTKOW.

Dr. Nathaniel Frutkow, prominent Chicago bacteriologist, died suddenly yesterday in the Henrotin hospital, where he was a member of the staf, after a two day illness. He was 46 years old and lived at the Seneca hotel.

Dr. Frutkow was taken to the hospital Saturday noon with a streptococcus infection of the ear. His resistance had been lowered by overwork among pneumonia patients, according to his associates, and the infection spread rapidly to the brain covering, causing meningitis.

Born in Poltava, Russia, Dr. Frutkow was educated at the University of Moscow. He came to the United States in 1910 and four years later obtained a medical degree from the University of Kansas.

During the war he served as chief bacteriologist at the Terre Haute, Ind., plant of an airplane fabric company operated by the army. After the war he studied at the Pasteur institute in Paris and in Vienna, and at the research laboratories at the University of Chicago. In 1930 he was president of the Pinel sanitarium, 741 Diversey parkway. Two years ago he returned to private practice.

Survived by His Widow.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the chapel at 704 South Pulaski road. The body will be cremated.

SIDNEY STEVENS RITES PLANNED; DIES IN ALASKA

Relatives of Sidney P. Stevens of Evanston, who died Sunday of a heart attack at Nellie Juan, Alaska, were undecided yesterday whether funeral services would be held here or at the family summer home in Vashon, Wash. Mr. Stevens, who retired two years ago as vice president and director of Reid, Murdoch & Co., wholesale grocers, was 72 years old. He lived at 2865 Sheridan place, Evanston.

Mr. Stevens had been visiting E. B. Hanley, owner of the Copper River Salmon cannery in Alaska, when he was stricken. He was born at Dunnings, Pa., and entered the employment of the Reid-Murdoch company in 1880. He had lived in the north shore suburb for more than 40 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lillie Cook Stevens, and two daughters, Mrs. Donald D. Geary of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Mrs. Harold S. Cunliff of Glenview.

Hold Rites in Prairie City Today for Chas. W. Taylor

Funeral services for Charles W. Taylor, former editorial paragrapher on THE TRIBUNE who for many years conducted his own column entitled "In a Minor Key," under the signature "C. W. T.," will be held at 3 p. m. today in Prairie City, Ill., his former home. Burial will be in the family lot there. Mr. Taylor died Sunday in a nursing home at 10347 Longwood drive. He was 91 years old and lived with a daughter, Mrs. Mary Herzog, at 11229 Edbrooke avenue. Mr. Tailor had retired on a TRIBUNE pension in 1913.

Athol L. Ewing, Artist, Is Dead in California

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 20.—[Special.]—Services were read here today for Athol L. Ewing, 54, artist connected with the Los Angeles Times, who was widely known in art circles of the southwest for his water colors and magazine cover illustrations. Mr. Ewing, a native of Osceola, Ia., and formerly a resident of Chicago, was stricken at his drawing board at the Times three weeks ago and was thought to have recuperated sufficiently to return to Los Angeles. He suffered another stroke on his return.

Fined $100 After Two Attempts to End Life

Richard Hiltquist, 24 years old, 2925 North Halsted street, was fined $100 by Municipal Judge Justin F. McCarthy yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct brought after he had jumped into the lake twice on Sunday. Hiltquist told the judge that he attempted suicide while intoxicated because of his inability to earn money enough to entertain his sweetheart. He said that he works as a piano player in taverns, but is usually paid in drinks.

Dr. Earl Caine, Dentist, Is Found Dead in Office

Dr. Earl L. Caine, 35 years old, a dentist, was found dead last night, apparently of a heart attack, seated in the operating chair of his office, room 2120, at 185 North Wabash avenue. The body was discovered by two cleaning women. His home address was not learned.

Will of William E. Dickey Leaves Widow $125,000

The will of William E. Dickey, insurance broker who died July 12 at the age of 63, was admitted to probate yesterday. Mr. Dickey left an estate of $125,000 to his widow, Mary Hoffman Dickey, 3100 Sheridan road. The will instructs that nothing shall go to his daughter, Mrs. Josephine D. Rogers, who lives at the Sheridan road address, since Mr. Dickey expected her to be provided for by her mother.

BRIDE SWALLOWS POISON.

Mrs. Clara Popejoy, 26 years old, 2113 Warren boulevard, a bride of seven months, was taken to the County hospital yesterday after she had swallowed poison in her home. She told police her husband had deserted her a month ago. Physicians said she would recover.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

There has been some talk to the effect that when Maj. Bowes starts his new show over CBS on Sept. 17 [first night will be Chicago night] that it will be radio's most expensive program. That probably will not be true—particularly if the sponsors of "Your Hit Parade and Sweepstakes" continue their present contest in which guessers of the three most popular songs of the week are awarded a carton of cigarets.

Last week more than 1,700,000 entries were received. Upwards of 40,000 cartons of cigarets have been sent out in a single week. In addition to paying for the cost of manufacturing and distributing these, George Washington Hill's tobacco company must also pay the taxes. This item alone is said to run about $20,000 a week.

Time on NBC runs about $20,500 a week, and on CBS about $17,500. Talent, which includes orchestras directed by Carl Hoff, Harry Sosnik, and Harry Salter, it is estimated, runs another $5,000. Postage, which the sponsor pays, probably runs $20,000 a week or more. The song contest furnishes direct employment, it is said, for 1,300 persons. It would be foolish to guess what the whole thing costs. However, it seems unlikely that any other single radio show is running close to this one in cost.

Followers of Amos 'n' Andy know that they are traveling westward from Harlem to Hollywood in a trailer. Friday they reached Chicago. And thereby [according to a letter from them recevied yesterday] hangs a tale.

Charlie Correll and Freeman Gosden wanted to make the Chicago episode realistic. They are in California. They wanted to have the weather right for Chicago, so while writing the night's episode they called a Chicago newspaper, NBC, and Municipal airport for the temperature. The newspaper wired back 70 degrees, NBC a little later said 80, the airport said 91!

Funny part of it is, a check of the records reveals that all three could have been right.

Jimmie Newell, a young west coast singer, has succeeded Milton Watson as the featured vocalist on the Burns and Allen show. Like his predecessor, he must serve as the butt of many of Gracie's insane jests. Newell has been the singing voice for several "voiceless" picture stars lately.

The spills, thrills, and chills of the all American soap box derby are to be reported for NBC by Tom Manning and Clem McCarthy on Aug. 16. This was the event which Graham McNamee was sent to cover last year. The surprising item about the broadcast was that McNamee was hit by a scooter and hospitalized for a week. So he won't come back this year.

Margot Rebeil, W-G-N staf soprano, will be soloist at the concert to be directed by Dr. Frank Waller next Saturday night at the Grant park band shell. . . . The new Fred Astaire show will feature the singing dancer as a master of ceremonies for a musical show with guest artists. . . . Pickard family is back in town after a year in Philadelphia. They'll be heard on the NBC Breakfast club Friday. . . . Irene Castle McLaughlin will make a guest appearance with Frank Fay next Friday evening.

RULING ON WILL OF FRANCES LEE PORTER IS ASKED

Suit for a legal construction of the will of Mrs. Frances Lee Porter, who died in May, 1935, was filed in the Circuit court yesterday by the Northern Trust company as trustee against Mrs. Porter's children, Washington Porter II. and Mrs. Pauline Porter White.

Mrs. Porter's will, in part, disposed of the income from a trust fund set up for her by her mother, Mrs. Caroline McWilliams. Under the terms of Mrs. McWilliams' will, Porter was to receive half of the income on his mother's death, provided that he fulfilled certain instructions. Mrs. Porter, in her will, directed that her daughter receive two-thirds of the income, and that Porter get only one-third because he failed to fulfill the instructions of his grandmother.

Attorneys Vernon H. Loucks and A. J. Hennings, who filed the suit, said its purpose was to determine whether Mrs. Porter was within her province in directing that an unequal division of the trust income be made.

RABBI BRONSTEIN SUCCUMBS FROM PNEUMONIA AT 47

Rabbi David Bronstein, 47 years old, 708 East 81st street, died of bronchial pneumonia yesterday in the Magnus Institute sanitarium, 2720 Prairie avenue. Before he was taken ill a week ago he was attempting to organize a synagogue in the vicinity of 80th street and Cottage Grove avenue.

Rabbi Bronstein was graduated from the University of Chicago. He headed a synagogue in Los Vegas, N. M., from 1921 to 1924, and later led a synagogue in Butte, Mont. He also served for a time as a professor at the New Mexico Normal university.

His widow, Bessie, and a son, Jerome, survive. Funeral services will be held at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 936 East 47th street.

Mae Svebilius, Evanston, Dies; Funeral Thursday

Funeral services for Miss Mae Svebilius, 42 years old, 1107 Seward street, Evanston, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday in the Evanston Masonic temple. Burial will be in the Diamond Lake cemetery. Miss Svebilius died of heat prostration Sunday in Livingston, Mont., while motoring home from California with her sister, Marguerite, head of the physio-therapy department of Michael Reese hospital. Her brother Arnold, head of the Svebilius Manufacturing company, a machine shop at 616 North Union avenue, also survives.

Dennis Breen, on Police Force 48 Years, Is Dead

Dennis Breen, 73 years old, a Chicago policeman for 48 years, died last night in his home at 5536 Drexel avenue. He became a policeman in Hyde Park before that section was annexed to the city, and he served most of his life at the Hyde Park station. With his brother, Sergt. Peter Breen, 75 years old, he retired from the force last Jan. 1. Surviving are three sons, Dennis, a fireman; Michael, and Henry. The funeral will be held at 10:30 a. m. Thursday in St. Thomas the Apostle church, 5468 Kimbark avenue.

Amelia C. Dunne, 85, Dies; a Lifelong Resident Here

Miss Amelia C. Dunne, 85 years old, an early resident in Chicago, died yesterday in the home of her nephew, William G. Dunne, at 108 South Mayfield avenue. Miss Dunne was born in a house at Des Plaines and Adams streets in 1851 and lived here all her life. She was a cousin of Msgr. Dennis Dunne of the Holy Cross parish. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. in St. Catherine of Siena church, with burial in Calvary cemetery. Surviving are three nephews and a niece.

Heart Attack Kills Student; Overstudying Is Blamed

Robert LaDue, 20 years old, 657 North Lotus avenue, an honor student at the Lewis institute, died suddenly last night at his home after the evening meal. His death was attributed by his father, Alvah LaDue, to overstudying which brought on a heart attack. Young LaDue was taking a summer school course at the institute in addition to his regular studies.

TRACES TRUANCY TO CONDITIONS OF ENVIRONMENT

Truancy and other misbehaviors among school children often are symptoms of unsatisfactory home and economic environment, Edward H. Stullken, principal of the Montefiore Special school, said yesterday at the University of Chicago. He spoke before several hundred administrative officers of public and private schools at the opening session of a conference which will continue through Friday in Judson court, 1009 East 60th street.

Describing the work of the Montefiore and its campanion school, the Moseley, Mr. Stullken said more than 80 per cent of their pupils made good when returned to regular schools, although when first assigned to the special schools 65 per cent were habitual truants.

"The ordinary classroom," he said, "is often so organized that it cannot give a fair field to the dull or unevenly developed child, and the result is that he quite logically becomes indifferent or antagonistic to school."

MRS. M. S. WRIGHT, PUBLISHER, DIES AT LEXINGTON

Bloomington, Ill., July 20.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mattie S. Wright, 81, publisher of the Unit-Journal at nearby Lexington is dead today of heart disease. Born in Addison county, Vermont, she came to Illinois at the age of six. Her father gave his life in the civil war and is buried in an unknown southern grave.

In 1876 she was married to the Rev. E. F. Wright, pastor of the Congregational church at Seward, Ill. He retired from the ministry in 1900 and bought the Lexington Unit-Journal. He was the publisher until his death in 1916.

Mrs. Wright has been the publisher since 1916.

Evert Van Herik Funeral Today; Resident Since '71

Funeral services for Evert Van Herik, a resident of Chicago since 1871, will be held today at 2 p. m. at the Hope Reformed church, 78th and Lincoln streets. Burial will be in Forest Home cemetery. Mr. Van Herik died Saturday in his home at 6142 South Sangamon street at the age of 89. He was born in Holland. In 1882 he was elected director, treasurer and appraiser of the Holland Building and Loan association and held the offices of director and treasurer until last spring. Surviving are two sons and two daughters.

STOCKS FINISH HIGHER DESPITE SELLING FLURRY

Many Establish New Peaks for Year.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 20.—Stock prices continued to advance today and, despite a flurry of selling late in the session, most issues in the list were improved at the close. Final prices were a shade under their best of the day, but gains in the general list ranged from fractions to around a point. Trading was moderately active throughout, with volume amounting to approximately 1,424,000 shares.

Many issues were able to rise to new highs for the year and longer as sentiment among the speculative fraternity remained bullish. Traders were reported impressed by the action of the list following its advance to new peaks last week and when early selling made no impression on values many extended long commitments.

Copper Shares Are Popular.

Copper shares were especially popular as the boost in export prices strengthened the belief in the financial community that the domestic price for the metal will be boosted. Kennecott advanced to a new high of 44¼, slipped a trifle, and closed with a gain exceeding a point. Anaconda Wire, controled by Anaconda Copper, spurted 4½ points to a new high of 52½, while Magma surpassed its old high mark with a gain of 2 points. Anaconda was active and a point higher. Phelps-Dodge was strong.

Farm implement shares also made a comeback from their weakness in the latter part of last week. The financial community seems to have definitly relegated the drouth situation into the background as a market factor and observers report that improvement rather than further damage is now looked for.

J. I. Case and Deere Advance.

J. I. Case climbed 4 points before profit taking took more than half of the gain away, while Deere tacked up a plus 2½ after its final quotation. Mail order issues were mixed, with Montgomery Ward dipping under the previous close after early strength.

Carrier shares were in good demand for most of the session. Early gains of fractions to 2 points in Atchison, Union Pacific, Great Northern, and Southern Pacific were well maintained.

Steel shares were firm on the American Iron and Steel institute's estimate that the operating rate of the industry will rise this week contrary to the seasonal trend. Another factor aiding sentiment for the group was the passing of the strike threat. Youngstown Spring and Wire spurted more than a point and Bethlehem and United States Steel closed with fractional gains.

Du Pont rose to its highest price in several years on its good earnings report, but slipped later. Motors were sluggish and little changed, although Chrysler reached new high territory. Cerro de Pasco and American Smelting were strong silvers, each showing a profit of over a point. Aviations dipped, with Douglas losing 1½ points.

EXPORT COPPER PRICE HIGHEST SINCE MAY, 1931

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Good week-end demand for copper abroad lifted the export price to 9.425 cents a pound today, c. i. f. European base ports, the highest level since May 13, 1931, when it was quoted at 9.525 cents.

The new peak for recent years compares with quotations of 9.275 cents to 9.325 cents a pound Saturday and is only 8½ points under the present domestic copper price.

In the domestic market there was talk of a possible price advance now that fabricators are ordering good tonnages for September and October delivery. Leading interests, however, look for continuance of the current 9.50 cent a pound level until early August at any rate.

Am. Car & Foundry Motors Gets Orders for 34 Buses

BIG NEW ENGLAND OIL COMPANY FILES PLEA FOR REORGANIZATION

Boston, Mass., July 20.—(AP)—The Cities Service Refining company of Boston asked federal district court today for authority to reorganize under section 77B of the federal bankruptcy act. Its petition was one of the largest ever filed here. The company has a large refining plant at Braintree and operates stations in all New England states except New Hampshire and Rhode Island.

Company officials declined to comment on the cause or significance of the petition, which listed both assets and liabilities at $24,792,502. The only official comment forthcoming was that on Aug. 17 a hearing would be held on issuance of a permanent order. At that time, a spokesman said, the corporation would present to the court a plan for rehabilitation.

The reorganization petition listed cash assets as $237,043, accounts receivable, $747,114; stock of refined oil, $1,260,228, and plant, $12,804,178. Liabilities included notes to banks, $750,000; due for merchandise, $476,135; notes payable to creditor-stockholders, $16,884,753.

TWO ROADS BUY SEVEN ENGINES TO COST $800,000

Philadelphia, Pa., July 20.—[Special.]—Receipt of orders for seven locomotives with a dollar value exceeding $800,000 was announced today by the Baldwin Locomotive works.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad ordered five high speed passenger engines, equipped with twelve-wheeled tenders, to be used in handling passenger trafic from Washington south during the coming winter.

The Pittsburgh and West Virginia railroad contracted for two single expansion articulated type locomotives for heavy freight service in the Pittsburgh district. Both lots are to be completed and shipped before Dec. 31.

EASTERN BANK RETIRES MORE OF RFC STOCK

Newark, N. J., July 20.—(AP)—J. H. Bacheller, president of the Fidelity Union Trust company, announced today the retirement of $1,000,000 Reconstruction Finance corporation preferred stock, the second repayment of that amount made by the company this year.

The preferred issue, Bacheller said, was originally established in June, 1934, in the amount of $7,000,000. The trust company board of directors today declared the regular dividend of 60 cents a share on the common stock, payable Aug. 1.

Phone Companies Ordered to Report Material Prices

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—Moving to gather detailed information on the activities of the telephone companies, the communications commission today ordered them to report the prices paid for new material.

SOUND METHOD

Our method of serving investors, in the capacity of personal counsellors, continues to yield successful results. This method is explained in a booklet which describes our policies and facilities.

This Company is an outgrowth of Investment Counsel, founded in Chicago by Mr. Farwell in 1924, and by Messrs. Sheridan and Morrison in 1929, having served some of its original clients continuously for more than twelve years.

We invite conservative investors whose funds exceed $100,000 to consider our method by requesting a copy of the booklet, "Modern Management of Invested Funds."

INVESTMENT COUNSELLORS

American Hair Group to Fight Stock Proposal

An indication was given yesterday that minority common stock holders of the American Hair and Felt company, 5 million dollar Chicago concern distributing and making hair products, will fight the proposed redemption of outstanding common stock and reissuance.

A protective committee for common stock holders yesterday distributed notices among these stockholders, claiming illegality of the proposed redemption and requesting proxies for the special stockholders' meeting to be held in the Merchandise Mart Thursday afternoon.

The committee consists of William Harsin, of Harsin, Roberts & Co., Chicago, who is chairman; Ray T. Haas, of Minnich Bradley & Co., Inc., Chicago, and Mason B. Starring Jr., of R. W. Pressprich & Co., New York City.

Committee's Statement.

"We have been informed that directors of your company intend to call for redemption at $5 a share the entire amount of outstanding common stock," the notice said. "We also have been informed that it is further proposed to reissue such stock at the same price to a special group to be selected by the board.

"The purpose of such redemption and reissue, as explained by several directors, is to exclude entirely as stockholders of the company, members of the investing public who now hold a minority interest, and to allot the stock to certain tanners in proportions approximating those in which they supply hair to the company.

"At present these tanners, who have not been named, hold about 74 per cent of the common stock, while the public owns the other 26 per cent of the stock."

Claim Proposal Is Illegal.

The committee claims that under the Delaware corporation act, under which the company was organized, the redemption of common stock is not authorized and that the redemption would be illegal.

"The proposed action of directors is in substance and effect not a redemption of stock by the corporation but a forced purchase at $5 a share of stock held by the investing public, for the benefit and on behalf of certain favored tanners," the committee declared.

It is claimed further that even if legal redemption of the stock were possible, that the price at which it is callable under the company's charter is the "book value for liquidation," but not less than $5 nor more than $100 a share.

The committee claims that earnings for the first six months of the year were approximately 80 cents a share, and that on the basis of ten to twenty times annual earnings the equivalent worth of the stock would range from $16 to $32 a share. The stock was quoted in over counter trading yesterday at $5 bid, $6 asked, a share.

PIANO MAKERS FIND FIRST HALF OF 1936 BEST IN LAST 15 YEARS

The National Piano Manufacturers association yesterday announced a summary of business for the first half of 1936 indicated the period was the industry's most successful six months in fifteen years.

Piano shipments were 37.53 per cent larger than for the first half of last year and 226 per cent above 1933. Sales in June gained 52 per cent over June last year and showed an increase of 160 per cent compared with June, 1933, according to W. A. Mennie, secretary. Unfilled orders at the end of June were 25 per cent more than at the corresponding time last year.

New styles and improvements in pianos will be exhibited at the trade show here next week. Conventions of the National Piano Manufacturers' association, the National Association of Music Merchants, the National Association of Retail Musical Instrument Dealers and the National Association of Sheet Music Dealers will be in progress.

SPANISH REVOLT CAUSES DROP IN FOREIGN MONEYS

Political disturbances in Spain yesterday brought strength to the dollar as compared with European currencies. The Spanish peseta, which ordinarily is subject to narrow fluctuations, dropped 3 points from Saturday's close, but rallied to lose only ½ point at 13.72½ cents.

Banking quarters learned that all banking transactions had been suspended in Madrid and other Spanish centers, while it was understood official control sources had been active in behalf of the peseta in other foreign exchange centers.

The French franc in New York lost 3-16 points to close at 6.62 9-16 cents. Dutch guilders dipped 1 point to 68.15 cents and Belgian belgas declined ½ point to 16.91 cents. The British pound sterling lost ¼ cent against the dollar to close at $5.02⅞.

The Bank of England's gold reserves reached another daily high record yesterday with the purchase of £1,300,778 gold bars.

STEEL INDUSTRY BOOSTS OUTPUT TO 70.9 PER CENT

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Production in the steel industry was stepped up another notch today as the mills of the country advanced preparations to make July a banner shipment month for the last several years.

Operations during the week will average 70.9 per cent of rated mill capacities, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated. The estimate is up 1.9 points from the previous week, or 2.8 per cent. One year ago the industry was operating at 42.2 per cent and two years ago at 27.7 per cent.

WHEAT RISES; CORN FALLS AND THEN RALLIES

Speculators Display Much Caution.

Grain markets fluctuated in an erratic manner yesterday. Wheat was strong, reflecting reports of rapid deterioration in the Canadian crop. Corn dropped 3⅛ cents at the opening due to scattered showers and lower temperatures over the central west, but recovered a large part of its loss.

Speculators were extremely cautious and volume of trading was not large. Wheat closed 1½ cents higher with the July delivery showing the most strength. Corn rallied sharply on reinstating of holdings of futures which had been sold out on the recent bulge and finished about a cent lower. Oats showed relatively little change while rye gained a major fraction.

Canada Biggest Factor.

Crop conditions in the Canadian northwest overshadow all other factors in the wheat market at the present time. Crop experts Nat C. Murray and H. C. Donovan, after extensive observations in that area, estimated yesterday the yield in the three provinces might be between 230,000,000 and 250,000,000 bushels.

Including the R. O. Cromwell estimate of last Saturday the three experts average 240,000,000 bushels, a decrease of 20,000,000 bushels from 1935 and the smallest harvest since 1919. Including Ontario the indicated yield for all provinces is 255,000,000 bushels. In 1919 the harvest was officially placed at only 193,000,000 bushels.

The Winnipeg wheat market was affected by the estimates of the Chicago statisticians and closed 1½ cents higher, although the weather map showed more rain fell in the prairie provinces than for several weeks. Export sales were only 500,000 bushels.

Rains Lose Influence.

The American spring wheat crop is now so near maturity that rains will have little effect on the final outcome. The Cargill Grain company summary said further reductions in the estimated yield in the Dakotas, Montana, and Minnesota would be necessary in the August report from the 64,000,000 bushels suggested in the official July 1 returns.

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Wk. ago.	Mo. ago.
Wheat	$1.03¾	$1.01⅞	$1.03⅛	$ .95⅝
Corn	.84⅝	.85⅞	.82	.64⅛
Oats	.37	.37	.38⅝	.30½
Rye	.70⅝	.69¾	.70	.64½

At the low point yesterday December corn, which represents the 1936 crop, was 8¼ cents per bushel under the high level of last Friday, touching 76¾ cents and reflecting the material change in weather conditions.

INT. HARVESTER PUTS BUDD, RAIL HEAD, ON BOARD

Ralph Budd, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad company, yesterday was elected a director of International Harvester company at a meeting of the board.

This action completes filling all of the vacancies on the board of International Harvester caused by the deaths of Cyrus H. McCormick, H. P. Perkins and J. J. Glessner. Fowler McCormick, second vice president, and Arnold B. Keller, treasurer, were elected directors last Thursday.

Newspapers Show Gain in Retail Advertising

Retail advertising lineage in the newspapers of 66 major cities showed an increase of 9.8 per cent in the week ended July 11, in spite of the high temperatures which afflicted a large part of the country, Advertising Age reported yesterday. During that period, retailers placed 14,135,277 lines of display advertising in the reporting newspapers. For the year to date, retail advertising is 5.1 per cent above 1935 levels.

Bank Reserve Boost Draws Many Theories from Experts

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Sharp pencil experts are reading all sorts of arithmetic and economic meanings into last week's sudden decree by the federal reserve board ordering that on Aug. 15 commercial banks belonging to the reserve system increase by 50 per cent the reserves which they must pledge with the twelve federal reserve banks.

Not since three years ago when the administration embarked upon the scheme laid down by Profs. Rogers and Warren for a dollar whose value was to be gauged by its purchasing power in commodities—the so-called "rubber" dollar—have the rank and file in the financial community been so intrigued.

Take Different Views.

Some agencies are hailing the reserve board's action as the most fundamental departure in credit policy since the creation of the reserve system in 1917. Others are contending that the move betokens a new spirit of conservatism in money and banking affairs by the administration.

Among leading bankers, who have been close to the situation, on the other hand, the belief appears to be almost unanimous that the board's action means nothing at all. Raising the reserve requirements of member banks 50 per cent, these authorities point out, does not restore to the reserve board its former control of the money market, because even after the banks pledge an additional billion and a half dollars of their deposits with the reserve banks there will remain nearly 2 billions of idle excess cash not earmarked.

Treasury Fund Considered.

It is also pointed out that the treasury's possession of some two billion dollars in its stabilization fund still hangs over the situation. To the extent that this money is spent and finds its way into the banking structure it would add to excess bank reserves. Until the treasury disposes of this fund, either by spending it or using it to retire a portion of the federal debt, the federal reserve board can never be certain that it will not have to be reckoned with as a major factor in a money market already far out of the reserve board's control.

Although the board's order increasing by 50 per cent the amount of required "legal" reserves will fail by 2 billion dollars to mop up the troublesome excess reserves the board is prevented from raising the requirements much higher because of the fact that the excess reserves of banks are not evenly divided between the individual institutions.

An increase of 100 per cent in required reserves would force thousands of banks to sell government bonds or other assets to raise the necessary cash to pledge with the reserve system. But even a 100 per cent increase—the maximum permitted under the 1935 banking act—would not eliminate all the excess reserves, so great are the stores of idle cash in some of the banks.

After several days of study leading banking authorities have come to the conclusion that the reserve board took the latest step because of widespread criticism of the board's "do nothing" policy. They figure that by raising reserve requirements 50 per cent the board got into the record the fact that it at least did "something." A 50 per cent boost doesn't eliminate the threat of sudden speculative use of idle bank billions. On the other hand, it doesn't do any harm. Thus, the bankers view the move as merely a gesture.

Theoretically Cuts Credit.

Statisticians yesterday found, among other things, that the board's raising of reserve requirements from an average of 10 per cent of bank deposits to an average of about 15 per cent would theoretically reduce the amount of bank credit which can be built on a given amount of excess reserves.

For years it has been estimated that ten dollars of bank credit can be erected on each dollar of excess reserves. Because of the increase in the amount which must be sterilized as legal reserve it is now estimated that a dollar of excess reserves can be the basis for only about 6 2-3 dollars of credit. Thus, instead of having 3 billions, 400 millions of excess reserves, capable of expansion into 34 billions of additional bank credit, there will be after Aug. 15, 1 billion, 900 millions of excess reserves, capable of expansion into only 12 billion, 987 millions of additional bank credit.

Argument of Bankers.

Well informed bankers are inclined to deprecate the importance of these arithmetical calculations. They argue that, in the first place, such statistics emphasize only the supply side of the money question and ignore the demand side, and, in the second place, that there is no assurance that the reserve board would stand firmly against expansion of bank credit when and if there is really a demand for its expansion. They point out that no political body has ever withstood strong pressure of easy money during a boom.

At present there is no demand for bank funds. Even the 1 billion, 900 millions of idle bank cash which will be left after the 50 per cent boost in reserve requirements is not being sought by prospective borrowers.

Argentina Takes Control of Petroleum Industry

BUENOS AIRES, July 20.—(AP)—Argentina tonight turned over to a government owned corporation regulation of its entire petroleum industry. In a decree announcing rigid restrictions the government of President Agustin P. Justo stated that effective immediately exporting of Argentina oil was prohibited and imports would be permitted only through the government.

Quarterly Dividend Raised by Chain Belt Company

The Chain Belt company of Milwaukee, Wis., yesterday declared a dividend of 62½ cents per share, payable Aug. 15. This compares with 50 cents a share paid May 15 and 30 cents paid Feb. 15. Total dividends for the year to date amount to $1.42½, compared with $1.30 for the entire year of 1935.

DUPONT PROFITS SET RECORD FOR 2D QUARTER

Other Big Concerns Also Show Gains.

Further confirmation of operations during the second quarter generally at a higher margin of profit than a year ago appeared yesterday in the statments of the leading companies—du Pont, Corn Products, Atlantic Refining, United States Pipe and Foundry, and others.

E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. announced the best second quarter in its history, and its best showing for any quarter since March, 1929. Preliminary figures showed that during the second quarter the company earned the equivalent of $2.06 a share on the common stock, which included dividends from the General Motors corporation in which du Pont holds 10,000,000 shares. Such dividends were equal to $1.11 a share on du Pont common stock. Net earnings were $1.21 in the first quarter of this year, which included 45 cents from the General Motors investment. Net earnings were 89 cents in the June quarter last year, which included 22½ cents from General Motors.

Half Year's Earnings Higher.

For the first six months the company showed net income equal to $3.27 a share on the common, against $1.74 a share in the first six months last year. Dividends from General Motors so far this year equaled $1.56 per du Pont common share, compared with 45 cents last year.

The Corn Products Refining company reported that the high rate of operations in the June quarter was minimized somewhat in its effect on earnings by the smaller income from security holdings and affiliated companies. Net after all charges for the second quarter was estimated at $2,553,945, or 84 cents a common share, compared with 93 cents a share in the preceding quarter and 52 cents in the June, 1935, quarter.

U. S. Pipe and Foundry Earns More.

Net income of $1,199,239 for the first six months was shown by United States Pipe and Foundry company, after allowance for income taxes with no provision for federal surtax on undistributed earnings. For the same period last year net income on the same basis was $468,336.

The Beech-Nut Packing company reported for the first six months net earnings of $1,203,536, before taxes, against $984,136 in the same period last year. The balance after estimated federal income taxes and preferred dividends was $1,024,377, or $2.34 a share on common, compared with $1.94 a share in the 1935 period. June quarter profit before taxes was $698,479.

Dome Mines, Ltd., estimated profit for the first six months at $1,952,468, before depreciation and depletion, compared with $2,212,915 last year. For the June quarter, the indicated

MEMBER BANKS' IDLE FUNDS RISE IN LAST WEEK

Total Deposits Increase 184 Millions.

Expansion in idle funds of federal reserve member banks during the week ended July 15 was disclosed in weekly banking statistics issued yesterday. While both total and net deposits climbed sharply, money employed in loans and investments failed to keep pace with the increase.

Deposits of banks outside New York and Chicago showed the largest increase in loans and investments. Banks here boosted this total 67 million dollars during the week, New York institutions had a decline of 22 millions, and banks in the other ninety-nine cities covered by the report showed an upturn of 7 millions.

Deposits Rise 184 Millions.

Total deposts of all banks rose 184 millions for the week, against an increase of only 52 millions in loans and investments. Net deposits, which exclude funds of the government held on deposit and deposits of other banks, increased 112 millions.

Except for a gain of 43 million dollars in collateralized advances, other than brokers' loans, other changes in position were negligible.

GOOD WEATHER AND RAIN RESULTS IN LOWER BUTTER

More favorable weather conditions during the week-end and lower temperatures and showers over part of the leading producing area resulted in lower prices for butter futures yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. The close was ¼ cent lower at 33¾ cents per pound. Steadiness in the spot market here and in New York and a small into-storage movement tended to temper bearish sentiment.

Unexpected small receipts of fresh eggs and reports indicating a disposition had been made of the poor quality offerings which have been a drag on the market of late brought in good buying in the October delivery, with the close ⅜ cent higher at 25¾ cents per dozen. Sales of butter futures were 78 cars and eggs 106 cars. Prices follow:

LARD FUTURES SHOW NET GAINS OF 7½ TO 12½ CENTS

Lard futures showed a firm undertone yesterday in sympathy with hogs. Houses with distributive and eastern connections were on the buying side, but the aggregate trade was light. Closing prices were at net gains of 7½ to 12½ cents per 100 pounds. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed nominally unchanged to 2½ cents lower. Cash lard was quoted at $10.85 per 100 pounds; loose and leaf, $10.25; clear bellies, $12.87½. Prices per 100 pounds follow:

DU PONT PROFITS SET RECORD FOR SECOND QUARTER

Other Large Companies Also Show Gains.

The John R. Thompson company, national restaurant system, yesterday reported net income of $50,346 for the first six months this year, after depreciation of $280,480 but before provision for the federal tax on undistributed profits. The net was equivalent to 16 cents a share on 298,464 shares of capital stock outstanding, and compared with a deficit of $60,536 after depreciation of $292,482 in the corresponding period last year.

Net for the June quarter was $27,924, against $22,422 for the first quarter and a deficit of $45,215 after charges in the June quarter, 1935. Gross sales for the first half of 1936 at $5,813,821 showed an increase of about 9½ per cent over last year.

The Reynolds Spring company reported for the six months ended June 30, net profit of $421,344, equal to $2.91 a share on 145,000 shares of capital stock, compared with $246,911, or $1.71 a share, in the like 1935 period.

Union Pacific Does Better.

With marked improvement in the movement of heavy goods the outstanding factor, gross earnings of the Union Pacific railroad increased about 15 per cent during the first six months of 1936, W. A. Harriman, chairman of the board said yesterday. This gain in gross over a year ago indicates that operating revenues came to about $64,500,000, compared with gross of $56,111,249 in the first half of 1935.

Passenger trafic, Harriman pointed out, is currently running about 33⅓ per cent above a year ago, with the greatest improvement shown in Southern California travel, which has averaged almost double that of 1935. Decreases in movement from drouth areas will be offset in large part by the increases in trafic from points not affected, he explained.

Other Roads Do Better.

The Kansas City Southern railroad showed net operating income for May of $85,959, against net operating deficit in the corresponding month last year of $112,528. On the other side, the Delaware and Hudson reported net operating income during May of $93,385, compared with $224,053 in May, 1935.

The first 161 corporations to report for the first half of the year showed an average gain in net income of 67.7 per cent over the corresponding period in 1935, according to Standard Statistics.

All sections of industry have benefited, with the improvement especially pronounced in steel, motor cars, electrical equipment, farm implements, food, metals, utilities, and railroads.

M., September 1, 1936, and then publicly opened for furnishing all labor and materials and performing all work required for constructing and finishing complete at Veterans Administration Facility, Northport, Long Island, New York. Additional Buildings and Utilities. This project consists of four Continued Treatment Buildings, one Parole Building, Connecting Corridors, additions to Dining Hall, additions to Boiler House, alterations in Building No. 11, etc., and will include roads, walks, grading and drainage, excavating, reinforced concrete, hollow concrete units, hollow building tile, brickwork, cut stone, cast stone, slate stair treads, marble work, terrazzo, floor and wall tile, rubber tile, compressed asphalt tile, linoleum, waterproofing, metal work, steel sash, steel stairs, steel cabinets and shelving, slate, tile and built-up roofing, metal lathing, plastering, carpentry, acoustical treatment, insulation, metal weatherstrips, insect screens, window shades, painting, glazing, hardware, plumbing, heating, boiler plant equipment, electrical work, outside distribution systems, and such other items as shown or specified. Bids will be considered only from bidders who can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Veterans Administration that they are competent technically and financially to perform the work, and the ability of a bidder to obtain a performance bond shall not be regarded as the sole test of such bidder's competency. At the discretion of the Administrator, drawings and specifications may be obtained by contractors interested in submitting bids direct to the Veterans Administration, upon application in writing to the Construction Service, Room 764, Arlington Building, Washington, D C. One set will be furnished Builders' Exchanges, Chambers of Commerce, or other organizations who will guarantee to make them available for any subcontractor or material firm interested. While no deposit will be necessary, return of the drawings and specifications within ten days after date of opening bids will be required. Frank T. Hines, Administrator.

MORE Real Estate Opportunities

As a result, you will find far more opportunities to acquire the kind of property you want if you check Tribune real estate want ads regularly.

During the first six months of this year the Tribune printed 49% more real estate want advertising than in the same period of last year.

U. S. AND BRITISH CONCERNS MAKE DEAL ON FILMS

M-G-M, Fox and Gaumont Form Combination.

New York, July 20.—(AP)—Two big American film producing and exhibiting companies, instead of only one as heretofore, will share a minority interest in British Gaumont Pictures, Ltd., under consolidation plans announced today which may have a far-reaching effect on the film industry in both nations.

Announcing the deal, which the board of directors of all companies concerned must approve, Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of Twentieth Century-Fox Film corporation, said will mutually coöperate in the British concern's development of television. British-Gaumont officials claim to control television patents "far in advance of anything in America."

M-G-M to Have Interest.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is the American company which would be the new participant in British-Gaumont interests, taking over half of the Twentieth-Century-Fox's 49 per cent share in the Metropolis and Bradford Trust company, which holds 57 per cent of the British company's voting stock.

The deal "in principle" was arranged after a series of conferences here between Schenck and his brother, Nicholas Schenck, president of M-G-M, and Isadore Ostrer of Ostrer Brothers, who control the remaining 51 per cent of the trust stock.

A new company will be formed in England to supplant the trust company, selling "a substantial block of stock to the British public so that definite control will remain British," the announcement stated.

Britain May Control Television.

Although British Gaumont controls the Baird Television corporation of London, the broadcasting of television films will be a government controlled monopoly in that country if the British precedent in its government controls of radio is followed.

Bringing M.-G.-M. into the organization increases the field for distribution and showing of British films in this country and American films in Britain. In the past, Twentieth Century-Fox and British Gaumont have consolidated distribution facilities on both countries. Now British Gaumont's string of 450 theaters in the British Isles, amounting to a virtual monopoly on exhibition of films there, will be opened to M.-G.-M films. The British cinema act, which annually steps up the quota of British-made films in the home country, however, is a factor tending to reduce American business. It has reached 20 per cent this year.

OHIOGRAIN GROUP TO BUY STOCK IN FEDERAL CO-OP

C. E. Huff, president of the Farmers National Grain corporation, announced yesterday that directors of the Ohio Farmers Grain and Supply association, Fostoria, O., representing more than 100 farmer-elevators, owned by 40,000 farmers, has voted unanimously to subscribe for $120,000 of stock in Farmers National Grain corporation.

The amount of stock represents the allocation made to the Ohio organization under terms of the refinancing agreement with the Farm Credit administration, which was announced June 29. It was determined on a basis of volume delivered to the Farmers National over the last four years.

Under that agreement it is contemplated that regional stockholders will subscribe for an aggregate of $3,000,000 of new stock in Farmers National.

WITHDRAW PRICE LISTS ON CANNED PEAS AND CORN

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Food canners today notified distributors that due to uncertainties as to the ultimate effect of current drouth conditions they were withdrawing prices on canned peas and corn.

In the last few weeks canners had been lifting asked prices of the majority of vegetables that would suffer from the drouth. Heavy buying of corn, particularly by chain companies, to build up inventories last week caused canners to hold out for higher levels.

Today's notification by canners indicated that packers plan to wait until drouth damages are fully known before again offering stocks on hand for sale.

Security Men Plan National Group to Lift Standards

Thirty-five investment bankers and security dealers from many parts of the country, representing the membership of the investment bankers' conference committee, at a meeting at the University club yesterday unanimously approved a plan for setting up a nation-wide organization to keep the investment banking business on a high plane.

RALPH T. CRANE.

At the conclusion of the meeting, of which B. Howell Griswold Jr. of Alex, Brown and Sons, Baltimore, was chairman, a statement was issued in which it was said the proposed organization is "designed to standardize fair business practices and maintain high principles in the investment banking business, aiming at the ultimate development of self-regulation in the securities business and forming a nucleus for representation of the business in coöperating with governmental authorities in the discussion of rules and regulations."

Plan Regional Meetings.

Regional meetings are to be held in each of the fourteen administrative districts into which the United States has been divided. Dealers in the various sections of the country will be invited to participate.

Griswold explained that the proposed organization will not conflict with the Investment Bankers' Association of America. The new organization would be much broader in its field, embracing every registered investment dealer in the nation of good character who cared to join it. It is estimated that there are about 6,500 dealers registered with the Securities and Exchange commission.

Griswold read an exchange of correspondence which passed between the investment bankers' conference committee and the SEC. In this correspondence SEC Chairman Landis expressed himself as favoring such an organization and promised "friendly coöperation."

Landis Tells Problems.

In a letter Landis outlined a number of problems before the SEC concerning which he said he would be glad to receive suggestions from the investment bankers. Among these were:

1. Prospectuses. Suggestions for shortening, improvement of content, and form, requirements, etc.
2. Registration of securities. Suggestions for improving regulations and forms, eliminating duplication of information.
3. "Beating the gun." Ways to stop security houses from taking advantage of each other.
4. Methods for preventing violation of the securities act of 1933 and the securities exchange act of 1934 by salesmen and trading employés.
5. Standards for determining adequate distribution and adequate activity in connection with unlisted trading on exchanges.
6. Devices for preventing manipulative and fraudulent transactions in over the counter trading.

Leaders at Meeting.

Among those at the meeting were Francis A. Bonner, Blair, Bonner & Co., Chicago; Arthur H. Bosworth, Bosworth, Chanute, Loughridge & Co., Denver; George W. Bovenizer, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York; Ralph T. Crane, Brown, Harriman & Co., Inc., New York, former head of the Investment Bankers' association; Robert H. Moulton, R. H. Moulton & Co., Los Angeles; Frank Weeden, Weeden & Co., San Francisco; Sidney J. Weinberg, Goldman, Sachs & Co., New York; George Whitney, J. P. Morgan & Co., and Orrin G. Wood, Estabrook & Co., Boston.

NEW YORK CITY FOOD PRICES CLIMB; MANY ARE HIGHEST IN YEARS

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—The cost of food is mounting by leaps and bounds in New York City and neighboring communities, with little or no relief to the housewives' food budget in sight during the coming months. Crop reductions during the last three years have cut deeply into reserve holdings of many foods, with the inevitable result that the consumer is "holding the bag."

Wholesalers and retailers refuse to forecast the end of the rise in food prices, and members of the staf of the city's Consumers' Food Guide, in the department of public markets, predict further rises.

Since the end of May the price of butter has skyrocketed 10 cents a pound and now is selling at the abnormally high July price of 39 cents a pound, 10 cents higher than a year ago.

Vegetables are 11.7 per cent higher than they were on June 1 and 21.5 per cent costlier than they were a year ago. Potatoes are costlier now than at any time in the last several years.

Tomatoes that retailed at 7 cents a pound a year ago cost 14½ cents now. Cabbage sells for 5 cents a pound, double the price of 2½ cents a pound which it brought a year ago.

REOPEN HEARING TODAY ON RAIL PICKUP SERVICE

Hearing on the petition of eastern railroads for permission to establish unlimited pick up and delivery service on less than carload freight will open before the examiners H. W. Archer and Howard Hosmer of the Interstate Commerce commission in the Hotel Sherman today.

The railroads are seeking an opportunity to compete with motor carrier service on the same ground with complete door to door transportation under one responsibility and one tarif.

The Pennsylvania railroad has operated pick up and delivery service on a limited scale since 1933, the limit being on distances beyond 260 miles. It is expected that testimony will include figures as to the result of this service in regaining less than carload trafic.

The treasury's latest offering of 273 day bills, dated July 22, 1936, and maturing April 21, 1937, was sold at an average price of 99.913, equal to an annual rate of 0.115 per cent on a bank discount basis, it was announced last night. Subscriptions totaled $169,959,000, of which $50,000,000 was accepted.

FIELD SEEDS

Field seeds prices steady in the Chicago market: Timothy, country run, $6.25@6.40 per 100 lbs; recleaned, $6.50@6.60; red clover, fair to good, $13.00@15.00; choice, $16.75; fancy, $18.50; alsike clover, $12.50@17.50, according to quality; red top, $12.25@14.00; sweet clover, $4.75@5.00; alfalfa, Kansas, $15.50; Idaho, $16.75.

RADIO STATIONS GETS 86 MILLION REVENUE IN YEAR

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—The commerce department reported today that the nation's 561 broadcasting stations and eight networks received total revenues of $86,492,653 in 1935. All stations in the country which sell radio time, except three small units, were included in the department's census survey.

The income was divided into $39,737,867 paid to national or regional networks; $13,805,200 for non-network advertising, and $26,074,476 for local advertising.

"Almost one-half [49.9 per cent] of all radio time sales, when measured in terms of revenue, were made through radio networks," the report said. "Of this, $27,216,035, or 68.5 per cent, was available to them to cover cost of programs, wire and other network facilities. The balance was paid for the use of station facilities in broadcasting network programs."

The ninety-one stations located in twelve of the country's largest cities, although numbering only 16.3 per cent of all stations, received almost 40 per cent of the total business. New York led all states with 10.6 per cent of total station revenues.

The networks and stations employed an average of 14,561 persons with an annual pay roll for 1935 of $26,911,392.

WIRE COMPANIES' 1935 PROFIT PUT AT 3½ MILLIONS

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—Net income of telegraph companies for the calendar year 1935 was reported by the federal communications commission today as $3,527,065. Cable companies were credited with net income of $724,246, and radio telegraph companies with a deficit of $641,301.

Of the telegraph companies, Western Union was listed with net income of $5,258,078 and the Postal Telegraph-Cable company's land line system with a deficit of $1,759,704.

Similar figures were not compiled last year, and comparisons with 1934 were not available.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was quiet today. Spot prices were unchanged at 3.70c per lb, with no sales reported. There was some interest at this level but only in suitable August positions, with holders generally asking from 3.75c to 3.85c. Except for a decline of 1 point in the December position as a result of liquidation, sugar futures held generally steady today in quiet trading. After advancing 2 points on most of the active positions, there were reactions with the market closing 1 point lower to 1 net higher. Trading was limited with most operators inclined to hold aloof owing to the inactivity in the spot market with the day's sales amounting to only 1,800 tons.

SEC MAY LAUNCH PROBE OF CANADA SECURITY FIRM

Result of High Pressure Sales Attempts.

An investigation of the long distance attempts by H. M. Carruthers & Co., Toronto, Ont., to sell certain mining stocks in Chicago and Detroit likely will be made by the Securities and Exchange commission with the coöperation of the securities commissioner of Ontario, Thomas A. Reynolds, head of the Chicago office of the SEC, indicated yesterday.

THE TRIBUNE on Sunday exposed the methods by which the Toronto stock and bond brokerage firm has operated in this area in its solicitation of stock purchases.

Tried to Sell to Tribune Employé.

The particular object of their attention in Chicago was a member of the Investors' Guide department of THE TRIBUNE, to whom they temptingly offered Lamaque Contact Gold Mines at 39 cents a share.

Reynolds revealed yesterday that long distance calls had also been made from Toronto to Detroit by the same firm, and the Detroit office of the SEC, which is a suboffice of the Chicago region under Reynolds, filed its report with SEC headquarters at Washington, along with a report from Chicago.

The procedure probably will be, Reynolds said, to have the Washington headquarters send a representative of the New York SEC office to Toronto to confer with John M. Godfrey, K. C., securities commissioner for the province of Ontario, who has coöperated with the SEC in investigating other recent international security transactions.

May Invoke Mail Prohibitions.

Investigations will center on determining whether the stock offered by the Canadian firm is subject to registration requirements under the Securities and Exchange act, and also whether the firm may be subject to prosecution under section 17 of the act which deals with fraud and misrepresentations contained in literature sent through the United States mails.

Reynolds pointed out that Canada has security laws, adopted recently, similar to those in the United States, including the provision on fraud and misrepresentation, and that firms operating in the dominion are subject to prosecution for illegal practices, such as defined in the United States security legislation.

UNITED GAS CORP. DEAL LIQUIDATES ITS BANK DEBTS

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—With the sale to its parent firm—the Electric Bond and Share company—of $25,000,000 United Gas Public Service company 6 per cent debentures, the United Gas corporation today liquidated its $21,250,000 indebtedness to banks and provided itself with additional working capital in the amount of $3,750,000.

The debentures, dated July 1, 1933, and maturing in 1953, are part of an issue of $60,000,000 United Gas Public Service 6s which were issued three years ago in exchange for an equal amount of other 6 per cent debentures then outstanding. As a result of today's transaction, United Gas still holds $35,000,000 of the securities.

Utilization of the bulk of the proceeds from the sale of the debentures to retire the demand loan held by Electric Bond and Share leaves United Gas with no outstanding debt other than a $25,925,000 demand, also due its parent, and a $3,000,000 loan from Electric Bond and Share, due Nov. 30, 1938.

Notice of Redemption of 7% Preferred Stock of BEATRICE CREAMERY COMPANY

Notice is hereby given that, in the exercise of the right reserved in its Certificate of Incorporation, Beatrice Creamery Company has elected to redeem on October 1, 1936, all of the issued and outstanding 7% Preferred Stock of the Company at the redemption price specified in the Certificate of Incorporation, namely, $110.00 per share plus the declared and accrued dividend payable on October 1, 1936, amounting to $1.75 per share, or a total of $111.75 for each share.

The Company has deposited the redemption money with Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, its Redemption Agent. Any stockholder desiring to do so may surrender his stock certificates and receive the redemption price therefor at any time after receipt of this notice, without waiting until October 1. However, in cases where stockholders present their stock for redemption prior to October 1, 1936, the redemption price will be $110 per share plus accrued dividends to and including the date of surrender for redemption.

The transfer books for the 7% Preferred Stock will be permanently closed at the close of business on September 30, 1936, and no transfer will thereafter be made.

From and after October 1, 1936, all dividends on the 7% Preferred Stock will cease to accrue and all rights of the holders thereof as stockholders of the Company, except the right to receive the redemption price, without interest shall cease and determine.

Payment of the redemption price for each share of 7% Preferred Stock will be made upon the surrender at any time hereafter of the stock certificate representing the same to Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois, or to Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Corporate Trust Department, 140 Broadway, New York City, which banks are authorized to accept surrender of such stock certificates and to make payment of the redemption price.

BEATRICE CREAMERY COMPANY,
By CLINTON H. HASKELL
President.

By order of the Board of Directors.

56 TINY ROADS IGNORING I. C. C. FARE CUT RULING

Lines Involved Carry Few Passengers

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(AP)—A survey disclosed today that fifty tiny railroads, either uninformed of the order or acting in the belief it did not apply to them, had ignored the recent interstate commerce commission ruling slashing passenger fares.

The roads' failure to comply was shown in a checkup on results of the commission's order fixing basic fares of 2 cents a mile in coaches and 3 cents in Pullmans, effective June 2.

Only Few Miles Long.

Averaging about a dozen miles in length, the roads were said to be situated mostly in the south and west, and to have little passenger trafic.

One of the lines said it did only $17 of pasenger business last year, and added mere publication of new rates would eat up all that revenue.

"Our passenger business is almost nil," said another, citing revenue of $56 for the first six months of this year.

Others told the commission they accommodated occasional passengers in the cabooses of freight trains.

No Punishment Planned.

Officials said that although practically all the roads operate intrastate lines, they are subject to ICC jurisditcion because they engage in interstate commerce by transporting passengers to junctions at which they take other trains to travel beyond state boundaries.

No punitive action is planned, officials said, adding all the laggard roads which have been contacted have expressed a willingness to accept commission jurisdiction.

BRITISH CONCERN OFFERS TO TRADE FOR INT. MATCH

Imco Participating Company, Ltd., is today offering 675,000 participating certificates and scrip in exchange for participating preference stock of the International Match corporation on the basis of one Imco certificate for each two shares of International Match.

Imco was formed by British holders of International Match preference stock, with a nominal share capital, as a vehicle to exercise rights to sell certain Swedish Match class B shares and to participate in the proceeds above a specified minimum amount.

The New York Edison company yesterday filed an amendment to its registration with the Securities and Exchange commission, which disclosed that Morgan Stanley & Co. has agreed to purchase the entire issue of Edisc'n's $30,000,000 of 3¼ per cent first lien bonds. About $22,000,000 of the bonds will be sold to subunderwriters.

The Cleveland Railway company has filed a registration statement with the SEC covering 40,393 shares of $100 par common stcok. Of the total Midamerica corporation is supplying 20,393 shares and George A. Ball 20,000 shares. Otis & Co. and Hayden, Stone & Co. will be the principal underwriters. The maximum offering price is given at $80 per share. Proceeds will accrue to Midamerica and Ball.

TRADE FAILURE TOTAL IS LOWEST IN LAST 16 YEARS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 20.—Business failures in United States declined again last week for the fourth consecutive period and established a new low level for the last sixteen years, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

Defaults for the week totaled 136, against 140 in the previous week and 209 in the corresponding week a year ago.

"This downward action is seasonal to some extent," observed the credit agency, "but it has been far more uniform this year than in either 1934 or 1935."

Insolvencies with liabilities of $5,000 and over numbered 74 last week, a decline of three from the previous week. For the comparative week of last year these cases numbered 126.

COTTON PRICES UNSETTLED, BUT CLOSING IS HIGHER

Cotton markets were decidely unsettled yesterday on buying induced by rumors, that the pool had disposed of the bulk of its holdings of spot cotton. Prices were around $1 per bale above Saturday's finish. However, the advance brought in profit taking sales and a reaction followed. Closing trades in Chicago were at net gains of 13 to 16 points on the active deliveries while other markets gained 10 to 19 points. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent per pound or 5c per bale.]

Weather and crop reports from the leading producing sections were generally favorable, although both Texas and Oklahoma, it was said, would be benefitted by additional moisture. Spot cotton closed 10 to 15 points higher with New Orleans, 12.95 cents; Galveston and Houston, 12.85 cents, and New York at 13.25 cents per pound. Prices follow:

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Mass., July 20.—Demand for wool was slow in the Boston market and sales consisted mostly of small lots of original bag fine western grown wools. Buyers were reported to be trying to purchase fine original wools below 80c, scoured basis, but there was very little attraction. Wool of even short French combing length available below 80@82c scoured basis, and most dealers were holding their average to good French combing original bag wools at 83@85c scoured basis.

HOTELS REPORT BEST BUSINESS SINCE THE FAIR

Shows, Conventions Draw Guests to Chicago.

Chicago hotels in many instances are doing the best business since A Century of Progress was held here, according to a survey conducted among hotel officials yesterday. The furniture shows, which attracted about 10,000 persons to the city, conventions, and more vacationists are responsible for the boost.

The Congress hotel reported the best business for July since the World's Fair, with present occupancy running at 95 per cent, or almost double the 50 per cent for a year ago.

Air Conditioning Draws Guests.

The Palmer house reported that its air conditioned dining and meeting rooms, as well as rooms cooled by conditioning units when desired, are proving to be particularly attractive to guests during the hot weather. "Occupancy is excellent," officials said.

The best business for July since the Fair was reported by the Stevens, which has also installed air conditioning for the dining and meeting rooms.

A sharp rise in beer consumption and a capacity house were announced by the Bismarck. The hotel has been turning away people all this week, according to the report, with continued good business expected.

Other Hotels Well Filled.

A full house at present was reported by the Drake on account of the furniture shows, while in the first seven days of July occupancy was sharply above a year ago. The Blackstone's occupancy for the first seven days of this month was 121 per cent above 1933.

While the hotels were reporting these business gains, the Chicago Association of Commerce announced that the National Canners' association will bring about 20,000 members here for the annual convention next January, and that eleven other trade and fraternal bodies have selected Chicago for their 1937 sessions.

CITIES SERVICE SHARES ACTIVE ON BOARD HERE

Cities Service yesterday featured trading on the Chicago Stock exchange, accounting for 6,050 shares and closing with a gain of ⅜ point. Prices were generally higher for the day with volume totaling 40,000 shares.

Of 106 issues traded, forty-five advanced over Saturday, thirty-three declined, and twenty-eight remained unchanged. Abbott Laboratories again set a new all-time high at 149⅝ and closed at 149½, up ½ point for the day. A 200 per cent stock dividend has been voted to stockholders of record today.

Several market leaders recorded improvement yesterday. Chicago corporation gained ⅛ point. Houdaille-Hershey B rose 1⅛ points,

New Investment Firm to Open Offices Today

The new investment firm of Thompson, Davis and Phipps, Inc. will open offices tomorrow at 120 South La Salle street, it was announced yesterday. Members of the firm are C. Harold Thompson, president; Donald W. Davis vice president, and William F. Phipps, secretary and treasurer, all of whom were formerly associated with Max McGraw & Co., Inc.

New York Firm Places Big Air Conditioning Order

E. J. Huber, president of the Joliet Heating corporation, announced yesterday that the Home Comfort Appliance company of New York had contracted for $462,000 worth of air conditioning equipment. Shipments are to start as soon as possible, according to Huber. The contract is for a period of five years.

New York Stock Seat Sold for $130,000; Up $5,000

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Arrangements were completed today for the sale of a New York Stock Exchange seat at $130,000, up $5,000 from the previous transaction.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING IS Point-of-Shopping
ADVERTISING

Assuring American Purchasing Power

Last year consumer demand upon the economic machine resulted in retail sales of more than $32,600,000,000.00. To satisfy the needs of industry and the consumer, the retailer bought the sales insurance of newspaper advertising.

Newspaper advertising costs only $1.00 for every $85.00 in retail sales. The total invested by retailers was $382,000,000.00.

Because newspaper advertising relates to the consumers' own community it draws an eager audience. People consciously turn to newspapers to learn where, what, when and how to buy to satisfy their wants. Many consult no other guide to form their buying decisions.

Retail sales reflect the force of this advertising. No other medium gives the retailer equal influence over the buying habits of his own customers. This is why retailers continue to use far more newspaper advertising than any other form of sales promotion.

New York, July 20.—Bond trading was resumed today at a slower pace, and narrow price changes were the rule throughout the list. Sales of all bonds totaled $9,489,000, par value, compared with $15,449,000 last Friday.

Treasury bonds preserved a firm tone despite the small volume of dealings and the same applied to notes. Sales amounted to only $730,000, par value, compared with $5,030,000 last Friday, and closing prices ranged from a decline of 2-32ds to a gain of 4-32ds of a point. Advances were in the majority.

Not Affected by Revolt.

The Spanish situation found no direct reflection in the foreign market because Spain has no bonds in this market. The foreign list was generally strong. The only influence of the Spanish revolt was seen in bonds of International Telephone, which holds the telephone concession in Spain. The 5s dropped 1 to 85½ and the 4½s lost 1⅝ to 79⅞.

The company has suffered no substantial injury in any of the uprisings since the departure of royalty. It was without reliable information today, owing to the censorship.

Domestic List Firm.

Second grade and speculative domestic bonds were firm. Gains of a point or more were recorded in Great Northern convertible 4s, Missouri Pacific 5s of 1978, Mobile and Ohio 5s of 1947, Richfield 6s, Southern railway 4s, Boston and Maine 5s of 1955, and Atlantic Coast Line 4½s.

Domestic issues on the losing side included American and Foreign Power 5s, North Western 4¾s, International Paper 6s, By-Products Coke 5½s, and Francisco Sugar 7½s.

American Zinc.

Investors' Guide: Please tell me about American Zinc. Would you advise buying it?—M. M.

Answer: The American Zinc, Lead and Smelting company operates zinc and lead mines, and produces slab zinc, sulphuric acid, zinc oxide, and limestone. Through ownership or lease, it controls a large acreage of lead and zinc producing lands in Arkansas, Illinois, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Wisconsin.

The company was incorporated in 1899 and has had a highly unsatisfactory record of earnings for many years. It has shown a profit in only seven of the last 15 years, with 1929 the only year in that period when earnings were sufficient to cover preferred dividend requirements.

Nothing has been paid on preferred stock since 1930 and nothing on the common since 1917. Prior to 1930, only $3 had been paid on the preferred since 1920.

Stockholders approved a plan of recapitalization on July 25, 1935, to clear up preferred dividend arrears of $78 a share by issuance of 1 share of $5 preferred and 6 shares of common stock for each share of $6 preferred. On completion of the exchange of more than 80 per cent of the old preferred stock, the plan was declared effective March 30, 1936.

Giving effect to full exchange, outstanding capitalization now consists of 75,000 shares of $5 preferred and 650,000 shares of common stock, compared with 75,000 shares of $6 preferred and 200,000 shares of common prior to recapitalization. Dividends on the new preferred are not cumulative until Oct. 1, 1939. Until the company demonstrates improved earning power, its stock cannot be classed as anything but a speculation.

Sales increased to $7,336,000 in 1935 from $6,430,000 in 1934 and $5,987,000 in 1933, but cost of sales rose more sharply and a loss of $219,000 was reported in 1935, compared with net income of $113,000 in 1934 and $254,000 in 1933.

Commercial Investment Trust.

Investors' Guide: Do you consider Commercial Investment Trust 5½ per cent bonds due in 1949 a good investment? Are they callable before due date?—M. R.

Answer: The Commercial Investment Trust corporation sold $35,000,000 of 15 year 3½ per cent debentures on July 14. Proceeds of the sale of this issue are to be used for working capital and to redeem the entire issue of 5½ per cent debentures at 110 and interest. The 5½s are callable on 45 days notice.

U. S. POSTPONES CATTLE BUYING AS PRICES RISE

Meat Also Is Advanced; Hogs, Lambs Higher.

The government's scheduled entry into the cattle trade to support prices for the farmer and obtain beef for the unemployed was temporarily postponed after a hurried conference of federal agents and live stock interests yesterday before the market opened.

A survey of receipts revealed that not sufficient emaciated drouth stock arrived yesterday to warant federal buying, but it was announced late in the afternoon that federal agents stand ready to buy at the rate of 5,000 cattle and 450 calves daily for forty consecutive sessions, excluding Sundays and holidays, at the various points where the government has authorized packers to buy for its account. This means a total of 200,000 cattle and 18,000 calves can be bought before the present appropriation for this purpose has been exhausted.

Cooler Weather Is Aid.

Cooler weather, rains in many sections of the country, and a general rally of wholesale meat markets from the recent demoralizing hot weather slump stimulated buying of cattle for the regular commercial channels at better prices than the government was willing to invest in "relief beef."

Packers at the various distributing points sold beef steady to $1 per hundred pounds higher than at the close of the week, although quotations still are 50 cents to $2 lower than a week ago. Advances in veal ranged up to $1, but this meat still shows 50 cents to $1 decline compared with a week ago.

The recovery in other meats also had a favorable effect on the beef trade. Lamb meat rose 50 cents to $2 and gains in pork ranged from 50 cents to $3 over the extremely low prices prevailing late last week. Lamb still is $1 to $3 under a week ago, and fresh pork shows 50 cents to $1.50 loss for the week.

Sell Steady to Strong.

Practically all classes of live cattle sold readily into commercial channels at fully steady prices, some kinds showing strength. While spots of weakness were uncovered in places they were too infrequent to effect the general level of prices. Top steers reached $9.25, while the bulk sold at $7.50 to $8.25, only occasional lots of inferior "drouth stock" selling down to $3.75 to $4, or within the price brackets carried by federal agents.

Better outlet for pork and cooler weather raised hog prices 10 to 15 cents at the start yesterday, although part of the advance was erased before the close. Both the top and average prices showed 15 cents gain at $10.90 and $9.70, respectively. The latter was highest since July 7 and 55 cents above a week ago. Selected 55 cents above a week ago.

Lambs rose fully 25 cents under brisk competition, both native and western range stock reaching the $10 top. Aged sheep were unchanged, with top ewes selling at $4.25.

REPORTS VARY ON CONDITION OF GROWING CORN

Some Sections Disclose Complete Failure.

Reports received yesterday on the corn crop were extremely mixed, indicating a complete failure over a large section of southern Kansas to an almost perfect condition in some spots of Illinois.

B. W. Snow, crop expert for Bartlett Frazier company, drove 330 miles on Sunday through 10 counties in central Illinois and found the situation about the same as the previous week. The outlook is still favorable, he says, although indications are the plant may possibly tassel short and set small ears.

Extremely unfavorable reports were received from parts of eastern Nebraska and western Iowa. Between Hastings and Omaha, Neb., a Chicago grain man found corn ranging from a total failure to a possible 20 per cent of a crop. Practically all fields between Lincoln and Omaha showed some damage.

The joint state-federal weekly crop report issued in Springfield yesterday said Illinois' corn crop loss from "recent excessive heat and continued drouth over most of the state totals from 20 to 40 per cent as compared with the favorable July 1 outlook. On that basis, the amount of corn destroyed in Illinois will run close to 75,000,000 bushels. However, it is hoped that the loss to farmers may be offset by rainfall saving the bulk of the crop to be sold at higher prices.

With the durum wheat crop estimated under 10,000,000 bushels, or less than half of the normal domestic requirements, American mills are reported to have become heavy buyers of this variety in Canada. It is understood all the available durum wheat held in storage at Fort William and Port Arthur and at Georgian Bay ports has been sold for shipment to the United States, but no figures as to the quantities are available.

An increase of 13,739,000 bushels of wheat in the domestic visible supply was reported by the Chicago Board of Trade for the week ending July 20, the largest accumulation for a similar period since the week ending July 26, 1930, when a gain of 14,504,000 bushels was registered. Total supplies of wheat are now 45,994,000 bushels, compared with 25,099,000 bushels a year ago. During the four weeks ending Aug. 17, 1920, there was an increase of 60,000,000 bushels in the visible supply, including 18,626,000 bushels for the week of Aug. 10.

Mrs. E. H. Miller, crop expert for James E. Bennett & Co., left Sunday for a crop inspection trip of the Canadian northwest. Corn between Chicago and Minneapolis, she reported, apparently has made little progress during the last three weeks.

TO THE CREDITORS OF THE SOUTHWEST TELEPHONE COMPANY AND ALL OTHER PERSONS IN INTEREST:

You are hereby notified that the Receivers of The Southwest Telephone Company by appointment of the United States District Court for the District of Delaware have filed a petition for allowances as follows:

To Charles C. Huff and G. H. Penland, the sum of $11,200, representing the unpaid balance of allowances to them aggregating $20,000 for their services as solicitors for the ancillary receivers;

To William H. Heald for his services as Receiver, the sum of $3,000.00;

To Richards, Layton & Finger and Ward & Gray for their services as solicitors for the Receivers, the sum of $10,000.00.

You are further notified that said petition has been set down for hearing in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, at Wilmington, Delaware, on Thursday, the Tenth day of September, 1936, at nine o'clock A. M. [Eastern Standard Time], at which time the Court will hear any objections or exceptions to said petition for allowances and will take such action with respect thereto as the Court shall deem proper.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Good Wheat Yield

July 20, 1936.

A TWELVE acre field of winter wheat harvested last week on the Tribune's Wheaton Experimental farm made a yield of 423 bushels, an average of 35.2 bushels per acre. The grain was left standing until it was thoroughly dried out and was cut with a combine harvester. The heads ripened evenly and there were practically no soft grains at harvest time.

Late freezes last spring injured the tender wheat plants in this field and for a time it was feared the crop might be ruined. The wheat grew out in fine shape, however, and started heading before the drouth became severe. Apparently drawing upon subsoil moisture stored from winter snows and spring rains, the wheat heads developed a heavy set of large, plump grains.

The average yield for the field was cut down by a strip along the east side that ran onto a hillside where the ground was thin. Here the yield was much lighter than on the level ground in the valley. A small creek runs along one side of this field.

Two other small fields of wheat were harvested last week on the Wheaton farm. Both were on comparatively thin upland. One field of 11 acres threshed out 221 bushels, slightly more than 20 bushels to the acre. The other, of eight acres, yielded 119 bushels, a little less than 15 bushels per acre. The entire 31 acres of wheat grown on the farm made 763 bushels, an average yield of 24.6 bushels per acre.

Winter Bedding.

Hay rakes followed the combine across the wheat fields on the farm, gathering up the straw that was dropped by the machine after the grain had been threshed out. The loose straw was raked to a hay press and baled. It will be used for bedding next winter in the horse barns. The farm manager plans to follow the same practice with the oat straw when the oats are cut this week.

Victim of the Drouth.

Clover seeded in two of the wheat fields on the Wheaton farm appears to have been completely killed by the drouth. There was a good stand of the young clover plants early in the season but they gradually dried up and disappeared. None are to be found now in the wheat stubble.

Alfalfa was sown in the other wheat field. The stand is thin but the plants still are green and many of them are 6 and 8 inches high. The farm manager thinks the alfalfa may have a good chance to withstand the drouth, since it is by nature a deep rooted crop.

Pumps Kept Busy.

Gas engines were kept going more than half the time last week at the Yorkville farm, pumping water for the live stock. Some of the deep wells on the place are equipped with windmills, but there was not sufficient breeze much of the time to keep them turning. The hydraulic ram ran continuously.

Springs in some of the pastures that furnish water for stock during wet seasons have dried up. There are several large springs in the woods, on the other hand, that never go dry.

How You Can BORROW at HOUSEHOLD
No Endorsers,
No Salary Assignments

1. Whether or not you have furniture or a car you can borrow here if you can make regular monthly payments.
2. Payments on all loans are small. For example the first payment on $100 is $8—the last payment is $5.15 on a twenty month schedule.
3. You do not need co-makers or endorsers.
4. You can secure the money quickly—the same day if you apply before 9 o'clock.
5. Rate on loans above $100 is less than the lawful maximum.
6. Repay at any time and reduce the cost.
7. Private offices. Your problem will have our sympathetic attention.

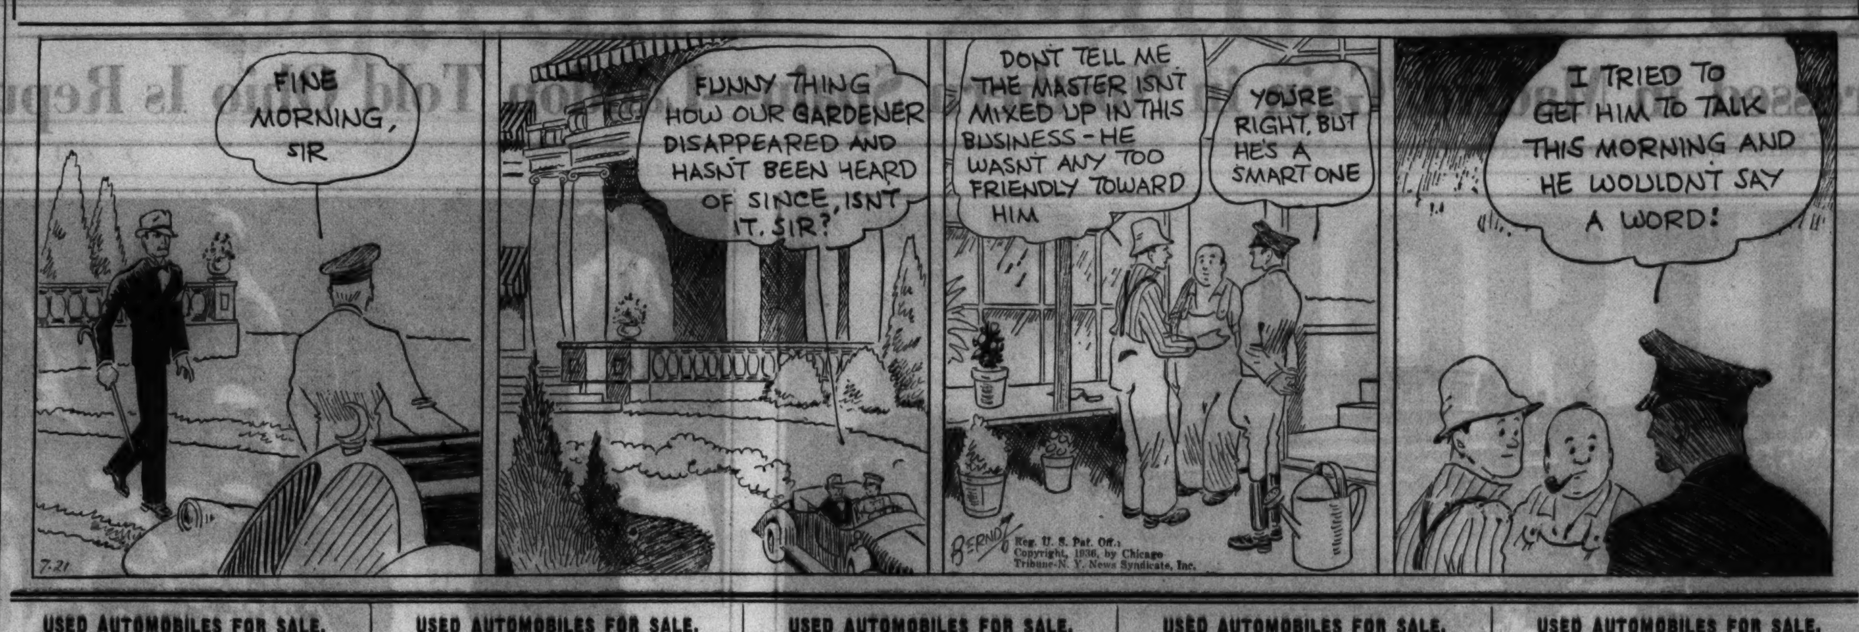
SMITTY—SUSPICIONS



FINE MORNING, SIR
FUNNY THING HOW OUR GARDENER DISAPPEARED AND HASN'T BEEN HEARD OF SINCE, ISN'T IT, SIR?
DON'T TELL ME THE MASTER ISN'T MIXED UP IN THIS BUSINESS—HE WASN'T ANY TOO FRIENDLY TOWARD HIM
YOU'RE RIGHT, BUT HE'S A SMART ONE
I TRIED TO GET HIM TO TALK THIS MORNING AND HE WOULDN'T SAY A WORD!
